76TH CONGRESS HOSTILE TO NEW DEAL PET IDEAS

Roosevelt's Battle Starts Tuesday.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Congressional leaders of both parties said today that they expect the first session of the seventy-sixth congress, which opens next Tuesday, to be one of the most turbulent in history.

For six months or longer the lawmakers of the nation will tussle with a wide variety of controversial legislation. There are many issues calculated to heat the emotions. There are others demanding the most attentive and lengthy consideration which will fray the nerves of conscientious members.

Many Hostile to Roosevelt.

At this date, a majority of the incoming senators and representatives agree, President Roosevelt appears to be facing a congress hostile to many of his pet proposals. Much depends upon his attitude and he has not indicated any disposition to retreat from experimentation or to cease his demands for additional power.

Capitol Hill veterans recalled that the President suffered three major setbacks from the last congress which was overwhelmingly Democratic. The senate killed Mr. Roosevelt's Supreme court packing bill and repudiated his punitive tax theories, abolishing both the undistributed profits tax and the Roosevelt method of taxing long term capital gains as ordinary income.

The house, by a close vote, threw the government reorganization or dictator bill into the waste basket.

Wonder What to Expect.

In the light of these reverses from a congress that was known as the President's rubber stamp when it came into existence, observers ask what may be expected from the next congress with its large increase in Republican representation and its continued percentage of so-called conservative Democrats who have rebelled against many of Mr. Roosevelt's requests.

In the house there will be 261 Democrats [one newly elected Democrat has died]; 169 Republicans, and four members of minor parties. Seventy-three of these Democrats opposed the President's reorganization bill and may be expected to do so again. Thus, assuming Republicans would again stand solidly against the dictator measure, there would appear to be a count of 242 opponents of the bill, with only 218 needed to defeat it.

The senate, with 69 Democrats and 23 Republicans, might be relied upon to pass this bill because a coalition of Republicans and Conservative Democrats could not attain a majority. The senate, however, according to observers, is not likely to waste weeks on the measure, as it did last year, only to see the house discard it.

May Win Some Points.

Thus, in the opinion of members of both parties, the dictator bill, probably the most cherished objective of the President, would seem destined for defeat. Mr. Roosevelt has stated that he will press for it, nevertheless, and his leaders, by submitting the measure piece-meal, may be able to obtain some portions, such as six new $10,000 a year White House helpers to form a super-secretariat.

Congress certainly will retain a veto power over any changes in the governmental structure proposed by the President, Senator Harry F. Byrd, [D., Va.], said. He also said the amendment, offered last session by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, [D., Mont.], requiring that executive reorganization orders be approved by congress, would be added to any reorganization bill. The amendment lost by a narrow vote last session.

A vast rearmament program, costing up to two billions of dollars, also is expected to be demanded by the President in his opening message to the congress.

Awaiting definite knowledge of just what Mr. Roosevelt will request, leaders hesitated to discuss the possible opposition to this part of the President's program. They confessed, however, that there was a growing suspicion among their followers concerning the need for such a huge expanse in the national defense.

On last Jan. 28 the President, in the midst of the recession, suddenly

SCIENCE LOOKS WITH HOPE ON A DARK WORLD

5,000 Savants Hear of Progress.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Richmond, Va., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—When Capt. John Smith sailed up the James river in the summer of 1607 looking for a passage to India he found an Indian village here with twelve houses on a hill.

Today in a modern commercial city of 200,000, American science speaks to the world on the results of its researches during the last year. They talk of stars and codling moths, a lost continent, the nervous breakdown of rats, cancer cells, and economic curves.

They even do something about the weather. This might be considered as progress, even by those who despair at the human scene.

A Word of Cheer.

The 103d meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, with thirty-five affiliated societities and attendance around 5,000, got under way today. The retiring president, Dean George D. Birkhoff, premier Harvard mathematician, charted the heavens of wider thought for them in an address tonight on the tremendous importance of intuition and faith in the development of modern scientific ideas.

The immediate effect of scientific advances, such as the Darwinian theory of evolution, is often very disquieting, Dr. Birkhoff said. Today the number of new theories and inventions confuses and chills many and "man is felt to be a mere tragic detail in a vast incomprehensible whole."

But to persist in any such an attitude, he declared, is unjustified, "for every individual has implanted within him the desire to understand his rôle in the existing order and feels an inalienable right to find out his duties and privileges as a citizen of the universe."

We Weigh Less in Boston!

The scientists were told that a person weighs more when in New York, Philadelphia or Washington than in Boston, because there is a buried continent under the three first named cities.

The continent, the lost Appalachia, was described by geologists who discovered it recently by seismograph clews.

Its backbone, now sunken hundreds to thousands of feet and buried under subsequent rocks and soil, ran under the three big cities. The mass of this sunken ridge is so great that above it the force of gravitation is slightly higher. The difference is too small to be read on ordinary scales, but it is found on gravity pendulums, which were described by George P. Woolard of Princeton university.

Appalachia towered high above the earth's surface 500 million years ago. It sank, the seismographs show, and in so doing was fractured. Some of its eastern edges run far out to what now is the sea along the Atlantic coast.

Coaxes Rats to Go Crazy.

The behavior of the crazy rats of Prof. Norman R. F. Maier of the University of Michigan, which he taught and coaxed to go crazy, may shed more light on the problem of human mental behavior than many of the experiments which have been made on human beings.

Prof. Maier said he would not go so far as to say that the rats he trained actually had nervous breakdowns but their reactions to problems were closely similar to those of human beings. Some of his rats acted like children with "temper tantrums," when they did not find the prize which they had been taught to expect.

For more than 10 years psychologists and physiologists have been trying to find ways of causing nervous breakdowns in animals in order to try to cure them with some of the multitude of new chemicals which have proven successful in treating some human nervous disorders. One of these is benzedrine, which seems to act as a nerve quieter, and recently a Kansas City physician announced the successful use of insulin, the hormone from the pancreas gland, in the treatment of delerium tremens.

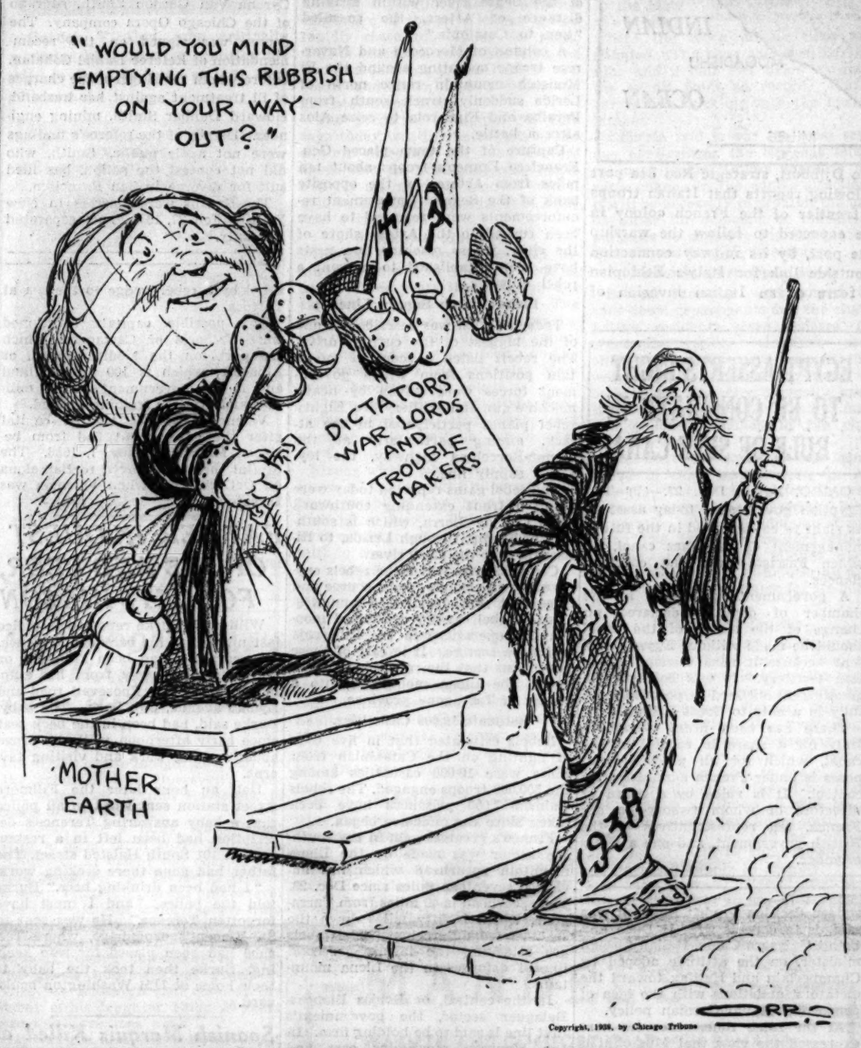

Electrical Activity of Eye.

Electrical activity of the human eye mirrors some of the tensions back in the brain, according to Dr. Walter R. Miles of Yale university.

New York, Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Brenda Diana Duff Frazier, acclaimed by society as the richest and most glamorous of the 1938 debutantes, made her formal bow tonight in a setting of gilded lilies and sparkling champagne.

Brenda is 17 years old. More than 1,000 guests, wearing their finest jewels and costliest raiment, danced at her ball in the Ritz-Carlton. The festivities started at 10:30 o'clock and it was dawn by the time finis was written to the major year-end event of the New York social season.

As a spectacle the coming out party topped anything in recent years. It was calculated to call for a check of at least $50,000 out of the $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 fortune Brenda is reputed to possess.

Cost Is of No Concern.

The entire ball suite of the hotel was used. Roving spotlights washed constantly over exotic red and white flowers, white ostrich feather Christmas trees, and banks of mirrors that provided a background for the dark-eyed debutante. Two orchestras played throughout the night. Apparently expense did not figure in the affair.

Two bottles of champagne were provided for every three guests, and there was more in reserve. Guests could call for—and get—any drink they cared to name.

An "anti-hangover" bar supplemented three champagne and Scotch bars. At this special bar guests were served as an antidote a mixture of a half pint of milk and a half bottle of soda pop. They were assured that by downing this fizzy mixture the perennial dilemma of the morning after would be minimized.

Even the Lilies Gilded.

Thousands of dollars were spent on flowers and decorations. Lilies literally were gilded to carry out various color schemes in some rooms.

In the grand ballroom three "moonlight mirrors" were decorated with cellophane leaves of gold veinings. On either side of the room were mammoth urns from which spilled golden branches with gilded leaves, gilded pears, golden apples, and golden grapes. Interspersed were enormous yellow chrysanthemums and gold tinted lilies.

Huge golden cornucopias full of green lichen covered branches brought from California for the occasion decorated the foyer. At either side of the stairway were tall gold posts draped with Easter lilies, while the balustrades were banked with Easter lilies and cellophane golden veined leaves.

Receives Beside Cornucopias.

Brenda is the daughter of the late Frank Duff Frazier of New York and Palm Beach. Her maternal grandparents are Sir Frederick and Lady Williams-Taylor, now in Nassau.

The all-time high for debut parties, from a financial standpoint, was said to have been the $250,000 party of Marjorie Gould in the fabulous stock market year of 1929.

ROOSEVELT RECESSION TO PLAGUE THIS IOWA BOY HIS ENTIRE LIFE

Shenandoah, Ia., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover Depression Rogers has a new brother. His name is Franklin Delano Roosevelt Recession Rogers. The baby, ninth born to Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers, who live at the fairgrounds here, was named today by Dr. J. D. Kerlin, attending physician, who has brought all nine into the world and christened each one. Herbert Hoover Depression was so named by the doctor.

PANTS STOLEN, BUT MINISTER WEDS ANYWAY

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 27.—(AP)—A thief who entered a hotel bedroom and stole the bridegroom's pants failed to halt the marriage today of a retired Methodist minister, 72 years old, and the woman who once played the organ in his church.

The Rev. Irving B. Bristol left his hotel room for a moment this morning and returned to find his trousers gone. The wedding ring and his wallet were in his coat pocket and he had an extra pair of trousers in his suitcase.

Mr. Bristol took as his bride, Mrs. Edith Alberta Murray, whom he first met thirty-six years ago as organist in the First Methodist church in Danville, N. Y.

Norman Thomas Robbed of Gems and Heirlooms

New York, Dec. 27.—(AP)—A quantity of jewelry including family heirlooms was stolen from the home of Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, when he and Mrs. Thomas were spending Christmas with friends on Long Island, Thomas reported to police today.

Finds Oil; Buys Family 7 Cars, Self a Wagon

St. Elmo, Ill., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—A fleet of seven new automobiles was parked on the Ed Smith farm today—a car for each adult in the family—but Farmer Smith spent his time looking at his new lumber wagon.

Discovery of oil on the farm enabled Smith to buy the seven cars as Christmas presents, but he intends to go right on farming and he figured he could afford that new wagon.

Smith has lived in this community all of his 55 years. About fifteen years ago he bought the 100 acre farm in Avena township of Fayette county where he and his family now live. He worked hard and was moderately successful in making his land produce, but he lived frugally and had little money for luxuries.

Refuses Early Offers.

A little more than a year ago the countryside was electrified by the discovery of oil. Some farmers sold their oil rights for the first offer, but Smith decided to hold.

His judgment was vindicated a few months ago when oil was found on his farm and he was offered $50,000 for a lease. The farm now has six producing wells and Smith is reaping better than average royalty on the oil it produces.

With that much money, Smith figured the family could enjoy an unusual Christmas. So last week he came to town and bought a car for Mrs. Smith and one for each of his six adult sons and daughters.

Puts Youngster's Share in Trust.

The only member of the family left without a car is a boy 14 years old and Smith opened a bank account for him with enough money in it to buy a car when the boy reaches the age of 18.

For himself the farmer bought a two horse farm wagon he had been wanting a long time. He towed it home behind one of the cars and it was given a place of honor alongside the shiny automobiles.

Claim U. S. Tax Exemption for an Unborn Daughter

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Wilson of San Francisco today brought a claim of exemption for an unborn child in combating a $6.18 claim before the board of tax appeals. The parents said their daughter, Helen Wilson, was born Aug. 11, 1936, and that the internal revenue bureau erred by failing to allow an exemption for the daughter from Jan. 1, 1936, to date of birth, Aug. 11, 1936.

Killed by Train After He and Bride Separate

Oconomowoc, Wis., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—David E. Albright, 28 years old, a Chicago realty man and member of a wealthy Milwaukee family, was killed here late today when he was struck by a fast eastbound Milwaukee road train. The fireman on the train told Coroner Martin E. Fromm that Albright apparently jumped in front of the train with suicidal intent.

The wedding of Albright to Miss Virginia Milner-Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Milner-Preston of Wayne, Ill., was a social event in Chicago last April. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Albright separated.

Tells Chicago Trip Plans.

Albright was the son of Dr. Charles E. Albright of Milwaukee, an official of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company. He left the parental home in his automobile Thursday with the remark that he was returning to Chicago, where he was engaged in the real estate business with his father-in-law.

It had not been determined last night whether he ever made the journey to Chicago. Witnesses said they had seen him around Oconomowoc in taverns for several days.

In his auto was found a partly consumed bottle of whisky, the coroner said.

Parks Auto Near Tracks.

About 4:20 p. m. he parked the car, which bore Illinois license plates, on a road only a few feet from the train tracks. As the engine approached in the semi-darkness he stepped directly in front of it. He was identified first by papers in his pocket and later by acquaintances he had met while a summer resident here.

Mrs. Milner-Preston, his mother-in-law, said at the home in Wayne tonight that the couple separated in October and that except for one interview in Mrs. Albright's attorney's office in Chicago they had not met since.

"They were temporarily separated," she said. "That is all I can say."

The marriage was solemnized on April 18 by Bishop George Craig Stewart in St. Luke's procathedral in Evanston. The couple went to Europe on a honeymoon trip and later lived for a time with Mrs. Albright's parents.

FARMER TRAILS WOLF FOR FIVE MILES; KILLS IT

Day by day, as the chickens disappeared from his hen roost, Otto Shingoethe got madder and madder. Yesterday he spied a wolf lurking near the coops on his farm, southeast of Aurora.

Shingoethe fired his shotgun, but missed. Then he started after the beast. For five miles, through snow and in near zero cold, Shingoethe kept on the trail.

Near Sugar Grove the farmer caught up with his quarry. This time the first shot was perfect. The wolf weighed 33 pounds. At the Kane county clerk's office in Geneva Shingoethe was paid a $5 bounty for the pelt.

MASSES TROOPS ALONG BORDER OF SOMALILAND

Paris Sends Warship to Djibouti.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—France today started reinforcing her East African colony of Somaliland against Italian pressure for a bigger empire by rushing a warship to Djibouti.

The 1,969 ton dispatch boat D'Iberville of the French East Mediterranean fleet steamed south from Beirut, Syria, to the Somaliland port. Other naval units were expected to follow her into the Red sea as the result of an appeal for reinforcements from the governor of Somaliland. France has no fleet in the Red sea.

Italians Hold Border Oases.

Simultaneously it was learned that Italian military caravans have occupied and have been holding for 18 months some oases in the disputed arid frontier between France's Somaliland and Italy's Ethiopia.

The foreign ministry announced, however, that no official confirmation could be found for press reports of mass concentrations of Premier Mussolini's troops in Ethiopia facing Somaliland. An official pointed out that the frontier region is a vast expanse of desert where mass movements of troops would be difficult.

Nevertheless it was acknowledged that small units of Italians had taken "two or three" oases to which France also has laid claim but has not occupied with soldiers. The border was charted by a map of 1879, but some points never have been fixed clearly.

Far Cry from Invasion.

These occupations, however, were viewed as a far cry from reported preparations for an Italian invasion of Somaliland.

The Paris Soir, a leftist newspaper, published dispatches that Italian troops had taken six posts in French Somaliland.

The newspaper's dispatches also said Italian loudspeakers along the railway from Addis Ababa announced several times a day that the "taking of Djibouti is only a question of time" and that "the French will be thrown back into the sea."

[Fascist quarters in Rome ridiculed the report that Italian troops had violated the French Somaliland frontier, without actually denying it. Officially there was no comment, but Il Giornale d'Italia, Rome newspaper, referred to the reports as "fantastic rumors, errors and distortions, alarmist reports and venomous news."]

Report Reinforcements in Djibouti.

Travelers reaching Egypt from Djibouti, the French press reported, said the governor of French Somaliland already had received troops and naval reinforcements from France.

Dispatches direct from Djibouti said troops were on patrol against anti-Italian demonstrations by the native population. On Dec. 18 huge crowds paraded with banners reading, "We do not want to suffer the fate of Ethiopia," "We wish to live under a régime of democratic liberties," and Djibouti is French land and it must remain French." Last week natives caused the Italian flag to be hauled down from the building of Ala Littoria, the Italian air line.

There were reports from Cairo of Italian troop movements in the southern part of Libya, particularly near the Doutra Uweinat oasis, on the Libyan-Egyptian frontier. The area has been in dispute and diplomatic negotiations were expected shortly to result in awarding it either to Egypt or Italy.

See Threat Against Egypt.

Egyptian officials interpreted the concentrations in Libya as an effort to put pressure on them in fashion similar to the reported threat against French Somaliland.

Coming after unofficial Italian demands for a share of French territory and Rome's renunciation of the 1935 Italian-French colonial pact, the alarming news from East Africa gave specific point to the Italian campaign.

Out of the clamor over Tunisia, Somaliland, Corsica, Savoy, and Nice, and for concessions to broaden Italian rights of way in the predominantly French controled Suez canal and the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway, the major ambition appeared to be emerging — annexation of Djibouti, gateway to Ethiopia.

African empire against Italian aspirations.

Announcement of the program of Premier Edouard Daladier's trip to North Africa showed he would be gone from Jan. 2 to Jan. 10. He will stop for only a few hours in Corsica, French insular department in the Mediterranean, and then proceed to northern and southern Tunisia and Algeria. In effect he will conduct a counter demonstration of French military and naval might on the flank of Italy's Libya.

Although apprehension has been expressed over the trip of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain to Rome Jan. 11-14 for fear Mussolini may attempt to win him over to his side on African territorial issues, officials said here no plans had been made for Chamberlain to stop off in Paris first.

Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet already has made it clear to the British ambassador, Sir Eric Phipps, it was said, that France can grant no territory to satisfy Italy.

Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, chief of the general staf of national defense, and Vice Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of the navy general staf, will go to Algeria and Morocco late in January to complete a military and naval inspection they began last November in Tunisia.

Daladier's voyage and the trip by Gamelin and Darlan were intended to make clear France's stand against yielding an inch of her soil to Italy.

Italians Assail French.

ROME, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Formal French notice that not an inch of France's territory in Africa or anywhere else would be ceded to Italy today drew new attacks in the Fascist press.

Il Messaggero asserted France herself had upset Mediterranean equilibrium in the negotiation of a yet unratified treaty with Syria which, the paper said, gave France "notable advantages and privileges of a military character."

The treaty was designed to terminate France's Syrian mandate and establish Syria as an independent country.

"The question of Mediterranean equilibrium with its undeniable aerial and naval aspects has increased enormously the importance to us of strengthening our security, for our work and for the national integrity of Italians living on land subject to France," Il Messaggero said.

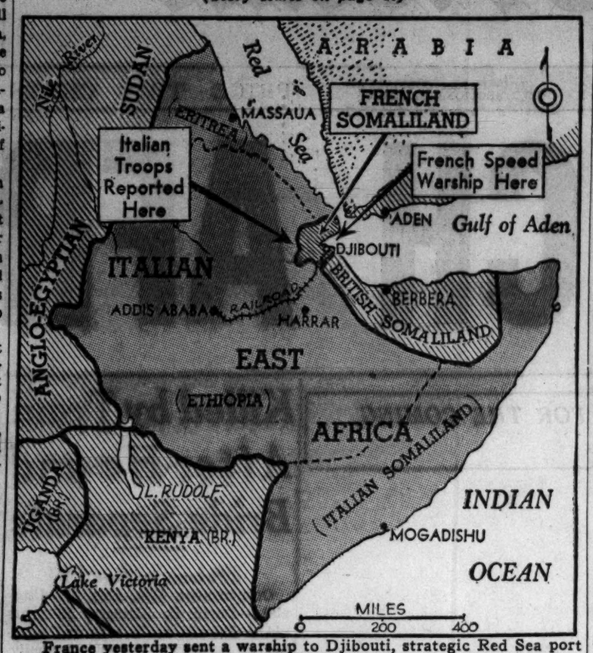

Criticize Daladier's Trip.

Italians charged that Premier Edouard Daladier of France was trying to prevent Britain from seeking a settlement of Italian claims against France. They described Daladier's forthcoming trip to Corsica and Tunisia as having a political and military character.

Some editors asserted one of the premier's chief aims was to make more difficult the appeasement mission of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain when he comes to Rome Jan. 11.

Italy Threatens French Colony

France yesterday sent a warship to Djibouti, strategic Red Sea port and capital of French Somaliland, following reports that Italian troops in Ethiopia were massing along the frontier of the French colony in East Africa. Other naval units were expected to follow the warship to Djibouti. The map shows that the port, by its railway connection with Addis Ababa, is the principal outside link for Italy's Ethiopian empire. The French press voiced fears of an Italian invasion of Somaliland.

ITALIAN THREAT TO FRANCE PUTS BRITAIN IN HOLE

Chamberlain May Call Off Trip to Rome.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Tension between France and Italy over French Somaliland in East Africa threatens to torpedo Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's projected visit to Rome next month with his foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax. This statement was made by diplomatic circles in London tonight.

Official sources refused to comment on the situation arising from unconfirmed reports that Italian troops have penetrated the French Somaliland frontier. However, the cabinet watched developments closely. It called for reports from British diplomats with a special knowledge of the area on the effect of recent Italian moves.

May Call Off Trip.

Chamberlain was in constant contact with Halifax, and it was suggested that their trip to Italy on Jan. 11 may be called off if any drastic action is taken by the Italians.

Premier Mussolini's attitude toward France will figure prominently in the Rome talks. The French, who are in close touch with the British government, appear anxious for assurances that Chamberlain will not accept a rôle as mediator in the French-Italian dispute for fear they will be asked to make wide concessions to Mussolini for the sake of the British prime minister's appeasement policy.

Reports reached London that Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Nazi air minister, intends to visit Rome toward the end of January. The fact that Goering timed his trip to succeed that of Chamberlain indicates the British-Italian talks are not likely to be expanded into a three or four power conference.

See Hitler Backing Duce.

The British believe Adolf Hitler is backing the colonial demands of Mussolini—his partner in the Rome-Berlin axis. The object of Goering's sudden decision to visit Rome, it was said, is to consult with Il Duce and Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, on the attitude adoped by Chamberlain and Halifax toward the dictators' ambitions with the idea of concerting Italian-German policy.

At the same time, observers here expressed the view that Mussolini is playing a diplomatic game. They intimated his so called threats against France's colonial empire in Africa, are being put forward as a bargaining weapon to wring great concessions from Chamberlain in the British-Italian talks without forcing events to a showdown.

EGYPT ASSERTS RIGHT TO BE CONSULTED IN RULE OF SUEZ CANAL

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The Egyptian government today asserted its right to be consulted in the future management of the Suez canal, on which Fascists have cast covetous glances.

A government spokesman in the chamben of deputies declared no change of the status of the canal should be made without Egypt's consent because it runs through Egyptian territory. It was believed the government outlined its position more fully in a note to Great Britain.

There has been press clamor in Italy for a share in control of the canal, which for all practical purposes is under French administrative control. It is ruled by a board of directors of whom twenty-one are French, ten representatives of the British government, and one a Netherlander.

REBEL PUSH CUTS WIDE TERRITORY FROM CATALONIA

New Thrust Puts River Town in Danger.

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier] Dec. 27.—(AP)—Spanish rebel armies were credited with new gains in Catalonia today. In the five days of their new drive the rebels estimated they had occupied more than 230 square miles of territory in northeastern Spain.

An official rebel communique announced the capture of Alos de Balaguer, a town on the northern bank of the Segre river within striking distance of Artesa, the so-called "key to Catalonia."

A column of Moroccan and Navarrese troops operating around the El Monsech mountain range north of Lerida suddenly struck south from Peralba and Figuerola to seize Alos after a battle.

Capture of the town placed Gen. Francisco Franco's troops about ten miles from Artesa, on the opposite bank of the Segre. Government reenforcements were reported to have been rushed to the Artesa shore of the river, where machine gun nests have been established to prevent a rebel crossing.

Planes Bomb Supply Line.

Today's thrust was described as one of the biggest of the current drive. The rebels listed a score of mountain positions from which government forces were driven by heavy machine gun and artillery fire. Eighty rebel planes participated in the attack, aiming particularly at the Tremp-Barcelona highway, the loyalists' supply line.

The rebel gains reported today were along a front extending southward from Cap de Sierra, which is southeast of Tremp, through Lerida, to Ribarroja near the Ebro river.

Cap de Sierra, which the rebels captured, is an electric power source and important for loyalist communications. Rebel cavalry conducted mopping up operations in the Ribarroja and Aspa sectors. It is east of these two towns that the rebels have penetrated the Llena mountains into a corner of Tarragona province.

Estimate 10,000 Casualties.

Rebels estimated that in five days of fighting on the Catalonian front there were 10,000 casualties among the 500,000 troops engaged. The rebels claimed 7,000 prisoners have been taken since the offensive began.

Franco's greatest gain in the southern sector was made by the Llena mountain spearhead which has advanced seventeen miles since Dec. 23. The spearhead is 40 miles from Tarragona, which is fifty miles down the seacoast from Barcelona. The rebels are attacking the loyalists' second line of defenses in the Llena mountains.

In the central, or Borjas Blancas-Balaguer sector, the government's first line is said to be holding firm. In the Monsech mountains east and northeast of Tremp, the battle is reported deadlocked.

The rebels made two air raids on the city and port of Barcelona. The 1,407 ton British steamer Stancroft was sunk, but its crew was saved.

Loyalists May Shift Capital.

Although the foremost rebel column is eighty miles from Barcelona, its goal, there were reports from Barcelona that the government capital might be moved to the southern two-thirds of loyalist Spain which is separated by a rebel wedge to the sea at Tortosa.

The possible capitals mentioned were Valencia or Cartagena, which are ports on the Mediterranean, or Albacete, which is 100 miles inland and is the government's chief military and aviation training ground.

Valencia was the loyalist capital after the government fled from besieged Madrid on Nov. 7, 1936. The capital then was moved to Barcelona on Oct. 28, 1937, when Valencia was threatened.

Wins Separation

CYRENA VAN GORDON SMITH.

New York, Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Supreme Court Justice Lloyd Church today granted a separation decree to Cyrena Van Gordon Smith, soprano of the Chicago Opera company. The decree was signed on the recommendation of Referee Daniel Cohalan, before whom the singer made charges of ill treatment against her husband, Howard Dunbar Smith, mining engineer. Details of the referee's findings were not made public. Smith, who did not contest the action, has filed suit for divorce in San Francisco.

HUNGARY POLICE FIRE ON SLOVAKS; KILL 2 AT BORDER

Clash Grows from Protest Over Christmas Rites.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, Dec. 27.—Hungarian gendarmes fired into a group of protesting Slovaks in the border city of Nagysurany, killing an old man and a girl and wounding several other persons, said reports reaching this capital tonight.

The shooting was the outgrowth of disorders which began Christmas eve when Slovaks demanded unsuccessfully that midnight mass be read in the Slovak language instead of Hungarian. Czech newspaper accounts asserted that Hungarian gendarmes broke up the demonstrations with fixed bayonets.

Hungarians Blame Agitators.

They said the shooting took place on Christmas day.

[The Hungarian report of the shooting, sent from Budapest, said there was only one death, and that the encounter was Tuesday. This account, which quoted the official Hungarian version, said there had been demonstrations for several days in front of the gendarmerie station. The Hungarians blamed Slovak agitation.]

Nagysurany came under Hungarian control in November, when 4,875 square miles were ceded to Hungary by the Czecho-Slovak government.

The communist party was abolished today in the Czech area of Czecho-Slovakia. The party was 18 years old. Several weeks ago the government of Slovakia abolished the communist party in its territory.

Poland Protests Agitation.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, Dec. 27.—The Polish minister to Prague has made a new protest against anti-Polish agitation along the Polish-Czech frontier. Czecho-Slovak newspapers today published sensational stories about anti-Czech activities in territories recently ceded to Poland. It was alleged that 30,000 of 130,000 Czechs in these areas have been expelled, and that twenty-nine Czechs were hospitalized following ill treatment by Polish police Monday morning.

The Polish frontier has been closed to fugitives since Friday and is closely guarded. It is charged there is a Polish reign of terror against Czechs in Teschen.

FORMER ENGINEER KILLED BY TRAIN.

FATHER, IN QUEST OF JOB AND BEER, FORGETS HIS SON

William J. Burke reported to police last night that his baby son, Terence, 2½ years old, had been kidnaped or had wandered away from his automobile, parked at Roosevelt road and Lyman avenue, Oak Park. The baby, Burke said, had been in the back seat since early afternoon while he drove about seeking work and visiting taverns.

Half an hour later the Fillmore street station sent word to all police that a baby answering Terence's description had been left in a restaurant at 101 South Halsted street. The father had gone there seeking work.

"I had been drinking beer," Burke told the police, "and I must have forgotten Terence." He was sent to St. Vincent's orphanage, where Terence had been placed for safe keeping. Burke then took the baby to their home at 1151 Washington boulevard.

Spanish Marquis Killed at Front Fighting for Rebels

BURGOS, Spain, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The death of Alfonso Maria de Bourbon, marquis of Santa Fe and a cousin of former King Alfonso of Spain, from wounds suffered at the front where he served as a calvary major was announced today from Valladolid. The marquis, who was 29 years old was the son of Prince Alberto de Bourbon, the first duke of Santa Elena and a grandee of Spain. He was a grandson of the duke of Sevilla.

SWISS APPROVE $79,100,000 ARMS INCREASE BUDGET

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The Swiss parliament today approved an armament program which it was estimated would cost $79,100,000.

The program was drawn up by the federal council, which submitted it to the legislature for final decision. It embodies six general plans:

Heavy increases in army equipment, reorganization of the air force, construction of new fortifications, organization of new units of reserves for the army and air force, construction of military headquarters buildings, modernization of railroads and telephone lines for use in time of war.

UMPLEBY ENDS CHRISTMAS VISIT WITHOUT GOOD-BY

Among those who would like to know is Cletus A. Cleary, 6515 South California avenue, a brother-in-law of Mr. Umpleby. Mr. Cleary is a partner in the Woodlawn Automobile exchange at 6525 South Western avenue. Last Friday he invited Wilbur, a WPA worker, and his wife over for the Christmas week-end. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Cleary and Mrs. Umpleby went shopping, leaving Wilbur alone in the house.

When Cleary got home Wilbur was gone. He couldn't be found at his home at 1906 Prairie avenue. Under the Christmas tree was a bottle of whisky Cleary had purchased for him. It was half empty. In a clothes hamper was a sock in which Cleary had hidden $289 of the firm's money. The sock was there; the $289 wasn't. Thinking there might be some connection between the disappearance of Wilbur, the whisky and the funds led Cleary last night to the Chicago Lawn police station.

39 Workers Die in Collapse of Railway Tunnel in Corea

TOKIO, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Thirty-nine workmen were killed today in the collapse of a railway tunnel in Keisho Hoduko province, southeastern Corea.

CRATER'S WIDOW ASKS COURT TO LEGALIZE DEATH

Will Filed as She Sails on Honeymoon.

New York, Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Mrs. Stella Crater Kunz, whose former husband, Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater, vanished mysteriously Aug. 6, 1930, was at sea on the Normandie today on a belated honeymoon trip to Germany as her attorney, Emil K. Ellis, started court proceedings to have Justice Crater declared legally dead.

Mrs. Stella Crater Kunz.

He filed with the surrogate of New York county for probate the sixteen line will executed on July 4, 1925, by the jurist who bequeathed everything to his wife.

The estate was valued at about $15,000 mostly insurance. Other assets, it was said, have been used in allowances to the widow and for expenses.

Presumption of Death.

A probation petition signed by Mrs. Kunz stated that Justice Crater "departed his life in New York county at a time unknown, having disappeared on Aug. 6, 1930, under such circumstances as to afford reasonable grounds for belief that he is dead."

Mr. Ellis said he would support his action with witnesses who will testify that the justice has been an absentee from his home for seven years, and by a note to his wife signed "Wearily, Joe," in which the justice told his wife where she could locate certain papers. It had been reported that the filing would shed some light on the mysterious disappearance of Justice Crater, but the note was the only scrap of such information.

Ellis said the court action would raise the interesting legal question as to whether the probating of Justice Crater's will would legalize in New York state Mrs. Crater's marriage to Carl Kunz, a civil engineer. They were married last April 23 in Elkton, then Maryland's famous Gretna Green.

If the justice is declared legally dead another action must be brought in the Supreme court for payment of the insurance policies.

Disappeared Mysteriously.

Justice Crater was 41 years old, at the peak of his career, when he disappeared. His wife was at their camp at Belgrade Lakes, Me., at the time. Investigation revealed that shortly before he vanished he had destroyed much of his personal papers and sent an aid out to cash two checks totaling $5,150.

He last was seen as he waved goodby to some friends in front of a Manhattan restaurant and stepped into a taxicab. Since then he has been reported seen from coast to coast, but every clew has come to nothing.

His wife spurred on the investigators, but finally admitted that in her opinion her husband was dead. Struggling to get along financially, she worked as a stenographer and moved to Greenwich Village to share a small apartment with a friend.

21 MILLION PARK BUDGET O. K.'D BY COMMISSIONERS

Commissioners of the Park district yesterday approved the 1939 park appropriation ordinance calling for expenditures of $20,831,398. The figure is $2,728,018 less than the 1938 budget. Robert J. Dunham, park president, has explained, however, that the 1939 corporate [operating] budget of $8,036,500 is based on eight months of normal operation, with a skeletonized force for the last four months. Last year the corporate fund was $10,999,141. The 1939 corporate budget is based upon the Park district's authorized three mill tax levy. Dunham said he will ask the legislature to approve a pegged levy to allow for twelve months of full operation.

MYSTERY VOICE OF SUBURB FLIES IN OUT OF COLD

And Oak Park Police Are Pleased.

The Oak Park police certainly were glad yesterday when the Kilgore family told what had been caught in the upper rooms of the Kilgore home. The police were getting pretty tired of rushing about looking for a mysterious voice that had been frightening the good people of the suburb.

First Heard at Halloween.

The troubles began shortly after last Halloween. At first the police thought some prankster had been unable to get Halloween out of his system. But the voice seemed to get around faster than anything human could.

Then, early in November, Henry F. Ritter was awakened one morning by a rasping call from his window sill: "Hey, cutie! Look alive; it's morning!"

Before Ritter could move, the visitor flapped away. Since that time the Oak Park police have been called early and often to hunt for the owner of the rasping voice. They developed a hearty dislike for Pete, as they called him.

Roosts in Fruit Trees.

A few days ago, the parrot began roosting in fruit trees around the home of W. K. and O. J. Kilgore, at 604 Woodbine avenue, in Oak Park. The sons of O. C. Kilgore, Billy, 9 years old, and Buddy, 8, noticed the bird and named it Butch.

W. C. Kilgore, their grandfather, placed crumbs in an upper window. Butch did not approach until early yesterday after the temperature began dropping. Then he flew in and announced himself by squawking: "Hello, Clara; hello, Clara!"

When Butch had been put into a cage and fed the police were notified.

SLAYS HIS WIFE, SHOOTS HIMSELF AFTER GAY PARTY

Woman Is Killed in Bed with Daughter.

Gordon T. Cox was the gayest member of his family at the Christmas celebration in the Cox apartment at 1721 East 86th street. But last night he was near death in the Bridewell hospital, and his wife, Grace, lay dead. He shot her to death in bed yesterday morning and then fired a bullet into his head.

Relatives blamed a nervous ailment from which he had been suffering for three months. Cox, who is 41 years old, is a zone maintenance manager for Remington Rand, Inc., office equipment manufacturers.

Child Awakened by Shots.

Mrs. Cox, who was 33 years old, was sleeping with her daughter, Jean, 10, when Cox came into the bedroom. Cox, police said, evidently shot his wife as she slept, and then turned the gun on himself.

Awakened by the gunfire, Jean found her mother dying and her father sitting wounded on the edge of the bed. The little girl fled, screaming, and awakened her brother, Gordon Jr., 15, and their mother's mother, Mrs. Mary Sloan, 73, who lived with them.

"We had a gay Christmas," Mrs. Sloan told Sergt. Andrew Meade of the South Chicago police. "Gordon was the leading spirit."

Sent Home for Rest.

She told police that Cox, a war veteran, had been sent home by his company for a rest, after he had become ill in Minneapolis.

Francis McCurrie, assistant state's attorney, went to the hospital to talk with Cox. The prosecutor said Cox was conscious and seemingly aware of what had happened. Cox denied he had been drinking.

"Why did you kill her?" McCurrie asked.

"I can't tell you now," Cox responded.

AN OLD MAN DIES IN HOME WHERE HE FOUND REFUGE

Two weeks ago an old fellow knocked at Mrs. Edward Ryan's door and asked for something to eat. He was shivering in baggy work pants, a gray sweater, and tattered blue mackinaw, all of which were several sizes too big for him.

"Come in," said Mrs. Ryan. He must have liked the cooking, for then he asked if there was any work he could do in exchange for board and room. There was. The Ryans are an elderly couple who operate a small farm at 173d street and 80th avenue in Tinley Park.

So the old fellow, slight and bent with his 70 years, did some chores and puttered around. He mentioned he had two sisters living in Beverly Hills, but he didn't talk much. Yesterday afternoon he said he felt ill. A little while later he was found dead in his room. Now the police are looking for his relatives, but nobody knows who the old fellow was.

"We just called him Carl," said Mrs. Ryan.

Ald. Arvey in Hospital with a Throat Infection

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th] was taken to Mt. Sinai hospital Sunday suffering from a throat infection, it was learned yesterday. Dr. Charles Finkelstein said Ald. Arvey's condition is improving and he probably will leave the hospital by the end of the week.

FOUND DEAD ON STREET CAR.

Victor Tufigno, 40 years old, 5527 Cortez street, was found dead on a Kedzie avenue street car last night when it reached the barns at Kedzie avenue and Van Buren street after the rush hour.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S KIN MAKES DEBUT IN WHITE HOUSE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Both houses of Roosevelt danced at the White House tonight at a ball for the debut of Mrs. Roosevelt's niece and namesake, Eleanor Roosevelt, 18 years old, of Boston.

"Ellie," in a fluffy white frock with a hoop skirt, stood with Mrs. Roosevelt, in bright red chiffon, and Hall Roosevelt, her father, to receive a dozen Roosevelt cousins and several hundred youthful society people from all over the east.

President Roosevelt went to bed without coming downstairs to greet the guests informally, as President Theodore Roosevelt had done at the debut, of his daughter, Ethel, 30 years ago this Christmas week.

It was the first White House debut since that of Helen Taft in 1910, and generally was considered the most brilliant White House ball since Alice Roosevelt was presented to society in 1902. Mrs. Longworth did not attend the party. Her niece, Sarah Derby, and nephew, Quentin Roosevelt, her holiday guests, were present.

Thirty-five persons were driven into the cold last night when fire attacked a four story, twelve flat building at 1408 East 63d street. The fire, which started in an interior areaway, spread to the three upper floors.

Mrs. TaTania Marragos, 33 years old, on the fourth floor, found the hallway filled with smoke. Carrying her baby, Penelope, 18 months old, Mrs. Marragos was assisted down a fire escape by Frederick Jones, who occupies an apartment on the third floor.

Fire officials estimated the damage at $3,500. Policeman Thomas McCarthy was cut on the hand by falling glass.

Slow Rise to 15° Likely; Winds Lash Lakes.

Before dawn today the temperature in Chicago was expected to reach zero or possibly one degree below. In the suburbs it was scheduled to drop as low as six below. But the weatherman did have some cheer as he made these predictions last night. During the day, he said, the mercury will rise slowly to fifteen degrees.

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd last night drew up his outlook as the bitterest cold wave of the new winter spread rapidly eastward. Today the arctic chill is scheduled to be felt from the Rocky mountains to the eastern seaboard and down into Florida, the gulf states and Texas.

The predicted minimum for Chicago today will be the coldest of the winter, exceeding the four degrees above zero recorded yesterday morning. If the mercury reaches zero it will be the first time this year since Jan. 8 and 31.

5 Below at Mundelein.

Should the temperature drop below zero it will be the first time in nearly three years that Chicago has experienced subzero weather. The last occasion was seven degrees below on Feb. 19, 1936, although suburban readings often are lower during cold weather. Early yesterday Mundelein reported five below.

There still is every indication, Forecaster Lloyd said, that severe cold weather will continue for several days.

Strong winds, which reached a maximum of twenty-eight miles an hour here, swept in the near zero cold with bitter force. Today the northwest winds are expected to abate and shift to the east and south.

Winds Lash Great Lakes.

Fierce winds lashed the eastern shore of Lake Michigan and swept over all the other Great Lakes. Coast guard stations reported the seas were the heaviest of many years.

The wind churned snow into blinding blizzards throughout Michigan. Communications were down between Sault Ste. Marie, Petoskey, and the Mackinac straits. Manistique was without telephone or telegraph service. Deep snow virtually cut off Marquette.

At the Cleveland, O., airport the wind reached fifty-five miles per hour. Windows were shattered in Cincinnati. All shipping was halted on Lake Erie, where the gale reached sixty-one miles an hour. It brust upon Buffalo, N. Y., with such force that ropes were stretched along the streets to keep pedestrians upright.

FREAK WIND DRIES UP RIVER; TOLEDO SHORT OF WATER

Stream 9½ Feet Below Normal; Intakes Bare.

Toledo, O., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—A complete shutoff of Toledo's water supply for all purposes except fire protection was threatened tonight as a result of a freak weather situation.

A steady 30 mile westerly wind blew out into Lake Erie a vast amount of the water in the Maumee river, where the city's intake pipes are situated. The river this evening was nine and a half feet below normal, the lowest point on record. Water barely was trickling into the lowest intakes.

Officials said it was the most serious predicament the city has faced in many years. Unless there is an early change in the wind's direction, it will be necessary to prohibit the use of water for domestic or industrial purposes to conserve for fire protection the small supply in storage.

Factories Curb Operations.

Several factories were forced to shut down departments and the city's 300,000 residents were ordered to economize rigidly. Hospitals and other institutions were warned the water supply to them may have to be stopped. The city normally uses 36 million gallons a day. Only 5 million gallons remained in the city reservoir tonight.

The Pure Oil company was compelled to close several stills in its refinery because its water intakes were uncovered. The Interlake Iron corporation stopped production at one unit. The Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company reported its intakes were dry and that it was encountering difficulty in obtaining water for its boilers.

Only 6-Inch Leeway.

At noon the level of the river was so low that officials said a drop of six inches more would affect the high pressure system, which protects the downtown business district. With no letup in the wind, the river stage steadily went lower, decreasing correspondingly the volume of water the pumps were able to draw.

Officials announced that if the present siuation continues, it will be a matter of only a few hours until the entire water intake will be cut off and the city will be fully dependent on its small supply in storage.

In the Ottawa Hills residential section pressure was so low at 7 o'clock tonight that faucets were dry in the upper floors of many homes.

THREE ARRESTED FOR EXTORTION IN DRUG SWINDLE

Coster's Past Is Used to Blackmail Him.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Three persons, one of them a woman, were locked up tonight on charges of blackmailing the late Philip Musica, the ex-convict who masqueraded under the name of F. Donald Coster as president of McKesson & Robbins, Inc.

Walter H. Cragg. A. P. Wirephoto.

The prisoners, arrested on orders of Acting United States Attorney Gregory F. Noonan, included Walter H. Cragg, a disbarred attorney with a criminal record; Joseph Brandino, a druggist, and his sister, Mary. This trio, Noonan declared, had extorted large sums from Coster-Musica as the price for keeping silent on the drug company head's criminal past.

When his past was brought to light ten days ago, Coster-Musica shot and killed himself. It was discovered that 18 million dollars of the corporation's assets were fictitious and that Coster-Musica had swindled the firm out of approximately 4 million dollars.

Blackmailers Get Much.

A large portion of the stolen money went to pay off the blackmailing leeches clinging to the drug head who desperately strove to blot out the days when he was a jailbird and a stool pigeon, according to Noonan's theory.

Other arrests are expected to follow. Noonan said last week at least eight persons were involved in the blackmailing of the drug company's president.

Cragg, who was convicted in 1914 on a charge of grand larceny and served an indeterminate sentence of from one to two and a half years in the penitentiary, was picked up by police in Brooklyn where he formerly had a law office. He was booked on a charge of using the mails to defraud and acting in concert with others in that offense.

After being fingerprinted and appearing in the police showup, he was handed over to the federal authorities.

Former Partners Seized.

Soon after the Cragg arrest, the police took the Brandinos into custody. Mary and Joseph Brandino, it was alleged, were in partnership with Philip Musica in the Adelphi Drug company which was organized in 1920. According to federal investigators, the firm was merely a front for bootlegging. The profits from this venture enabled Musica, now under the name of Coster, to start a hair tonic business in 1923 which thrived so rapidly that within a few years he gained control of the venerable 105 year old drug firm of McKesson & Robbins.

The ramifications of the swindle structure which Coster-Musica built are so far flung that the government decided today to select a special grand jury which will do nothing but take testimony and return indictments in the McKesson & Robbins case.

Meanwhile, the three surviving Musica brothers, Arthur, George, and Robert, attempted to have their bail reduced. The request was refused by Federal Judge William Bondy. Arthur and George are held in bonds of $30,000 each while the third brother, who did not take part in the early swindles of the Musicas a quarter of a century ago, is held in bail of $17,000.

Scottish Firms Deny Debt.

GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Four Scottish firms announced today that they were repudiating, as fictitious, claims against them totaling $50,000 listed as debts to the firm of McKesson and Robbins.

The firms were informed they were listed among McKesson and Robbins debtors by the United States Securities and Exchange commission, which is investigating the records of the company, whose president, Philip Musica, known as F. Donald Coster, killed himself.

All four said they never had heard of the alleged debts. They are E. Bell and Sons, cleaners and laundrymen, listed as owing $14,508; Cockburn & Co., wholesale druggists, down for $15,345; Samuel Dow, Ltd., wholesale wine and spirit merchants, $11,000, and Halton, Ltd., confectioners, $12,753.

MUNICIPAL COURT REPORTS.

During the first eleven months of this year 345,028 felony, criminal and quasi-criminal cases were filed in the Municipal court, according to the annual report of Chief Justice John J. Stonesby, issued yesterday. In the same period last year 448,498 cases were filed.

LOBBY OF PRICE FIXERS REACHES INTO 44 STATES

Build Up High Pressure Organization.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—With a pressure group consisting of 20,000 persons and a million dollar slush fund, the druggists' and grocers' lobby not only drove price fixing legislation through forty-four legislatures and congress, but sandbagged manufacturers into joining the price raising combine, the objective of which was 50 per cent profits.

In January, 1937, when the lobby was preparing to push through congress the Tydings-Miller bill exempting interstate contracts to fix resale prices from prosecution under the federal anti-trust laws, the National Association of Retail Druggists was boasting openly of the invincibility of its pressure machinery.

44 States Organized.

"As this is written," said the association's official journal, "only four states remain which have not set up the N. A. R. D. congressional contact committees on a county basis. In other words, forty-four states of the Union are now organized as never before in history for the purpose of furthering legislation.

"The final step in this organization is now being made. We have the proper contact man in nearly every county in this country. They now number over two thousand. We are asking that each of these 2,000 men form a committee of their own in their own local community consisting of ten other local independent business men who will work and move as a unit when called upon by the N. A. R. D. Washington office.

"The power of this organization will be enormous and it will be irresistible. . . ."

Method Is Successful.

The lobby was organized on the lines indicated and proved irresistible. The 20,000 lobbyists scattered through the country built backfires behind senators and congressmen in their constituencies while the lobbyists massed in Washington applied pressure wherever it was needed.

The lobby organized an overwhelming chorus of pleas by millions of little grocers and little druggists to legalize price fixing as the only means of saving them from extinction by the price cutting of the chain stores. As a result, the Tydings-Miller bill was passed by congress in August, 1937, as a rider on the District of Columbia revenue bill, without a roll call in either house.

In the house the remarks made upon the bill were laudatory without exception. In the senate only one voice—that of Senator William H. King [D., Utah]—was raised against it. Even Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho], watchdog of the anti-trust laws, was silent.

So thoroughly had the druggists' lobby done its work that Senator Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.], whose law partner, Herbert Levy, was counsel for the Retail Druggists' association, had no difficulty in attaching the bill as a rider to the tax bill and putting it through the senate. This was despite President Roosevelt's warning that the measure would hamstring the anti-trust laws and raise the cost of trade-marked articles to consumers.

Organized on similar lines, the lobby already had obtained in forty-four states what it called "fair trade" legislation legalizing intrastate price fixing contracts. If it cost the lobby as much to grease the ways in each state as it did in Connecticut, it must have expended a quarter of a million dollars on this phase of the campaign alone.

Involved in Graft Scandal.

The trail of the druggists' slush fund was brought to light last May in the report of the extraordinary grand jury on the Waterbury, Conn., graft scandal. Mentioned by the grand jury in connection with the "buying of legislation," which it severely condemned, were the druggists' association and McKesson & Robbins, the wholesale drug firm headed by the former convict, Philip Musica, masquerading as F. Donald Coster.

The McKesson & Robbins scandal, punctuated by the suicide of Coster-Musica, has shed a lurid light on the operations of the price fixing lobby in which he was a prominent figure. Coster-Musica was closely associated with Representative Wright Patman [D., Tex.], author of anti-chain store legislation, who received a large amount of money furnished by McKesson & Robbins for his speeches in furtherance of the campaign against price cutting.

The Connecticut grand jury, which indicted numerous state and city officials for graft, reported that Daniel J. Leary, Waterbury city controler, paid large sums of city funds to obtain the support of political leaders for the so-called fair trade bill.

Raise $13,000 for Lobby.

"This fair trade bill," said the jury report, "had also as a particular sponsor the Retail Druggists' association. This association, through solicitations from its members, collected a fund of approximately $13,000, practially all of which was spent in the 1937 session in securing the passage of the fair trade act.

"Of this sum approximately $6,000 was paid to Charles E. Williamson, who divided it equally with Harry E. Mackenzie. The balance of the fund was paid to various other lobbyists and attorneys in smaller amounts for the purpose of obtaining their influence and insuring passage of the bill.

"It was the source of considerable surprise to this grand jury to learn that Williamson and Mackenzie were permitted the use of the offices of the state pharmacy commission as a meeting place and headquarters, and it was there that many of the distributions, including payments from the city of Waterbury, through Controler Leary, were made.

Conceals Financial Interest.

"Apparently in most instances Mackenzie was the recipient of distributions from others, it being his practice to conceal his financial interest in the passage or defeat of legislation. In relatively few cases was Mackenzie's employment directly by the person or corporation interested in the passage or defeat of legislation. In relatively few instances did he make any distribution out of sums received by him from others.

"During both sessions he was active in behalf of the druggists' association, and at the same time was receiving a salary of $3,900 a year from McKesson, Robbins company, plus an expense account of approximately $3,000. It was primarily through his efforts that the offices of the pharmacy commission were obtained as a meeting place and headquarters for himself and Williamson and Daniel J. Leary. As in the case of Williamson, virtually all payments to Mackenzie were in cash, apparently for the purpose of concealing the amounts and recipients of various splits."

[How the lobby sandbagged manufacturers into price fixing will be told in the next of this series by Mr. Henning.]

ARRIVES TO TAKE JOB AS MEDICAL OFFICER OF BOARD OF HEALTH

Dr. G. Howard Gowen of Urbana, Ill., who will become the chief medical officer of the board of health on Jan. 1, arrived in Chicago yesterday. He went immediately to the city hall and began studying his new job.

Dr. G. Howard Gowen.

Dr. Gowen was director of the Champaign - Urbana health service and an instructor in bacteriology at the University of Illinois. He took civil service examinations here last summer for the post of chief medical officer and chief of the bureau of communicable diseases. He ranked first in both examinations, but chose the chief medical officer's position. It pays $6,500 a year.

Dr. Eldred K. Muson of Topeka, Kas., who ranked second in the bureau of communicable diseases examination, has been offered the $5,000 a year job as head of the bureau. He has not yet said whether he will take the position.

REP. SCHNACKENBERG GETS NEW PLEDGES OF SPEAKERSHIP SUPPORT

Additional pledges of support reached State Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg yesterday, causing him to predict that he will be the choice of the Republican caucus for speaker of the house. The caucus will be held next Tuesday night in Springfield, the night before the 61st regular session of the legislature convenes.

On the basis of the members who have committed themselves in his behalf, Schnackenberg said he believed he would have more than 50 votes in the caucus. A total of 40 votes will carry that meeting. His leading opponent is Representative Hugh W. Cross of Jerseyville, who has forecast his own choice by about the same vote.

Two contests over seats in the house were filed with Secretary of State Hughes yesterday. Stanley J. Coffey protested the election of William G. Thorn for the third seat from the 23d district in Cook county. Both are Republicans. Baker McAlpin of West Frankfort, a Democrat, protested the election of M. F. Browner, Mount City Republican. Both contests will be considered by the house elections committee.

MRS. W. S. DU VALL DIES.

Holland, Mich., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Mrs. W. S. Du Vall, 67 years old, wife of a former mayor of Fennville, died at her home yesterday.

Boy Meningitis Victim Continues to Improve

Raymond Potter, 14 years old, continued to improve yesterday in the Municipal Contagious Disease hospital. He has been there since Dec. 13, a victim of staphylococcus meningitis, a disease usually fatal. Dr. Luther M. Lorance said his treatment had been altered somewhat in the last few days. The use of antitoxin and sulfanilamide has been discontinued for the time being. Another blood transfusion was given the boy Monday. Raymond lives at 11347 Church street.

SMOKEY STOVER—SHELL SHOCKED

PLANS TO TRAIN 20,000 CIVILIAN FLYERS A YEAR

President Seeks Reserve for Army and Navy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today added to his huge defense program a project calling for the training of 20,000 civilian pilots annually at a cost of $9,800,000 a year.

He announced his approval of the program presented by the Civil Aeronautics authority. The program will be under supervision of the National Youth administration and army and navy flyers will be instructors.

First test of the program will be made during the second semester of the current school year of about a dozen colleges and universities, where the instruction will be given to students between the ages of 18 and 25.

300 to Be Trained.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he has authorized the allocation of $100,000 in NYA funds for training approximately 300 students in this tryout, and that later he will ask congress to appropriate the necessary $9,800,000 for the annual program.

The President said that the program was aimed only at instruction in civilian flying, not combat flying, giving only the required training for pilot licenses. But, he added, the program would provide a reservoir of trained pilots. He said that he expected a large number of those trained would enter the army or navy reserve corps, which would require additional training, including combat flying.

Plans to Rent Planes.

All of the planes to be used in the training program will be rented by the government, the President said. The CAA believes, he said, there are sufficient planes in existence to meet the demand. He did not indicate the definite sources in mind.

Asked today about published reports that he would ask congress to authorize construction of 13,500 additional airplanes for the army and navy, Mr. Roosevelt said no decision has been made on the number and probably will not be ready for a week.

It is reported that the President will send a special message to congress, drawing attention to the expansion of totalitarian powers and asking for national defense measures on an unprecedented scare for peace time.

Smoke Screen Charged.

His recent drumming on this theme has aroused considerable sentiment in congress against such provocative statements. Tonight Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] charged that the administration was creating anti-dictatorship and war hysteria in an effort to cover up the failure of the New Deal's internal policies.

"In the midst of a serious war hysteria, instigated in part by the administration and stirred up by inflammatory tirades by members of the cabinet, the people of America have become unnecessarily alarmed and led to believe that we are on the verge of being attacked by the totalitarian states," Fish said.

"This false propaganda emanating from the New Deal officials to cover up the failure and break down of the New Deal economic and farm policies, is difficult to combat as the President has a virtual monopoly of the radio and of the press when he speaks, whereas any answer by the minority party is given little if any publicity in the press.

Others Want U. S. to Fight.

"Between the propaganda of the communists, who want us to fight Nazi Germany and Japan for the benefit of soviet Russia; of the British, who want us to preserve the British empire including Hongkong, Singapore, and India; and the New Deal administration, that tragically has no program toward recovery and reëmployment except to spend billions for purposes of destruction and military armaments, the American people are becoming war-minded."

Fish said the United States never was safer from attack by any foreign power than it is today and will be for the next five years, which is the life of an airplane, because Germany, Italy and Japan are and will be for many years to come involved in their immediate spheres and do not have the faintest thought of making war on us or invading Latin America.

"In addition," he said, "we have the most powerful navy we have ever had, except for one year after the world war, and with appropriations already made it will be twice as big as the Japanese navy within the next five years.

"Time to Call Halt."

"The time has come to call a halt to the war mongers of the New Deal backed by war profiteers and hysterical internationalists who want us to police and quarantine the world with American blood and money. It is none of our business what form of government may exist in foreign lands; we ought to keep out of the rotten mess and the eternal wars of Europe."

Mr. Roosevelt at his press conference today said he believed the Lima conference was a great success. He added that the delegates accomplished what they set out to do.

Mrs. McLaughlin Keeps Son in Hollywood Despite Court

Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin did not send her son home from Hollywood to spend Christmas with his father as Judge Robert C. O'Connell ordered her to do. Instead, it was learned yesterday, she telegraphed Maj. Frederic McLaughlin that the boy, William, 9 years old, was ill. Frederic Burnham, McLaughlin's attorney, did not know yesterday whether any court discipline would be asked. Mrs. McLaughlin is suing for divorce. Her attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr., said her son had acute bronchitis.

MacMerrill Birnbaum blackened Mrs. Leona Mosely Birnbaum's eyes and then forced her to accompany him to a bankers' convention at Atlanta, Ga., she told Judge Oscar Nelson yesterday. But it wasn't until a year later that she left Birnbaum. That was when she tried to collect a bet she had won from him at the Notre Dame-Minnesota football game. He hit her so hard, she testified, that he broke her nose.

Mrs. Birnbaum, who is 30 years old, won a divorce and a $6,500 settlement from Birnbaum, a La Salle street broker. She lives at 1885 Kennicott court, Des Plaines.

U. S. ARMY TANKS AMONG THE BEST, EXPERT ASSERTS

Major Says War Use Is Unsettled.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27. — [Special.]—United States army tanks are equal or superior to any other tanks in the world, writes Maj. J. K. Christmas, army automotive expert, in an article in "Army Ordnance," published by the Army Ordnance association.

The exact use of the tank in war, however, still remains to be settled, Maj. Christmas said.

"The present engineering status of the tank," writes Maj. Christmas, "is that all industrial nations can and are building tanks that are reliable mechanically, simple to operate, capable of movement under their own power with an army anywhere, well armored, heavily armed, and reasonably durable. Both the initial and the operating costs have come down markedly.

Stand Up Well.

"Our own tanks can march many hundreds of miles over roads and off them at speeds up to 40 miles an hour with little mechanical trouble. In a recent maneuver, eighty-eight machines started and eighty-eight returned under their own power from a 700 mile operation over roads and cross-country terrain of various conditions.

"The present tactical status of the tank is, like that of the airplane, frequently a topic for fiery debate because only recently have tanks been available in quantity for field maneuvers and because no large scale war between industrial nations has occurred to give tanks a conclusive test tactically.

"The published tactical doctrine of France is to make no major attacks without the support of tanks, used on a scale of forty to eighty tanks per 1,000 yards of front."

Expect High Loss Rate.

"Our tanks are now designed by the ordnance department and assembled at Rock Island arsenal from components manufactured mostly by private firms. Being a complex weapon representing the integrated efforts of many industries, it will be difficult and slow to get into quantity production.

"Large numbers of tanks will be needed, and their losses may be expected to be high, but, whenever it tactically can take the place of fighting men the tank costs less to use than men."

FARLEY REPORTS P. O. DEPARTMENT DEFICIT $43,811,556

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley reported to President Roosevelt today that the postoffice department spent $43,811,556 more than its income in the 1938 fiscal year, but said it would have made $4,412,821 profit if it had not had the expense of its free services.

He estimated that it cost $48,224,377 to carry mail free for congressmen, government departments and blind persons, to subsidize air mail and perform "nonpostal" functions.

Receipts for the year ending last June 30 totaled $728,634,051. Expenditures amounted to $772,445,607. This compared with expenditures of $772,815,842 and revenues of $726,201,109 in the previous fiscal year, when the gross deficit was $46,614,732.

INDUSTRY OF U. S. IS WEAKEST LINK IN DEFENSE PLAN

Unprepared to Back Army with Guns and Supplies.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—American industry is unprepared to meet the demands of war. This is the verdict of industrialists as well as military men.

Although the army has plans to mobilize 400,000 troops in the first few days of war, they would have to go to battle without proper weapons, proper clothing, and proper supplies. Only a handful of that number—less than 20,000 men—would be equipped to go into battle tomorrow.

The army also has plans to put an army of a million men in the field in the first six months of war. It is estimated that these men would be dead and buried three years before they could get arms to defend themselves in the event of an invasion in the near future.

Richest in War Materials.

And this fact is the more bitter to Americans because this nation is the richest on the globe in raw materials, factories, and skilled labor. The American third line of defense—national resources—is potentially the most formidable in the world.

The nation has almost one half the total world supply of raw materials. It is rich in iron and steel, lead and copper, oil and cotton. It has the greatest fund of inventive and organizing genius. It leads the world in manufacturing plants, transportation facilities, and the like.

Yet but a fraction of this power could be put to work in defense of the nation upon the outbreak of war. Hardly more than the few plants and shipyards now supplying the army and navy would be of any value for a year or more.

The business of equipping an army with weapons and munitions is a highly technical one. Dies, jigs, and tools are required in profusion, and their manufacture is slow because of the precision they require.

Need Funds for Tools.

It was not until the recent whirlwind international developments aroused interest in the national defense that the army and navy was able to quicken any interest in industrial mobilization. Only a comparatively few million dollars for a reserve of tools and dies, to remake plants in the event of war, were wrested from congress.

The army and navy are preparing to drive for more funds in the next congress. Military leaders are aware they will be unable to support a fleet or an army unless factories are turning out supplies as fast as they are needed.

Older officers in the army remember clearly the slowness with which industry was mobilized in the world war. Where manufacturers promised items by the hundreds of thousands, they dribbled them out by the hundreds. American soldiers in France fought not with American, but with British and French weapons.

Largely a Problem of Industry.

To a large degree, military experts recognize the problem of a national or continental defense is an industrial problem, rather than a military problem. This is regarded as obvious by those who observe foreign nations now engaged in building war machines.

They have organized their whole economy around the service of supply. Questions of better wages, better hours, better living conditions are regarded as academic and the all-important consideration is the defense of the fatherland.

Everything is regulated to the question of maintaining an army in the field. The result of such philosophy was demonstrated recently when Germany mobilized almost overnight an army of 1,250,000 men in the Czech crisis, in the same time that the United States could get its small regular army in the field for war.

Seek Adequate Supplies.

The army and navy high commands have no wish to follow the example of the dictator nations in this respect. The price is regarded as too high.

America is not seeking to create a mass army, but to equip and maintain comparatively small protective mobilization forces of regular army men and guardsmen and to plan in advance, as well as can be done, for an adequate service of supply in time of need.

To this end, the army and navy are surveying and allocating to future needs, the present capacity of American industry to furnish war material. Industries are being encouraged to experiment with the production of highly specialized equipment which would be needed by the army or the navy. Efforts are being made to accumulate reserve supplies of raw materials which the United States itself does not produce.

10,000 Factories Cataloged.

About 10,000 factories have been investigated, analyzed, and earmarked for the production of approximately 7,500 military items. These items closely resemble articles now under manufacture, and thus the shift will occasion little delay. However, there is a bottleneck of fifty-five items which require precision machinery and manufacture.

This phase of national defense involves commandeering of transportation facilities—all busses, trucks, railroads, private and commercial planes, and giving troop or supply movements the right of way over highways and railroads.

In this connection officials have been considering a grand central terminal for all Chicago's railroads as one method of forestalling delays in shipment of troops and supplies from one line to another.

Twenty-one Items Needed.

Every phase of the nation's economic life is being analyzed by the war planners. It is hoped that voluntary coöperation of industry will be so far advanced within a few years that no nation will attempt to test the might of this country.

The war planners have listed 21 war supplies in which this nation is deficient. Funds will be asked to build war time reserves of these supplies. They are aluminum, antimony, chromium, coconut shells, coffee, hides, iodine, manganese, Manila fiber, mica, nickel, opium, optical glass, quartz chrystal, quicksilver, quinine, rubber, silk, tin, tungsten, and wool.

With proper organization of industry backing a renovated army, navy and a capable air force, the army and navy high commands are firmly convinced the United States can withstand attack from any power, and even from a combination of powers.

GEORGE M. MAYPOLE AGAIN CANDIDATE FOR SENATE PRESIDENCY

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Senator George M. Maypole [D.] Chicago, announced his candidacy for reëlection as president pro tem of the senate today, after it became apparent Lieut. Gov. John Stelle would not be able to preside over the upper house when the assembly convenes Jan. 4. because he is acting governor during the absence of Gov. Horner, who is convalescing from Illiness in Florida.

Stelle and Democratic leaders including state department heads had a private conference today relative to the so-called regency that will direct the administration's policy in the absence of Gov. Horner. Stelle and other spokesmen said the biennial gubernatorial message to the legislature had been discussed.

'Americans Very Lucky,' Says Belgian Ex-Premier

New York, Dec. 27. — [Special.] — Paul Van Zeeland, former premier of Belgium, sailed for home on the liner Normandie last midnight after a two months' visit to the United States. "You are very fortunate here," he said. "If every one could realize the conditions in Europe and compare them with the United States, you people would consider yourselves very lucky, indeed." America's greatest assets, Van Zeeland observed, are her two oceans.

EXIT-THOUGHT

By CALEB

WORKING late, the other night I had the interesting experience of finding my way out of a store as enormous as ever in size, but lifeless in all its functions. Lights were still burning here and there; a few workers were still at their tasks of cleaning and rearranging. But save for these, and an occasional watchman or elevator operator, the human elements of the daily scene had vanished.

Short hours before, how different! Then it was the material side of the establishment which seemed invisible, almost irrelevant. Everything then was people: gay children tugging at lagging parents; laughing schoolgirls clustered around smiling saleswomen; the hurry and clamor, fascination and verve, of crowds surging and escalators moving . . . of endless packages, uniforms, and colors; all the commotion of some huge carnival. Now—nothing but equipment; merchandise; shadowy aisleways; ghostly vistas; faint reflections amid universal obscurity. Material, yes—and for that very reason, so immaterial!

The thought impressed me deeply, and followed me home: of how incidental, when the scenes of Business are cleared of the makers of Business—human beings—seem all its other accessories: products, names, labels, order-entries, invoices, file-numbers, and records! How rightly is the successful modern store conducted—not in the mere material form of sales—but on the tenfold wiser basis of service to people!

Particularly is this dominant difference of objective quickened and made more alive, during the Holidays. Perhaps the reason is implicit in the spirit of the time itself. Perhaps the instinct of giving is so inherent in serving that the two are at this season most clearly attuned . . .

Whatever the explanation, I concluded, making my way across silent rooms and past spectral mirrors and hangings . . . the experience of quitting an empty store at night is the keenest reminder in the world that business men and women are not the servants of Business; they are simply, and forever, servants to other living, loving, striving, unconforming men and women like themselves!

76TH CONGRESS HOSTILE TO NEW DEAL PET IDEAS

Start Battle Tuesday on Roosevelt Schemes.

sent to congress a message demanding a billion dollar expansion of the navy because of what he described the menacing international situation. The program was approved but this congress, a number of members believe, will not acquiesce so quickly next time to voting billions to guard against what many deem inspired dangers.

There are numerous other subjects upon which the next congress will be asked to act. The fireworks will start popping almost immediately next month on the subject of additional appropriations for the WPA. Mr. Roosevelt probably will suggest from 750 millions to one billion to carry on work relief to the end of the fiscal year. Otherwise, WPA officials say, 3 million men will be thrown off the payrolls on Feb. 7.

In this connection will arise the appointment of Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, to be secretary of commerce, which must be confirmed by the senate. The report of the senate campaign expenditures committee on the use of WPA money to influence the elections, expected to be explosive, will be discussed. Many responsible lawmakers believe the WPA will be replaced by some congress controled system of distributing federal funds for the unemployed.

Rail Legislation Vital.

Legislation designed to help the railroads is a weighty problem facing congress. Senator Wheeler, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, conferred today with the President on the report of the committee appointed to study the subject. Wheeler said he was against recommendation that the long and short haul clause be repealed. He commended the report otherwise.

Revision of the social security and the Wagner Labor Relations acts is considered certain. Such action will be considered a rebuke to the President, although he has indicated lately that he would not resist such reforms.

In connection with the labor act revision will arise a fight in the senate over the reappointment of Donald W. Smith as a member of the board. Senator H. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.], predicted that the senate would not confirm Smith. He condemned Smith's record as one of partisanship and bias for the C. I. O.

Predicts Curb on Labor Board.

Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.], predicted that the labor board's powers would be curbed. Only the board, the C. I. O., and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins are opposed to such changes, he said. Industrial peace and economic recovery will be promoted by the reforms, he said.

Administration spending policies are also due for determined attack, it was predicted. Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee; Chairman James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.], of the unemployment committee; Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.], chairman of the appropriations committee; and Senator Millard F. Tydings [D., Md.], have announced they will renew attempts to cut government spending. The economy bloc in the house, led by Representative Clifton A. Woodrum, vice chairman of the appropriations committee, will also be much strengthened at the session.

The issue of a third term for President Roosevelt will also create a storm at the coming session, it was predicted. Several resolutions will be offered to put the senate on record against a third term for any President. This will embarrass a number of Democratic supporters of the administration, still sitting in the senate, who voted in favor of such a resolution during the late President Coolidge's term of office.

Attorneys Francis J. Kennedy (left) and Edward A. Fisher, defendants, in court on charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The arraignment of two former assistant United States district attorneys on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in connection with the Heintz robbery case was continued yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court to Jan. 13. The continuance was granted on the motion of Assistant State's Attorney Joseph O'Connor with the agreement of James M. Burke, counsel for the two former prosecutors, Edward A. Fisher and Francis J. Kennedy.

They were arrested last Saturday after Hubert Heintz, 30 years old, son of a Winnetka broker, confessed that he had robbed a finance company office on Nov. 4, then had dyed his hair, on the advice of the attorneys, to avoid detection. Heintz, who is at liberty on $10,000 bond on the robbery charge, was in court yesterday with his wife, Josephine, 27.

Assistant State's Attorney O'Connor indicated the state will present the conspiracy cases to the grand jury before Jan. 13 and dispense with a preliminary hearing.

SOUND SYSTEM IS INSTALLED IN HOUSE CHAMBER

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Assembling congressmen found today that the house chamber had been wired for sound. Two previous attempts have been made to equip the house with amplifiers the first being during the Harding administration. They were abandoned because, as Representative Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.] explained today, many members got the mistaken impression that they were to be used to broadcast the proceedings of the house to the nation. The leaders feared that most of the 435 house members would want to make a speech every day.

Cardinal Mundelein Has Lunch at White House

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago who recently returned from abroad, had lunch at the White House with President Roosevelt today. Later, in his press conference, the President said he had not discussed Latin American affairs with Mundelein.

APPROVE GREEN'S RUNNING MATES IN CITY CAMPAIGN

Chapman for Clerk; Nance for Treasurer.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Running mates for Dwight H. Green on the Republican city ticket were approved yesterday by a group of ward committeemen delegated to the task by the county central committee.

Green, leading candidate for the G. O. P. mayoralty nomination, will have the following as his colleagues on the slate:

For city clerk—John W. Chapman, 4133 North Kedvale avenue, lawyer and former alderman of what is now the 39th ward.

For city treasurer — Clement A. Nance, 6845 Euclid avenue, state central committeeman from the 2d district and an investment broker. Son of a former alderman, Willis O. Nance, the candidate also served in the city council from the 7th ward.

Indorsed by C. O. P.

John W. Chapman. Clement Nance.

Backed by Committeemen.

Ten ward committeemen representing all sections of the city recommended the Chapman and Nance candidacies at a meeting in Green's headquarters in the La Salle hotel, shortly after the rooms had been opened. Ferre C. Watkins, world war hero who will manage Green's campaign, is in charge there.

Temporarily the headquarters are on the eighth floor of the hotel. They will be moved shortly after Jan. 1, when space will be available—probably on the third floor. This occasion is expected to attract a large housewarming crowd but in spite of the informal character of yesterday's openings, about thirty committeemen attended and Green was presented with a fountain pen desk set.

Records of Candidates.

Petitions for the mayoralty candidate already are being circulated. Signatures will be obtained also for Chapman's and Nance's petitions immediately, so all will be ready for filing one week from today.

Chapman, aspirant for the city clerkship, is 44 years old and a graduate of the University of Chicago. He completed his undergraduate work there in 1915 and his law course in 1917, and now is president of the Chicago Alumni club. He served as alderman of the then 40th ward from 1927 to 1929. He is married and the father of five children. His law offices are at 221 North La Salle street.

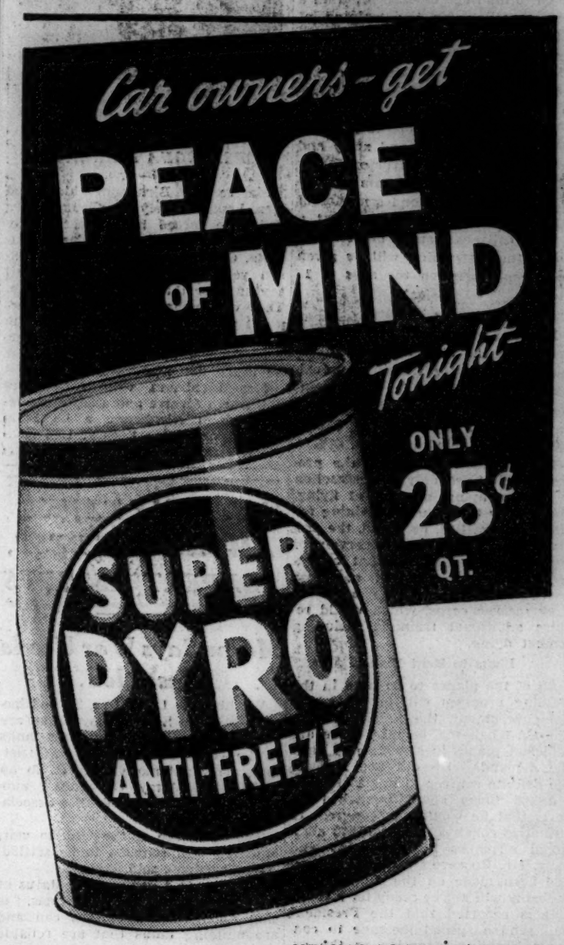

Nance, the committee's choice for treasurer, is 40 years old, and graduated from the University of Illinois in 1921. In 1928 he was elected to the city council from the 7th ward and also to membership on the republican state committee. He retired from the council in 1930, but has been successively reelected to the state committee every two years. He is married and has three children. His father served for eleven years as an alderman and also as a trustee of the sanitary district.

Mayor Kelly was in Washington yesterday to confer with Col. F. C. Harrington, the new Works Progress administrator, about pending Chicago matters. He intends to be in Washington for the opening of congress next Tuesday and in the meantime may go to Florida for a brief rest.

NAZIS OUST JEWS FROM HOMES TO SET UP GHETTOS

Semites Are Banned from 'Aryan Buildings.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—That Jews will be segregated in ghettos in many German cities has become a practical certainty. The Nazi party is causing the eviction from their homes of thousands of Jews.

Within the last few days Jews living in buildings also occupied by Aryans have been informed by their landlords that they must leave after the legal period of notice has expired.

Although German officials have announced repeatedly that anti-Jewish measures would proceed in a lawful manner and have denied that ghettos were being planned for Jews, the eviction measures are taking place without official announcement.

Nazis Get Up Petitions.

Members of the Nazi party are calling upon tenants of apartment houses where Jews live and requiring the Aryan tenants to sign mimeographed forms asking that the Jews be evicted.

The petitions for eviction are based upon a decision of the provincial court in Halle last month that "it is impossible for Aryans to live together with Jews."

Jewish circles declared that the creation of ghettos is the only possibility remaining once the evictions have taken place, since "no Aryan landlord will house a Jew any more and Jews have been forbidden to own houses."

Eviction notices have caused a wave of divorce cases. Jews with Aryan wives hope that "once our wives are rid of us they will no longer be considered as Jews and will be allowed to stay in our homes."

Plan Segregation on Railways.

The segregation of Jews traveling in Germany in specially designed and marked railway compartments as is done with colored persons in southern sections of the United States, was demanded by Das Schwarzes Korps, organ of the Hitler guards.

"This solution has a democratic example," Das Schwarzes Korps said. "In the freest country of the world, where even the President rages against racial discrimination, no citizen of dark color is permitted to travel next to a white person, even if the white is employed as a sewer digger and the Negro is a world boxing champion or otherwise a national hero."

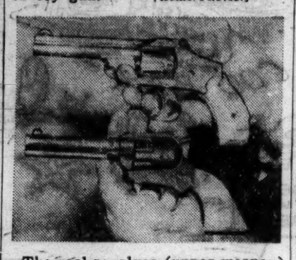

Nazis Banish Ex-Governor from State He Ruled 20 Yrs.

SALZBURG, Germany, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Franz Rehrl was released today and banished from Salzburg province which he had served as governor for twenty years before Reichsfuehrer Hitler annexed Austria to Germany last March. An indictment charging abuse of official power and "accepting presents under previous régimes" was quashed.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Michael I. Deming, 21 months old, was shot and critically wounded by Albert Blankenship, age 29, while they were playing with what the man believed to be a toy gun. The baby had somehow switched his toy gun with an almost identical revolver owned by his father.

JEWS LIVING IN MANCHUKUO GIVE THANKS TO JAPAN

PEKING, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Dispatches from official Japanese sources in Harbin, Manchukuo, reported that a conference of Jewish residents yesterday expressed gratitude to Japan and Manchukuo for opening the latter as a haven for world Jewry. It has been reported unofficially that the Japanese dominated state would admit Jewish refugees.

The Harbin reports said Dr. Abram Kaufmann presided at the meeting, which declared a "resolve to become loyal Manchukuo subjects enjoying racial equality according to the state law and to do our part to cöoperate with Japan's and Manchukuo's efforts to establish a new order in the far east."

200 File Applications for Polling Place Jobs

Approximately 200 persons yesterday filed applications with the board of election commissioners for jobs as polling place officials in the 1939 elections. Five officials, three judges and two clerks, will be appointed for each of the 3,850 precincts under the board's jurisdiction.

DENIALS SHROUD 'PEACE' VISIT OF CHINESE LEADER

Expected in Hongkong for Talk with Japs.

CHUNGKING, China, Dec. 27.—(AP)—A heart illness rather than any official mission to talk peace with Japan was said today by Chinese officials to have caused the departure of Wang Ching-wei, former chief of the Chinese executive yuan.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek at a meeting of West China political leaders yesterday gave this version of Wang's journey, which has aroused intense speculation that he might be initiating peace efforts, either officially or privately. Wang, leader of the so-called peace party, went to Hanoi, French Indo-China, supposedly for treatment.

[Hongkong sources said he was expected there soon. In Shanghai a reliable foreign source reported he would confer with Japanese representatives in Hongkong.]

Denies Any Connection.

Praising Wang's past services, Chiang declared his present journey "has not the slightest connection with the [Chinese] national military council nor the national government.

"As regards anything new concerning the supreme issue of peace or war, the life or death of the country, it is impossible that I personally or a member of the government party should not hear of it beforehand.

"Wang Ching-wei will surely display a spirit of coöperation to share responsibility for surmounting the national crisis."

[Chiang's praise of Wang was seen by these sources as a "face saving" device to enable him to return to Chungking.]

Much Guerrilla Fighting.

Jewish Workers Strike for 'Less Murder' in Palestine

JERUSALEM, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Jews employed in the Jerusalem public works department went on strike today demanding "less murder" of Jewish workers. A Jewish carpenter was killed yesterday and a Jewish truck driver shot and wounded today. In each case the assailant escaped into hiding places of the old city of Jerusalem. The workers demanded that the government take more effective safety measures.

FIGHT OLD WORLD SYSTEMS! HULL WARNS LATINS

Lima Parley Ends; Nations Sign 130 Pacts.

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, warned the American nations tonight that they may have to exert the "utmost vigilance" to resist the spread to this hemisphere of militaristic systems which, he said, threaten to ruin the world.

Hull spoke at a farewell dinner for representatives of the twenty-one nations at the eighth pan-American conference.

Earlier tonight the conference came to a close with a plenary session, at which the delegations signed a final act containing all the 130 resolutions and declarations approved since the meeting opened on Dec. 9. Among these was a declaration of intercontinental solidarity and defense against aggression, which was considered the most important work of the conference.

Cites Bitterness of Nations.

Secretary Hull in his farewell address praised the friendly spirit in which the republics of the western world had carried out their deliberations.

"We know that there has been great bitterness between nations," Hull said. "We know that agreements that appeared to offer the foundation of stability and order have disappeared in the turmoil of events. We know that in much of the world trust in any form of agreement has completely vanished.

"We know that might has stated it would have its way, and that it would recognize no equal except equal might. We know that the ordinary ends of living are being subordinated in the attempt to create vast and terrifying military machines whose first purpose might be to create terror and whose only final use could be to create the ruin of the world we have fixed in our thoughts during this meeting of ours. Such is the world we may have to deal with.

Hits Relationship by Force.

"Our task must be cast in the opposite direction. We choose, instead, to strengthen the bases and principles of peaceful relationship, order and equality among ourselves in the midst of this world. We propose to express our common desire to work together more effectively to resist the spread of these conditions and influences to our continent.

"Relationships dictated by force, or created in the design of self-interest, run along only until the force is broken or abused, or until the self-interest changes. Then they end in disillusion, or worse. We, however, are making a great effort for relationship based on trusting friendship. Such friendships grow slowly. They must be carefully respected and tended in a thousand ways. We are all determined that this must be the basis of our relationship, and that such friendship shall be its ruling bond.

"I have absolute faith that each and every one of the twenty-one American republics will be faithful in this endeavor, and that each and every one will strive to the utmost to carry out the broad and essential program that has here been proclaimed. The utmost degree of vigilance, which only those who love liberty are capable of exerting, may be required."

At tonight's plenary session Dr. Carlos Concha, Peruvian foreign minister and chairman of the conference, told the delegates the meeting had "amply fulfilled expectations." He attributed extraordinary importance to the declaration of inter-American solidarity.

"We can justly boast of having opened up through our efforts a new stage in the progressive evolution of the ideal of American solidarity," he said. "We have not defrauded the confidence of the peoples, we were not indifferent to the voice of geography and history, and we have assured great progress for our American community."

The United States delegates will sail for home from the port of Callao tomorrow aboard the liner Santa Maria.

GERMAN AND ITALIAN REPORTERS AT LIMA PARLEY CREATE SCENE

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 27.—German and Italian newspaper men who have been reporting the eighth pan-American conference today threatened to create an international incident because they were not invited to a cocktail party which President Oscar Benavides of Peru gave to United States and Latin American correspondents this noon. Benavides invited the correspondents of all the American countries to his home on the high headlands overlooking the Pacific ocean. The Germans and Italians demanded that they be invited also. When informed that the entertainment was only for pan-American correspondents, they informed the Peruvian foreign office that they were cabling protests to Berlin and Rome that they were being discriminated against.

7 GENERALS QUIT IN CHILE AS NEW REGIME BEGINS

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Seven generals of the Chilean army retired today at the suggestion of the defense ministry as the new Popular Front government headed by President Pedro Aguirre Cerda organized its administrative machinery.

Among those who resigned was Gen. Oscar Novoa, army commander in chief. Novoa had advised the conservative candidate for president, Gustavo Ross, not to contest the Oct. 25 election because the country was on the verge of revolution. It was expected Novoa would be replaced by Gen. Carlos Fuente, former chief of staf. The resignation of Air General Diego Aracena also was accepted.

The majority of Chilean diplomatic representatives abroad tender their resignations as a matter of routine at the advent of a new adminisration. It was anticipated that most of these would be accepted.

Retiring President Arturo Alessandri petitioned the chamber of deputies for authorization to leave the country. An outgoing president must remain in Chile at least six months unless congress grants special permission.

NAZIS WIPE OUT 8 HOUR DAY; FIX MINIMUM AT 10

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—New regulations adjusting working hours in Germany were announced today. The action in effect, officially abolishes the eight hour day.

The regulations, which will become effective in the new year, provide that, whereas "regular working hours remain at eight hours a day, the minimum is raised to ten hours a day."

The rules only concern what has been practiced for years.

PROUD WORDS:
"I came in on a UNITED MAINLINER!"

There's a definite prestige that goes with traveling in United Air Lines' famous Mainliners—the nation's most luxurious planes, with the service refinements of 125,000,000 miles experience.

Your fellow Mainliner passengers are a distinguished company. They're men whose hours are important . . . who realize that in modern competition, he who travels less than three miles a minute may be left behind.

You needn't be wealthy nor have a fat expense account to enjoy the smartness, luxury and speed of Mainliner travel. Surprisingly economical fares, which include delicious meals aloft, compare well with costs of first-class surface travel.

TO NEW YORK: 3 hrs. 59 min. non-stop. Eight Mainliner flights daily. $44.95. Shortest Route.

TO LOS ANGELES-SAN FRANCISCO-SEATTLE: Take the famous "Continental" Mainliner Sleeper! Ask about low round-trip rates to sunny California.

TO CLEVELAND: Six flights—1⅝ hrs. $18.25.

A LAKE FRONT AIRPORT.

In the four years which have passed since THE TRIBUNE put in its platform for Chicago its plank favoring the establishment of a lake front airport, the world of air transport has moved swiftly to new achievements. Unfortunately this great and much needed public improvement is not yet actually under way, but its situation has changed for the better. There is reason to hope that shortsighted obstruction has lost ground and the merits of the project gained increasing recognition.

The friends of the lake front airport, meanwhile, have taken advantage of aviation advances to enlarge and perfect their plans. The plans drawn in detail in 1933 by the Chicago plan commission and the Chicago aero commission for a 200 acre airport approximately a mile east of the building line on shore at the foot of 16th street now are considered inadequate. A new conception of the lake front field has been demanded by WPA and civil aeronautics authority engineers who are at this time coöperating with a Chicago city commission.

The new conception of the field takes into account the current increase in size of transport and military aircraft and also future increases. From a total area of 200 acres as planned in 1933 the program at this time calls for a 450 acre airport. The 3,500 foot runways contemplated in 1933 are giving way to 5,000 foot runways. The new field must also provide several approaches for absolutely blind landings of passenger air liners by radio beams in fog, snow, or torrential rains—for such landings will be routine within the next five years.

In order to provide these facilities it becomes necessary to move the island farther out into the lake. It may be as far as a mile from the eastern edge of Northerly Island and thus almost two miles from the building line.

All the old objections urged against an airport on the lake front are affected by the suggested changes. First the noise problem: Liners approaching a field almost two miles east of the first populous area can hardly be counted as noise nuisances. The planes would never pass over the loop area, even when landing directly east on the newly projected airport. Instead they would approach along the lake shore—probably after making a circle out over the lake—and turn east at the shore line. This would still give the pilots a mile in which to get straightened out and aligned with the east-west runway.

To those who believed the flying field would be an eyesore on the lake front the engineers say: "It would be almost impossible to see the airport in its projected new location from the shore line. It would be a low island of made land the level of which would be not more than twelve feet above the water line. It would have only one or two low structures upon it—a terminal building and a loading hangar—for the field would be only a terminal, and all the storage, repair, refueling, and maintenance facilities for the air lines would remain at the field at 63d street and Cicero avenue."

Benefits of the lake front field have not changed during recent years except that the harvest promises to be even heavier than was originally believed. The commercial air lines that operate into Chicago believe a downtown terminal from which travelers could reach the business sections within ten or twelve minutes after landing would increase their business here—particularly the short haul business—as much as 1,000 per cent.

They most conservatively estimate that by 1941 their business will increase 100 per cent over its present day volume. Indications are that even though the air lines continue to have occasional crashes this increase will occur. At present the air lines are serving actually only about 5 per cent of their potential market. They think that by 1941 they will be serving 10 per cent.

The military importance of the lake front field also has increased. Chicago is the last big city in the United States to have only one improved airport with all the modern facilities of lights, radio, and paved runways of adequate length. The military aviation authorities are most anxious to see Chicago have another field of the class 1 type—the type considered as adequate for operations of all kinds of airplanes in all kinds of weathers.

There is a bitter irony for those who have at heart the progress of Chicago in this rapidly developing age of air transport in the fact that Chicago's dream of an island airport at the very heart of the city has found favor throughout the world but been thus far rejected here. Toronto, Canada; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; San Francisco, New York, and Washington, as well as the great British base at Singapore have all been inspired by Chicago's idea and adapted their plans to their own conditions.

Chicago is a great world city because it has had vision and the will to achieve. They must not fail her now.

There has been unfortunate delay, but Mayor Kelly's public spirited devotion to this great improvement has not been in vain. Consideration of the project has been renewed at Washington and some coöperation of experts of the civil aeronautics administration and engineers of the WPA has been permitted. New York has been granted $28,000,000 in aid of an airport not as fortunately located as Chicago's could be. The Chicago island airport would be a major improvement not merely for this community but for the nation's system of air transport.

REGULATION AS A HABIT.

The forthcoming session of the Illinois legislature will be asked to pass more laws regulating trucks on the highways of the state. Some of the laws will be intended to promote safety, and to these there can be little objection in principle. Others will seek to extend the authority already assumed by the state to grant trucking monopolies on various routes.

The history of government regulation of transportation in this country presents a curiously illogical record. Railroad regulation was justified in the first place on the assumption that the railroad companies had a monopoly of the hauling business. Competition therefore could not be relied upon to keep railroad rates from becoming extortionate and discriminatory, or so it was believed. The assumption regarding the existence of a monopoly was never wholly true, but at any rate it was substantially correct to say that a given railroad company did have a monopoly of the use of its own tracks and, practically speaking, no one except the company could operate trains on those rails.

Regulation of truck transport cannot be justified on similar reasoning. There is no natural monopoly of the highways. Anybody can use them and everybody does. A dozen or a hundred different trucking fleets can operate between Chicago and Peoria if there is business to warant it. The right of way is not in private ownership and there is no necessity for unified operation to prevent collisions. The whole logical case for regulation of a railroad's monopoly has no relevance to highway transport. The protection of the public from extortionate trucking charges and discriminatory practices can be left to competition.

From being regarded as a regrettable necessity in a narrow field of action, regulation has become a legislative habit. It is an expensive and destructive habit. After fifty years of it the railroad business in this country has been reduced from a prosperous and growing industry to a moribund one, with a third of the mileage of the nation in receivership and much more on the verge of it.

As highway, waterway, and pipeline competition for the railroads developed, the regulation of railroads was not relaxed as it logically should have been, but intensified. The original effort to prevent discrimination and establish maximum rates was followed by the fixing of minimum rates, a procedure which was contrary to the public interest in cheap transportation and destructive to the railroads because it prevented them from meeting the new competition.

Regulation is a dangerous social medicine. It should be employed, if at all, only when the need for it is manifest and no other remedy will serve. There is no rational justification whatever for granting truck monopolies on the highways. The habit of regulation has become so strong that governments, instead of seeking merely to regulate monopolies, now create artificial monopolies in order to excuse regulation. If this habit is persisted in we shall in the end destroy the trucking business as we have already destroyed much of the railroads' business.

PROFIT SHARING BY LAW.

Profit sharing means that a portion of the net results of business is paid to the worker in addition to regular wages. It is an arrangement which has been in effect in some American firms for as much as twenty-five years. Abroad, particularly in France, it has had an even longer history.

A subcommittee of the finance committee of the United States senate, under the sponsorship of Senator Vandenberg and the chairmanship of Senator Herring, has been considering the desirability of offering inducements in the form of tax rebates to make profit sharing general. The subcommittee has distinguished itself by its conduct. Witnesses were not badgered as they have been by a number of the investigating committees in the past. It was made clear from the start that an honest effort was going to be made to get facts and not to obtain publicity for plans which were already drawn up. For this departure from fairly general practice Senator Vandenberg and his associates are to be commended.

The investigation developed that the results have been highly satisfactory for both employers and employés from a number of the plans long in operation. But a succession of witnesses made the point that it would be a grievous mistake to make profit sharing the only variant of industrial relations, which the government would indorse and encourage by threat of a penalty.

Although the tax saved by adopting profit sharing is described as an incentive tax, what it would amount to would be a punitive tax on those who did not comply. In the same sense the motorist has an incentive to obey the law, not being obliged to pay the tax imposed upon those who break it.

We shall return to the incentive tax to induce profit sharing again. Here we are concerned with it purely from the employés' point of view. If profit sharing were forced upon employers under pain of an up in the tax bill some no doubt would seek to comply without cost. That could be done by keeping wages down. Such employers might pay a total wage in good times no more than they would otherwise pay, but a portion of it would be designated as wage and a portion as a share of profit. Comes the depression and no profits and a wage cut, in actuality but not in name, is a simple matter.

The number who would be unaffected by the tax for other reasons is very large. During 1936, a relatively prosperous year, 530,779 corporations did enough business to make an income tax return. But over half of these corporations, or 275,695, operated at a loss.

The general effect of profit sharing with employés, in every kind of industry, would be to make their earnings vary with the business cycle. As it has been, the equity owners in business absorbed the losses of hard times. Many employés went through the depression with slight, if any, reduction of their pay, while profits vanished and dividends were passed. This undiminished flow of pay must have been a sustaining factor in this country's purchasing power during the last eight years.

Finally, for this, we have to consider the effect of profit sharing upon what has been declared to be a national objective, "to fill up the valleys and level off the peaks." A punitive tax to bring about profit sharing would make the pay of the workers of the country possibly more than it would otherwise be in good times, and certainly less than it would otherwise be in bad times. Thus it would make the peaks higher and the valleys deeper.

CORRECTING THE CALENDAR.

So you think that the New Year begins on Jan. 1 and are preparing to celebrate? Well, you may be right, because the calendar says so, but remember that it happens to be a Julian calendar, as reformed in the Gregorian manner, that you are looking at. Since the beginning of the Christian era four other days have had the honor of marking the start of the New Year—Christmas, Easter, March 1, and March 25 [Lady day]. The latter choice prevailed in England until 1752.

* * *

Our own attitude toward this question is quite heathen. We prefer the calendar of Nature and firmly believe that the New Year begins with the winter solstice, popularly known as the shortest day in the year. Dec. 21 is the date of this interesting astronomical event, and the primitive peoples of Europe celebrated it so solemnly that their rites formed the soil upon which our Christmas-New Year's season has grown. The close proximity of these holidays to the winter solstice is not a mere coincidence.

* * *

Seven days ago the northern hemisphere went as far into the darkness as the laws that govern this planet permit, and it is now moving toward the light again. The worst storms of the winter may be before us, but the new cycle of growth has begun. The New Year, with infant feet, is toddling up the heavenly stairs toward the sunshine.

* * *

So on next Dec. 21, if you should happen to see a lone reveler in a cabaret wearing a silly tissue paper hat and tooting blatantly on a tin horn while all the other customers are frowning in indignation, do not regard him as material for a psychopathic clinic. It may be merely the Linemaster celebrating the winter solstice according to the traditions of the Old Stone Men.

PORTRAIT OF A BRIDE.

I found it in mother's album
And instantly, Granny dear,
I knew it was you, in the dress you wore
When you met him there
At the foot of the stair,
A lovely bride;
And you walked at his side,
In that mystical, far-off year.

Your face is so wrinkled, Granny,
And your hair is so white and thin;
But there's something rare in the glint of your smile,
And you wore it there
At the foot of the stair,
A lovely bride;
And a winsome pride
To the way that you hold your head the while,
And a delicate tilt to your chin.

Tell me about him, Granny.
Was he tall, and handsome, and true?
Did your heart leap high at the touch of his hand,
When you met him there
At the foot of the stair,
His lovely bride;
And walked at his side,
The happiest lovers in all the land,
My grandsire, darling, and you?

The Class in Etymology.

I rise to observe that the Irish word for Christmas is Nodlag. The "d" is elided in the spoken language, and the word is pronounced Nullag. It is not a loan word from any other language, but is the original name given by the Celts of western Europe to the festival observance of the winter solstice, of which Noël is an attenuated form. In Praise of Street Cars.

The subway may some day replace the "El," but Chicago's surface lines will go on forever. . . . Lonely old red street car, rocking your way at night through the slums and across chilly stretches of weedy prairie, taking on and depositing passengers at corner drug stores every few blocks along the outer fringes of the city, your bumpy tracks are the capillaries of Chicago's bloodstream, keeping up the flow of humanity in all corners of her sprawling 200 square miles. For the plain people you are the principal means of contact with their fellow men. Otherwise, who knows but that the various scattered foreign neighborhoods, isolated by the absence of seven cent transportation, might start clamoring for autonomous governments patterned after those of "the old country." A GUIDE TO EATING.

SOME of these days I expect to see on the front page an account of a violent assault. The attacker will be a man—suffering from indigestion—who has been told by his physician for about the 172d time, "Be careful of your diet. Do not use greasy or acid foods and avoid sweets, red meats, pastries, and starches." And then—as an afterthought, "Now remember, no cauliflower, beans, or peas."

The story may read: "Mr. X, the aggressor, stated that he had been consulting the victim for some months and that at each visit the doctor had repeated to him the same list of forbidden foods. This time,' he continued, 'everything went black and I have no recollection of striking the physician.' Fortunately, no serious damage was inflicted and Mr. X agreed to supply the medical man with a pair of new glasses."

Well! No wonder. Scarcely anything remains that is fit to eat. The patient was left dangling between Scylla and Charybdis because of careless and useless advice. Every physician should be a teacher—one who can in simple terms instruct his clients just what to do. True enough there are numerous books on diet and a few are excellent but far too many are the products of one sort of faddism or another and their perusal may lead to nothing but confusion.

There are only a few principles of dietetics that need to be kept in mind. First, how much nourishment is necessary? This must be determined by weight, personal habits, and the amount of activity. A 200 pound man will obviously require more than a 100 pound woman. Again, the one who takes little exercise demands far less than he who is engaged in vigorous labor for several hours daily.

Having determined the quantity we may turn our attention to the quality and the balance of the natural ingredients. Seldom will one find in a reducing program a proper proportion of edibles and not rarely a meat free or fat free plan will be akin to starvation because of missing components. If there is not enough protein the person cannot replace his daily loss of nitrogen and the result is weakness and possibly anemia. If the carbohydrate intake falls too low, if there is insufficient fat, the gall bladder may fail to empty and the essential rôle of bile in the digestive tract may be lost.

The average adult requires from 60 to 80 grams of protein and if he does not eat meat he must make up the quota through the use of eggs, cheese, nuts, milk, beans, and peas. But meat may do far less damage to the arteries of the body than an oversupply of cholesterol which is obtained from egg yolk. Both vitamins and minerals may be lacking. This is particularly true during the winter season and vitamin concentrates may, therefore, be necessary.

There is no sound reason, unless constipation is a prominent symptom, why we should consume large portions of indigestible material. Most vegetable fibers pass through the intestinal tract unchanged and we may regard leafy vegetables, the hulls of grains, and the skin of fruits as useless. Well cooked, a modest quota is harmless but within the alimentary tract too much may actually interfere with absorption.

Another factor which must be considered is that meals should not be too bulky. If they are excessive, dilatation of the stomach ensues and after a time there is far less muscular response. For digestion's sake we must encourage normal contractions of the gastric pouch and the whole matter may be aided materially by small and more frequent meals. In fact, there is a good scientific basis for four meals instead of three, with a total that is adequate but not immoderate.

Yes, we must cultivate a sane viewpoint in relation to diet. More food than can be managed is merely a burden. We could cut our digestive disorders in half with just a little more intelligent attention to our requirements.

GENERAL HEALTH IS KEY.

L. W. writes: For the last three or four years I have suffered with cold feet and legs which I presume is due to poor circulation. I am also conscious of a decided purplish blotched condition of the flesh which is very noticeable through silk hosiery. After rubbing vigorously for a few minutes the skin resumes its normal shade. Shortly thereafter it is again blotchy. I am 27 years old.

REPLY.

The desirable thing in your case is to build your general health to a high plane. Good nutrition is needed, particularly a generous supply of vitamins, including B. Brewer's yeast may be used for this purpose. Both A and C must be taken. It is possible also that you are sensitive to cold and may require warmer clothing.

EFFECT OF LEAD POISONING.

A. P. writes: I am a solderer in a factory and am interested in the subject of lead poisoning. What part of the body is affected in this disease? Do you think I am protected by the use of a blower and a mask?

REPLY.

Lead poisoning may affect the nerves, the blood forming organs, the kidneys, and the blood vessels. The chances are that you are in no danger. It may be wise, however, to have an occasional blood test. Drinking milk—which supplies calcium—will drive the lead out of the tissues into the bones where it can be stored.

LAXATIVES AND APPENDICITIS.

J. E. writes: A friend and I have a difference of opinion. I say that a dose of laxative or castor oil may prove fatal in appendicitis; she says that castor oil is given before an appendectomy.

REPLY.

Neither a cathartic nor a laxative of any sort should be given if appendicitis is suspected. The best way to rupture an abscess about the appendix is to stimulate the intestinal tube to contract. But why risk such a catastrophe? In a single year the slogan, "No laxatives in appendicitis," saves hundreds of lives.

EYE SPECIALIST NEEDED.

R. S. writes: My young brother has had conjunctivitis for several months. What is the cause of this disease? Is there a cure?

REPLY

Lowered general resistance may permit an infection to persist. Allergic conditions [hay fever, etc.] may be responsible. Eyestrain, improper lenses, exposure to dust, and rubbing the eyes may be factors. Removal of the cause and treatment of the infection usually result in a cure. A skilled eye specialist can help.

A NOTE OF APPRECIATION.

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 25.—This is a note of appreciation for the Christmas edition of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE; the first page was devoted to the Christmas story and other matter pertaining to Christmas.

In spite of all the selfishness and turmoil that disturb us, there is a strong undercurrent of right, the full power of which we underestimate. History shows that persecution of righteous movements makes them stronger. The new strength, however, does not come of itself; it is brought about by the aroused actions of its defenders.

Your Christmas TRIBUNE fits in with movement for the revival of Christmas direction of world affairs that is becoming stronger every day, although we may fail to perceive now which events are significant. F. R. WATSON.

A BRIGHT START.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—It was certainly a pleasure to read your greeting, "Good Morning, Every One," in your headline Christmas morning instead of "Advancement of Army Troops Abroad," "Who Killed Who Over Here," or "Celebrated So and So Speaks on This and That."

It gave me a bright start for Christmas day. RICHARD CROSLEY.

PUBLICITY FOR THE CHURCHES.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—As a minister of the gospel I desire to express my sincere appreciation to THE TRIBUNE for the liberal publicity and the encouragement given thereby to the many churches in behalf of their Christmas services.

Speaking in London some time ago, the English statesman, Lloyd George, declared: "The nations are showing their teeth to each other. At any moment a mistaken gesture may make them spring at each other's throats. I am beginning to lose faith in conferences. But when mankind is apt to stray into self-indulgence, then there is only one thing that can bring them back—that is the preaching of the gospel. There is nothing that will save the world but what was once called the 'foolishness of preaching.' If the churches fail, I do not know what is going to happen."

HENRY BLANKE,
Pastor, St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

WHEAT IN THE COFFEE.

New York, Dec. 22.—The nation is struggling presently to dispose of an overbountiful wheat crop. You already know of the various schemes the government is sponsoring to encourage the exportation of wheat. Comparatively little is being done, however, to expand domestic consumption.

I suggest the department of agriculture arrange for legislation which will oblige the mixture of 5 per cent of roasted wheat with all the coffee consumed in the United States. This is a practicable scheme. Already there are a number of coffee substitutes marketed here which are manufactured of roasted cereals. Consequently I can see no objection to the admixture of roasted wheat with coffee.

In the nine months ending Sept. 30, 1938, according to official statistics, the United States imported 1,477,962,000 pounds of coffee. If importations continue at the same rate for the balance of the year, we will import 1,844,952,500 pounds of coffee in 1938. If 5 per cent of roasted wheat were to be mixed with that amount of coffee, a new use for 92,247,825 pounds of wheat annually would be developed. Assuredly an outlet for such an enormous quantity of wheat will be highly desirable.

FOR A CLEANER CITY.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—Having lived in Chicago fifty-seven years, through many changes of administration in both city and ward, I rise to state at this time that I have never seen the city so dirty as now. The sidewalks, gutters, and vacant lots are littered with papers and swirling with dust. There are tin cans, whisky bottles, cigaret cartons, and endless messiness everywhere. Every morning my own fenced-in premises must be cleared of offensive litter, either blown in or thrown in over night.

Have we no ordinances to prevent such wholesale disregard of public cleanliness? Or is there no effort made to enforce them? Or, if we must allow stupid people to throw their waste papers broadcast, how about letting the thousands of persons who are living off the taxpayers do something to keep the city clean?

We are becoming a bad joke to other cities which are better housekeepers.

The politicians may not know it, but to the women of Chicago this is going to be the first and most vital issue in the next mayoralty election.

GRACE S. HERON.

RESPONSIBILITIES AT HOME.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—It seems to me that if those who went to Spain to fight had been real Americans they would never have gone. They could have aided the great cause of democracy more by remaining here and fighting to really make our country strong, both morally and physically. Then we could really have done something to aid Spain. We, here in this country, have our own problems, which, in my opinion, should be more important to real Americans than those of nations over there. How about our: [1] dirty politics; [2] labor troubles; [3] business problems; [4] flood control; [5] unemployment, and the many other problems too numerous to mention? Aren't these more important to America than saving Spain? WM. BECKER JR.

WELL REMEMBERED WAFFLES.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—A few weeks ago I read in your column a request for the old time crispy waffle with the powdered sugar—such as the man used to sell on the streets from his wagon. I, too, have been looking for such a waffle. If you have the recipe will you please send it to me? I have tried all over, but my efforts have been in vain.

JUDGMENT NOTE.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A signs judgment note to B dated August, 1921.

1. Is this note outlawed if A never paid on note?

2. B died. Can this note be collected by other parties if never transferred to them by B before his death?

3. B is a resident of Missouri. Would this change status of note? M. W.

1. The limitation period is ten years from the maturity date, hence the answer depends on how long the note ran from 1921.

2. Yes, by probate proceedings, if the statute of limitations has not run.

3. No, but it leads us to suspect that additional facts might be involved such that Missouri law might apply. If you desire further advice, please tell us where the note was drawn, where the suit would be brought, and give us the wording of the note.

FAMILY EXPENSES.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Will you advise me if it is possible for a woman with a good position to separate from her husband [no divorce] and [1] not be held responsible for any debts he might contract after the separation?

2. If so, will you advise what steps she should take so that she will not be held responsible for his debts after separation? She is an employé of the government, civil service status. J. E.

1. Under Illinois statute both spouses are liable for family expenses, but this would not apply as to debts arising after separation. The wife would be liable to such creditors only on proof that she had authorized the husband to act as her agent or held him out as having such authority and failed to give notice of the revocation of the authority.

DEPORT ALL REDS TO RUSSIA, ASKS DETROIT U. HEAD

Father Siedenburg Blasts Soviet Tyranny.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Deportation of all alien communists to Russia was advocated yesterday by the Rev. Frederic Siedenburg, S. J., head of the University of Detroit, speaking before 250 Catholic sociologists of the country in the Morrison hotel. They are members of the American Catholic Sociological society, meeting under auspices of Loyal university.

"The soviet union is literally a gigantic prison," said Father Siedenburg in telling of his recent visit to Russia. "The Russians of the czars were far from free, but they could leave the country if they desired. The soviet Russian cannot get a passport. The American on relief has a higher income than the soviet worker and is free to come and go as he pleases."

Assails Soviet Tyranny.

Father Siedenburg declared that the supreme disgrace of the soviet union is its tyranny. Greater inequalities of opportunities are found there, he said, than in other countries, despite the communists' plea that their theories level off opportunities.

"The rank and file of Russians live on less than 200 rubles, or the equivalent of $18 a month, while the chosen few live lavishly on from 1,000 to 20,000 rubles a month," Father Siedenburg explained. "This diversity of wages inevitably creates different classes, and especially elevates the burocracy of highly paid government officials. The people at large live in wretched conditions, short of food and clothing, and devoid of all luxury, although their country has natural resources which excel those of the United States."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Luigi Ligutti, director of the homestead project of Granger, Ia., told the sociologists that the back to the farm movement is not so simple is it sounds, and will fail because it generally assumes that no special preparation is needed for entering that type of life.

Urges Gardens for Reliefers.

Msgr. Ligutti, who has become internationally known for his Iowa experiment, advocated that every family on relief should be compelled to maintain a subsistence garden. Such gardens in Iowa last year, he said, returned $422,250, or a net return of $100 an acre. Msgr. Ligutti distinguished between commercial farming and agrarian farming, explaining that the latter looks to home consumption of produce.

"The [agrarian] farmers who farm for a living and make farming a mode of life will seldom, if ever, be a problem to themselves or to the body politic," he said. "But the farmer who farms mainly or solely for an international market always will present the real problem."

'AMNESIA VICTIM FOUND CARRYING $5,000 CURRENCY

A well dressed man, believed to be Alexander A. Milne, retired manager of the St. Paul, Minn., branch of the Heinz pickle company, was found yesterday in the Illinois Central station, suffering from amnesia. He was taken to the Psycopathic hospital by the Traveler's Aid society.

A brother, Robert, who lives in Highland Park, Mich., a Detroit suburb, told police he was sure the amnesia victim was his brother. Robert Milne will arrive today to take him home.

A. A. Milne, is 75 years old. A month ago he left Detroit to visit in St. Paul and Hollywood, Cal., where his wife is living. His brother said Milne was carrying between $7,000 and $8,000 incurrency and $5,000 in traveler's checks. The amnesia victim had the checks and $5,000. Robert Milne said he was concerned because his brother was overdue on his return trip.

'AMNESIA VICTIM IDENTIFIES SELF; REGAINS MEMORY

An amnesia victim who had impressed detectives with his show of medical learning, recovered his memory in the Psychopathic hospital yesterday and recalled that he had had only two years of study, at the Fenger High school.

He is Orvin V. Campbell, 27 years old, of 524 West 111th street. Previously he had told police he was a medical school graduate.

Dr. James J. Madden, said Campbell was suffering from hysterical amnesia, a condition brought on by worry or overwork. According to Albert Campbell, a brother, Orvin was depressed over a recent loss of job and subsquent separation from his bride of five months, Mrs. Alida Campbell, a nurse. They had lived at 1022 East 62d street. Campbell said he could remember nothing since walking near his home Monday night.

CHRISTMAS DAY DRINKS COST A MOTORIST $100

He was just delivering Christmas presents and was not drunk at all, Daniel Zielinski told Judge Stephen Adamowski in the Safety court yesterday. Zielinski, who lives at 5001 George street, was arrested on Christmast day and charged with driving while intoxicated.

"Maybe it just sneaked up on you," said Judge Adamowski, fining him $100 and ordering him not to drive for six months.

For driving a truck while intoxicated and hitting two parked cars, Gatlay Jones, colored, of 4931 Prairie avenue, was sentenced to jail for 10 days and ordered not to drive for 90 days.

SCIENCE LOOKS WITH HOPE ON A DARK WORLD

5,000 Savants Hear of Progress.

Politics Versus Science.

Prof. J. J. Davis of the department of entomology, Purdue university, said that in the applied science of entomology, only 70 years old, man is gaining the upper hand in insect control, and this in time will be reduced to a routine. At the same time he emphasized the need of continuous research. He spoke of political activity and its effect on future insect control.

"It is to be hoped," he said, "that those who direct the policies of the United States and Canada may ever keep in mind the fact that any progressive science demands a free field for its activities and that we may never come to the point of demanding predetermined results or restricting unbiased scientific activity in any way, thus jeopardizing the future of the world democracy."

As to this country, he said there recently has developed an insect control procedure "which we believe has done more to interfere with initiative and to tear down the standards of entomology than anything else.

"We refer definitly to federal appropriations amounting to millions of dollars to assist farmers in the control of such insects as the chinch bug and the grasshopper. We grant there are areas where federal aid was needed, but the lavish use of funds for such work resulted in a demoralization of farmer morale."

Driver Held on $10,000 Bond After Hit-Run Death

Paul Jenin, 19 years old, Lansing, Mich., was charged with manslaughter yesterday and held on a $10,000 bond after the inquest into the death of William Frieberg, 66, of 2338 Olive street, was continued until Jan. 11. Police said Frieberg was killed by Jenin's automobile in Blue Island on Christmas. The car did not stop.

WINDSHIELD FOG BLINDS DRIVER; HE DIES IN CRASH

It was cold driving and Klementy Trepashko, 51 years old, wanted to get home quickly after he left his grocery at 2657 West 15th place in a delivery truck last night. His radiator became overheated and steam covered the windshield and interfered with his vision. He did not stop, however. In front of 3311 Ogden avenue he crashed into the front of an eastbound street car. He died soon afterward in the Mount Sinai hospital. He lived at 1858 South 50th court, Cicero.

A University of Illinois student and three Hyde Park high school pupils returning from a formal dance at the Sovereign hotel, 6200 Kenmore avenue were injured last night at Belden avenue and Lake Shore drive when the right front tire of their automobile blew out and the car crashed into a concrete light post. The right side of the automobile was sheared off.

William Hoff, 19 years old, 7008 South Clyde avenue, was driving the car. With him were Miss Ann Leiberman, 15 years old, 5448 Cornell avenue; Marilyn Goehler, 15, of 7747 South Kingston avenue, and Eleanor Dekker, 15, of 6351 Blackstone avenue, all high school girls. Miss Leiberman, who suffered broken ribs and deep cuts, was the most seriously hurt. All were taken to Columbus hospital.

George Born, 28, of Naperville, died yesterday in the Danish-American hospital of injuries incurred Friday when he was struck by a hit and run automobile at North and Kildare avenues.

Leo Lies, 36 years old, of 1244 South Springfield avenue, the victim of a hit and run driver, died yesterday in the Lorette hospital. He was struck in the 5000 block of Roosevelt road last Friday.

Walter Steffens, 48, of 2548 North Kedzie avenue, died in the Marine hospital of injuries incurred on Dec. 17 when he was struck in the 2500 block of Lincoln avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 889 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 682 were killed in Chicago, where 20,351 were injured in that period.

ZONA GALE DIES OF PNEUMONIA; NOTED NOVELIST

Known for Stories About Small Town Life.

Mrs. Zona Gale Breese, novelist, playwright, and essayist, noted for her portrayal of central western small town life, died of pneumonia last night in the Passavant hospital. She was 65 years old.

Zona Gale.

Mrs. Breese was brought to Chicago from her home in Portage, Wis., for treatment of another ailment and was taken to Passavant hospital when pneumonia developed. She had been in an oxygen tent since last Wednesday. Her husband, W. L. Breese, a Portage manufacturer, was at her bedside.

Author of "Lulu Bett."

Mrs. Breese, who wrote under her maiden name, was best known for her novel, "Miss Lulu Bett," which won the Pulitzer prize in 1921 when it was dramatized.

Mrs. Breese was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1895 and won the degree of Master of Literature four years later. She wrote and bound her first book of fiction and verse when she was 7. Between 1895 and 1904 she scribbled steadily without acceptances, earning her living by newspaper work. Her first book, "Romance Island," was published in 1906.

Since that time she had written more than twenty-five novels, plays, books of essays, verse, and short stories. Her best known works include "Friendship Village Love Stories," [1909]; "Birth," [1918]; "Faint Perfume," [1923]; "Preface to a Life," [1926]; "Yellow Gentians and Blue," [1927]; and "Papa La Fleur," [1933]. Her latest book, published last July, was "Frank Miller of Mission Inn," and represented her first venture into biography. She was a frequent contributor to magazines.

Member of University Board.

In addition to her writings Miss Gale found time for lectures and speeches. She was an ardent campaigner for the La Follettes in her home state. She was a member of the Wisconsin university board of regents from 1923-'29 and had been a member of the Wisconsin free library commission since 1923.

Miss Gale was married in 1929 to Mr. Breese, a friend of her childhood. In Portage she was known as "the good lady" in the poorer parts of town and as Portage's "first citizen" to every one. One of her favorite pastimes was giving parties for the town's underprivileged children and letting them dress up in her Paris gowns to stage miniature style shows. Her love for the small town is best expressed in her own words. She once said:

"The small town today is a place where one can find plenty of leisure, where people talk about their gardens, where children have a place in the home, where members of the family come into intimate contact with each other, and where there is not that air of breathlessness that plants one impression on top of another so fast that all are lost."

Funeral services for Mrs. Breese will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow in her home in Portage. The services will be conducted by Dr. Glenn Frank, national chairman of the Republican party's program committee, and by Dr. John Van Eman Berger, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Portage. Dr. Frank was a close friend of Mrs. Breese.

S. CLAUS LOSES COURT DECISION BY A WHISKER

Street corner Santa Clauses were warned by Judge Francis Borrelli yesterday that their smiles should be as genuine as their whiskers are false. He fined Santa Claus James Hogan of 811 South State street $100 for swinging his bell at one boy and hitting another.

Santa Claus explained that the boy he tried to hit had just snapped the elastic that held his whiskers up. Even a Santa with a heart of gold and reindeer that filled their own Christmas stockings, he said, would have been irked. But the judge said Santa Clauses should have extra extra good dispositions because children think they're so kindly, and fined him anyway.

WOMAN, 73, AND HUSBAND, 75, DIE ON THE SAME DAY

The death of Mrs. Catherine O'Connell Lawler in Little Company of Mary hospital yesterday was followed within a few hours by the death of her husband, Thomas Sylvester Lawler, a patient in the same hospital. The Lawlers, who had been ill for several months, lived at 5926 South Sangamon street. She was 73; he, 75. Mr. Lawler, a former employé of an oil company, had been retired for many years. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday from the chapel at 712 West 31st street to Our Lady of Solace church. Burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

LUCAS PROPOSES COMMUNITY PAY MORE FOR RELIEF

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Senator-elect Scott Lucas [D., Ill.] said today he believed communities should bear a large part of relief costs and warned that the government could not continue spending more than it could raise from taxes. "The crisis of 1933 is over," said Lucas, "communities as a whole are much better off than in 1933. While we have been increasing the national debt, the debt of states, municipalities, and private debts have been reduced." Lucas has moved into the offices formerly occupied by Senator William H. Dieterich [D., Ill.] who did not seek reëlection.

WILD BOAR RUNS HUNTERS UP TREE; ARROW KILLS IT

Tellico Plains, Tenn., Dec. 27.—(AP)—A wild boar weighing 370 pounds, enraged by a party of hunters equipped with bows and arrows, chased the group up trees four times today before it was killed by an archer in the Cherokee national forest.

E. VANDERVELDE, HEAD OF BELGIAN SOCIALISTS, DIES

BRUSSELS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Emile Vandervelde, veteran leader of the Belgian Labor party and one time head of the Second [Socialist] Internationale, died today. He was 72 years old.

He served in many Belgian cabinets and was known as the "mother-in-law" of cabinets, because of his influence. He visited the United States in 1914 to put Belgium's "atrocity" case before President Wilson. He represented Belgium at both the Versailles and Locarno conferences, signing the world war peace treaty.

As minister of justice in 1918 Vandervelde introduced a system of semi-prohibition in Belgium restricting the sale of spirits in cafés and saloons. He was foreign minister in 1926, and until January, 1937, was vice premier and minister of hygiene. He was known as an orator, journalist, author, lecturer, and philosopher. He claimed to be a "Marxist and internationalist without ceasing to be a Belgian." Political observers believed that with Vandervelde's death the Belgian Labor party would be changed to more conservative lines.

WILLIAM ARTHUR, RETIRED CHICAGO ATTORNEY, DIES

William H. Arthur, for many years a Chicago attorney, will be buried today in Orlando, Fla., where he died Christmas night, Chicago friends were informed yesterday. Mr. Arthur, who had been living in Florida since he retired in 1937 from the firm of Isham, Lincoln, and Beale, would have been 70 years old yesterday.

He was born in Dublin, Ireland, and was brought to Chicago when he was 9 years old. He was educated in the public schools and at Lake Forest university.

Mr. Arthur was appointed assistant to Corporation Counsel William G. Beale in 1895 and served in that capacity until 1902. In 1905 he was engaged as special counsel for the city to revise the municipal code.

In 1906 he was nominated by the Democrats for judge of the Municipal court. In 1909 he was the Democratic nominee for judge of the Circuit court.

Mr. Arthur's widow, Edith, survives. He had no children.

JAMES SEXTON, BRITISH LABOR LEADER, IS DEAD

LONDON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Sir James Sexton, veteran British labor leader, died today in his Liverpool home. He was 82 years old.

Once general secretary of the National Union of Dock Laborers and president of the Trades Union congress, Sir James was knighted in 1931. At the age of 13 he went to sea as a stowaway and was shanghaied in San Francisco. He was a member of the crew that made a perilous journey from Egypt to Britain with the huge obelisk, "Cleopatra's Needle," aboard their ship.

As a poet Sir James wrote under the name of "Tatters." After being knighted he told an interviewer to "cut out the 'sir'. I am still Jimmy Sexton who worked as a dock laborer, glad to draw his fifteen bob a week."

Tracing the Title.

A firm of attorneys requested that a title be furnished in a legal transaction involving a parcel of land in Louisiana. A New Orleans lawyer who had been retained to check the title rendered an opinion tracing the title back to 1803. When the Chicago law firm replied that the title prior to 1803 was not satisfactorily covered, the New Orleans lawyer replied:

Please be advised that in the year 1803 the United States of America acquired the territory of Louisiana from the republic of France by purchase; the republic of France had in turn acquired title from the Spanish crown by conquest; the Spanish crown having originally acquired title by virtue of the discoveries of one Christopher Columbus, a Genoese sailor who had been duly authorized to embark upon his voyage of discovery by Isabella, queen of Spain; Isabella, before granting such authority, had obtained the sanction of his holiness, the pope; the pope is the vicar on earth of Jesus Christ; Jesus Christ is the son and heir apparent of God; God made Louisiana.

Strategist.

Mrs. James Waller Rogers told her children on Christmas eve that it was time to hang up their stockings. When she saw her young son sitting down to peel off one he was wearing she remonstrated and explained that he must hang up a clean stocking for Santa.

"O, mother, you wouldn't be so mean when he has been wearing that one all day just to stretch it," interrupted her young daughter.

Little Exercise Each Day Keeps Waistline Slim

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

The truest thing you can tell yourself of a New Year morning is that a little exercise per day will keep the waist "tires" away, and we don't mean tired waists, either. We mean those balloon-like inflations that ruin the heart and soul of the dress shopper—yea, and wearer.

A little exercise per day would save you that April discouragement when you're visualizing yourself in the new spring costume. There wouldn't be any big balloon tires or little balloon tires. Suppose you are thickish now around the waist, abdomen, diaphragm.

As we have stated before, we are not in favor of the complicated exercise program, especially for the older woman. She won't stick to it, unless she is of more heroic proportions than it has been our luck to meet. She gets too muscle-sore and discouraged in the beginning. A week of it finishes her off with the resigned statement that they'll have to take her "as is" or leave her. A bad psychological state for a woman getting on in years, you know. This usually marks the beginning of the end of the lovely darling Ed or Jack or Joe married some 12, 15, 20 years ago.

Mask and Wig Club Will Be in Town Tonight

BY JUDITH CASS.

YESTERDAY it was Princeton's Triangle club that enjoyed a whirl of parties in Chicago, both before and after its performance in the Civic Opera house. Today the University of Pennsylvania's Mask and Wig club will swell the ranks of extra men at a debutante party. The club will present its 1938 show, "All Around the Town," tonight, also in the Civic Opera house.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Behrens have invited the troupers to the debut tea-dance they are giving for their daughter, Miss Barbara Behrens, this afternoon at the Fortnightly. Miss Virginia Ballard and Miss Natalie De Clerque, classmates of Miss Behrens at Pine Manor; Miss Jane Allen, Miss Ruth Rockwood, Miss Charlotte Shafer, Miss Ruth and Miss Sylvia West, Miss Sara Peace, Miss Ann Harrington, Miss Elizabeth Stover, Miss Adele Taylor, and Miss Ann Elizabeth Hall have been asked to assist Miss Behrens.

Following the tea the assistants and their escorts will have dinner at the Behrens' apartment, and then go on to the Mask and Wig show.

Horace E. Newcomet is chairman of the University of Pennsylvania alumni committee which has made arrangements for the performance here, and for a supper-dance following at the Palmer House at which the Mask and Wiggers will be especial guests. Another alumni event today is a luncheon at the Union League club at which George Munger, head football coach, and Rae Crouther, line coach; Dr. William E. Lingelbach and Dr. Edward P. Cheney of the history department will be the especial guests.

Dinner Parties to Precede Show.

Among the dinner and Mask and Wig parties planned is one Mrs. William Kurtz is giving at the Electric club for debutante Virginia Ballard. Those who have taken boxes for the performance include John Dern, president of the alumni club; the Albert R. Brunkers, the John T. Montgomerys, the junior Lucius A. Andrews, the Bruce MacLeishes, the Arnold D. K. Masons, Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson, and the William W. Haerthers.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mechem and her sisters, Miss Margaret Thompson and Mrs. Le Baron Turner, are giving a dinner-dance at the Blackstone hotel tonight for the Mechems' debutante daughter, Miss Barbara Mechem, whose formal introduction took place at a tea at home in the fall. The four hosts have invited a few of Miss Mechem's post-deb friends to the dinner, and have invited some of their own contemporaries for dancing later.

Mrs. Fielding L. Marshall is entertaining at luncheon at the Arts club today for her debutante granddaughter, Miss Jane Allen.

Mrs. King to Give Party for Daughter.

Mrs. John Andrews King is giving a luncheon at the Casino today for her sub debutante daughter, Blissy, who is at home from Foxcroft. Mrs. King will take young guests afterwards to a matinée performance of the Ballet Russe. Mrs. King's sister, Miss Sarah Hinde, is entertaining similarly for their nieces, Elizabeth and Mary De Long.

Mrs. Mark W. Cresap is entertaining at the ballet for her grandchildren, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Comly of New York, who are here for the holidays.

Mrs. George R. Nichols has invited a few of her friends and some of the Yale classmates of her elder son, Frank B. Nichols, to a cocktail party this afternoon to meet Mr. Nichols' fiancée, Miss Kathryn Anderson.

Mrs. Dawes Gives Party for Granddaughter Today.

Mrs. Charles G. Dawes is giving a tea this afternoon in her home in Evanston for her granddaughter, Caroline Ericson. Miss Ericson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ericson of Libertyville.

Mrs. Grover Winston and her daughter, Miss Diana, have invited their friends to gather round a wassail bowl this afternoon in their apartment at the Seneca hotel. Miss Winston, who attends the University of Chicago, will live on the campus next quarter.

Another Miss Winston who will give a party this afternoon is Miss Virginia Winston, who is entertaining at cocktails at home in Evanston for Miss Edith Olivia Little, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Little.

Albert S. Gardner is giving a party tonight for his subdeb daughter, Carol. The party will be at the Lake Shore Athletic club, which is giving its annual junior dance tonight.

Melita Seipp Given Party

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Melita Uihlein Seipp of Middleburg, Va., for whom her uncle and aunt and cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp and Edwin Seipp Jr., entertained at tea and dancing yesterday at the Casino.

Triangle Club Adds to Gayety of Debutantes

Two gay parties, a tea-dance and a ball, were on the program yesterday for the Princeton Triangle club members who gave their annual performance last night at the Civic Opera house. The tea-dance was given at the Casino by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp and Edwin Seipp Jr. for their niece and cousin, Miss Melita Uihlein Seipp of Middleburg, Va.

Miss Seipp, who made her debut at a dance at home last fall, will be here with her father, William Seipp, and Mrs. Seipp, until after the first of the year.

Most of the large group that danced in Christmas-y surroundings at the Casino met again late last night in the Crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel, where Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Peace gave a ball for their debutante, Miss Sara Peace. All traces of Christmas had vanished from the ballroom, which was decorated with raggedy gold chrysanthemums.

The debutante wore a gown of gold satin made with puffed sleeves and a little train. Her mother was in gold and blue lamé. Supper was served continuously in the Art hall, and early in the morning the milk bar did a rushing business. The Trianglers, as usual, took turns performing with both orchestras.

Miss Peace went to the Triangle show after attending a dinner the William J. Stensons gave for their debutante daughter, Miss Katherine Stenson. Miss Peace left before the performance was over to change for the ball.

The golden anniversary production of the Triangle club, "Once Over Lightly," is concerned with the ownership of Manhattan Island. After depicting the purchase of New York from the Indians, the action jumps ahead 300 years to the rediscovery of the original deed to the island. One, however, wants to pay all the delinquent taxes. The show was one of the best of the long Triangle series.

Rhea Seeger Will Speak at Kiwanis Daughters' Day

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Midseason clothes are tempting bait to lure the clothes collector to town. Streamlined dresses and suits, especially designed to wear under fur coats and fur trimmed cloth coats, are vividly alive with color and color combine. The new tobacco gold slides under all dark contrast colors with outstanding success. This golden tone is good with brown and black, navy or cypress green, and very unusual with wine red or maroon. The shade will flatter practically every personality.

Soft thin woolens for the chilly shoppers and thick, luxurious dull silk crêpes, jerseys, and gleaming satin are materials in this new color that are available in ready to wear models and plentiful in the yardage sections.

Sleekly tailored one piece outfits or snappy two piece affairs that look like exceptionally smart young suits are extremely good finds for an extra ensemble to rejuvenate an otherwise dejected winter wardrobe.

Next to the gold dresses come the exciting stripes in tie silk material. The stripes are tremendously effective as under-contrast and fashion slim afternoon dresses as well as smart tailored creations to wear under cloth coats of the reefer type.

Silk serge is scheduled for a prominent place in grand street shades for two piece suits. This sturdy and distinctive silk makes ideal two piece suits for fur coat wear now and to be worn late in the spring with furs.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Controversy.

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 27.—"Dear Ed: In your column on the 21st instant you printed something which cut me to the quick. 'True enough, you wrote, 'the æsthetic-visaged Earl Carroll has no Eddie Cantor or Charlotte Greenwood, but he has a line of girls that are prettier than Cantor; and these pretty girls will exhibit more epidermis than Miss Greenwood displayed.'

"What do you mean, Ed, that these girls are prettier than Cantor. Have you seen me lately? Don't you know that at this very moment on Broadway—your Broadway—people of both sexes are following me? And even though I try not to listen, I can't help but overhear their remarks about me—'Isn't he a doll?'—'What gorgeous eyes'—'What kissable lips.' It's columnists like you that try to give actors like me an inferiority complex.

"If you will, say that I have no talent; say I'm a bad husband; print that I neglect my children—but to make light of my physical charms, I, who was offered $200 for one kiss by Sophie Tucker, not more than twenty years ago—you've got your nerve. Please stick to writing of pictures and people, Ed, but lay off sex. You're a greenhorn on that topic. Am sending you under separate cover six of my latest photographs—you'll love the one with the rose where I'm sprawled out on a tiger skin rug.

"Beautifully yours, Eddie Cantor."

The pictures are at hand and it should be stated hastily that Cantor should never pose on a tiger skin rug. In the first place, Cantor's eyes are bigger than the tiger's glazed orbs, so you get the impression that the tiger was run out of bounds on the 10 yard line by a nephew of Frankenstein. In the second place, the tiger's tail is curled upward, so it appears that Cantor is wearing an orange and black toupe.

His statements that people are following him about the streets of New York, marveling audibly at his beauty, are lies, unless apprentice pickets are getting in some practice licks by picketing Cantor.

There is no comedian, in fact, who is a traffic stopper when it comes to personal beauty. W. C. Fields has been called many things but never beautiful. I'll grant you that there is a certain measure of beauty to the scarlet pimpernel which Fields wears in lieu of a nose, but he is no Hedy Lamarr.

Hugh Herbert never has been mistaken for Mister America. Edward Everett Horton is a far cry from Adonis, and the charitable understatement is due to the Christmas spirit in the air.

Joe Penner has a quality of peasant strength, but his large proboscis hangs two strikes on him before the contest even starts. Joe E. Brown is reminiscent of the Holland tunnel, with the reservation that the Holland tunnel has a tiled roof and lights which make it quite handsome.

Perc Westmore engaged hundreds of artisans to work on Jack Benny before his last picture, but even in reel one it was no effort to know which was Jack Benny and which was Joan Bennett. Charlie Butterworth was a homely baby who refuted the old adage by growing up homely. Fat or lean, Jack Oakie is no American beauty.

Ordinarily, when there are brothers in a family, the law of averages will produce one fairly handsome. Not so with the comedians. Survey if you will the Marx brothers—Chico, Groucho, Harpo, Zeppo and Gummo. I have seen pictures of them when they were very young, and truly they showed promise, but something happened as they grew up. Look at Willie and Eugene Howard, if you can stand a sudden shock.

The Ritz brothers, not even at a masquerade ball, would be mistaken for Marlene Dietrich, Virginia Bruce, and Joan Crawford. Of Bert Lahr, it need only be pointed out that he is playing the lion in "Wizard of Oz" without makeup.

Benny Rubin will not serve as queen of beauty at the Tournament of Roses. Charlie Chaplin has the angelic features of a choir boy, a delicacy of line that is startling when you see him sans makeup, and Harold Lloyd and Jack Haley are passable, but whatever gains can be chalked up to them are wiped out by Laurel and Hardy, Harry Langdon, Milton Berle, Arthur Treacher, and Allen Jenkins. These five throw the comics right back into the dark age of beauty.

You may think I have drifted away from answering Cantor's letter, but in reality, all this is part and parcel of the answer to him. Each of these funny faced funny men I've listed is lacking signally in beauty, but each one of them is handsomer than Cantor, which will give you a vague idea. He is a fine comic, a grand husband, he is kind to his children, but his Crosley rating on beauty is less than his hat size. It is true that Sophie Tucker in 1918 gave Cantor $200, but that was his fee for arranging Sophie's marriage to Al Lackey.

Her Second Choice

SYNOPSIS.

Nora Stacy receives a letter from India from her fiancé, irresponsible Jim Murdock, breaking their engagement. Heartbroken Nora writes Jim she'll marry the next man who asks her. Jim's family live next door to the modest English cottage where Nora lives with her aunt Mrs. Dorothy Callender. When Bob Matherson of Fairways, rich young bachelor and recent neighbor, proposes to Nora she accepts. Three days before the wedding Jim returns and demands that Nora run away with him. Nora feels morally pledged to Bob. Jim gives Nora her love letters to him—except the one in which she vowed to marry the next man who asked her. Mrs. Pearl Almy, a former attachment of Bob's, who rents a cottage on his estate, gets the letter and sends it to Bob, hoping he'll call off the wedding, but Bob goes through with it. Their wedding night Bob tells Nora he married her for convenience, too. They agree their marriage will be in name only. Bob and his sister's husband, David Longton, are in the aircraft armament business for the government. Cissy Longton tells Nora that Mrs. Almy, who used to work in their office, is suspected of giving away the firm's secrets to a rival. Nora dismisses the housekeeper, Mrs. Cooper, when she finds her conspiring with Mrs. Almy. Bob is in danger of being arrested for double crossing his country. A government man, Capt. Grew, arrives at Fairways and Bob invites him to stay for an informal party. He tells Bob he is investigating Mrs. Almy, Bob's suspected mistress. Nora hears him. Mrs. Almy is plotting with Jim to steal plans that night from the Fairways Tower room safe. Pearl faints just after Jim has pretended to leave, but Mrs. Callender sees him later sneaking out through the housekeeper's quarters. Bob takes Pearl home and returns to Nora with lipstick on his face. He doesn't explain that Pearl forced her Judas kiss on him. He thinks Nora gave Jim a duplicate key to the Tower room, but she convinces him otherwise.

INSTALMENT XXVII.

DISILLUSIONED.

Sunday morning the sun shone like a brazen disc in the gray sky. Perhaps they weren't quite done with the snow yet.

Across the white landscape drifted the metallic clang of church bells badly out of tune, but nobody at Fairways was going to early service.

Mrs. Callender heard the bells and turned over in her bed with a groan. If last night hadn't been the death of her, she could count herself lucky.

At mid-morning o'clock Nora came in and found her aunt still in bed where, indeed, Mrs. Callender intended to spend the day. Nora, herself, was on her way to 11 o'clock service, and looked pretty well washed out.

"I was so worried about you," she said. "You were gone before I realized it, darling, or I would have made you stay the night."

"I wouldn't have stayed," Aunt Dorothy said grumpily. "That Capt. Grew saw me home."

"And I suppose you got a chill," Nora said remorsefully.

Aunt Dorothy would have liked to put it down to the snow, but her honesty got the better of her.

"It was what I ate . . . and drank," she admitted. "I ought never to touch port." Suddenly she remembered the peculiar behavior of Jim Murdock last night.

"Nora, there's something I want to ask you. Where does that little door lead to—the one in the lounge hall—the one Jim Murdock came out of in the middle of your wedding reception?"

"To the tower—why?"

"Because he came out of it again last night——"

"When?" Nora asked sharply.

"When I was sitting there, waiting for Capt. Grew. At first I thought it was the Fairway's ghost. You know, the one Angela Knowlton was always talking about. The door opened so slowly. And then he simply streaked out. Didn't even see me. And instead of going toward the main entrance he went the door way. Doesn't that baize covered door lead to the servant's quarters?"

Nora nodded, her face tragically white. She was downright sick with dismay.

All the time in her heart of hearts she hadn't believed Jim was guilty of what Bob had accused him. It seemed to her that almost anybody but Bob could see that Pearl Almy was the thief. She thought that he wouldn't see it because he was in love with Pearl. The woman had him completely bewitched.

But now she realized that he was right. Pearl was probably in it, but so was Jim. In her mind's eye she saw him standing in the prisoner's dock—gay, debonair Jim Murdock, the man she had once loved.

She began to draw on her gloves.

"Heard how Mrs. Almy is this morning?"

"I intended to stop by and inquire on my way home from church."

"H'mm! I guess she knows how to take care of herself."

"Darling, if there's anything you want, just send Annie. I may look in again this afternoon, but I can't be sure."

"You don't need to have me on your mind. You've got quite enough to do without bothering about me," Aunt Dorothy said heroically.

It was on the tip of Aunt Dorothy's tongue to say something more about Jim Murdock. That picture of Nora floating in his arms to the strains of the old waltz was still vividly with her.

But whatever good advice she might have offered remained unspoken, for Nora gave her a hasty kiss and took herself off.

Her shortest way was across the common to the Medway and along the river past a disused mill house.

As she approached the old mill a pang shot through her heart for the days that were no more and could never be again. It was here that Jim Murdock and she had often met during that period when Aunt Dorothy was putting every obstacle in their way.

Somehow she was not surprised when Jim appeared in the doorway.

She wanted to go on, and yet somehow she couldn't.

"I came on ahead and built a scrap of fire like we used to do—do you remember?"

Her heart felt as heavy as lead. Of course, she remembered.

There was an old fireplace in the mill and they had always made a little blaze of rotted logs and twigs if the weather was cold.

"Nora, I've got something terribly important I must tell you."

Was he going to confess, she wondered, and throw himself on her mercy? If he did, that would make it all the harder for her, and goodness knows the situation was difficult enough already.

"What is it you want to tell me?" she asked.

"I may have to go away on important business shortly—any moment, in fact—so it's unlikely we'll have another opportunity."

Yes, he was going to confess. It must be that.

But again Nora had made a mistake and underestimated Jim Murdock's capacity for double dealing.

"What . . . business?" she asked faintly.

"I can't tell you exactly—only it has to do with that crook you've tied yourself up to. Don't you know that Matherson is riding for about the biggest fall it's possible for him to take? He can't escape now. We've got the goods on him."

"What 'goods'?" she asked, "and who are 'we'?"

Then, with deep misgivings, she remembered what Bob had told her about Capt. Grew.

"If I answered your questions," Jim said in a lofty tone, "I would betray a sacred trust."

"Aren't you . . . betraying it by saying as much as you have?" she asked. "Suppose Bob is a crook—what then?"

"Perhaps you've been wondering why he married you. You poor little dupe! Don't you know—hasn't it yet dawned on you that you've been used as a blind? He sacked Pearl because she knew too much of what was going on in his office, but he's still crazy about her. That's why he keeps her near him. Didn't it ever occur to you?"

"Mrs. Almy isn't in love with Bob," Nora said, feeling that in this one little instance she was on sure ground. "She's in love with you."

"It isn't going to do her much good, and it doesn't alter the fact that he's in love with her," he said disdainfully. "Matherson married you to make the people who were after him think he had finished with Pearl. And that's the only reason why you ever came into his life. He married you for protection and you married him to spite me.

"So you see!" he exclaimed triumphantly. "But I'm not holding a grudge against you, darling. I was partly to blame—or at least circumstances were too strong for me. It isn't too late, though, thank God. Nora, when Matherson is in jail, will you come to me?"

"Yes, I will," she said. "I can promise that."

It was as though something quite apart from herself spoke those words. Nora Matherson, herself, stood aghast at the sound of them.

"Nora—my darling——"

Active Child Needs a Great Deal of Rest

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Body and soul, body and spirit, body and mind—how can we separate them?

You hear a piece of bad news—and your spirits are low. You work to the point of exhaustion—and your spirits drop to zero. You're worried beyond bearing about money, and you get irritable and lose interest. You're in constant pain, and you grow impatient and uninterested.

We can't separate body and soul because we do know that a person's physical condition does affect his mind, spirit, emotions—call it what you will. This knowledge is something we should bear in mind in dealing with our children. We want them to be in fine health, of course, but we often neglect to tie up their behavior with their physical condition. The wrong food, not enough rest, or a real illness may be responsible for what we label undesirable behavior.

After a baby becomes a small child, it is more apt to be his rest than his food that needs looking into.

"Poor lamb!" we say of our baby boy or girl, "he's cross because he's so sleepy he can hardly hold his head up." But how often do we look for lack of sleep or rest as a cause of naughtiness when our children are older?

No matter how often I might come back to it I couldn't over-emphasize children's vital need of plenty of rest.

Tiredness or deep fatigue alone can be the cause of all or many behavior difficulties: Of apparent laziness, fretfulness, discontent, and irritability. The lazy child is often the tired child. Fussiness, irritability, whining, and discontent in the little child may all be due to insufficient sleep.

And here is a physical reason not often pointed out: When a child is little he has to carry a disproportionate amount of weight for the strength of his legs. So, frequent rests, which take him off his feet, should be given when he is at the walking stage.

As he grows older he may still need more rest than he is getting or more than your chart says he needs, so continue to watch him. For children vary greatly in this respect of rest needs, as in many others, depending on their individual temperaments and other factors we won't go into now.

"Good Sleeping Habits" is the name of a leaflet sent on request. Address Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill., enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"Madness," indeed, to produce such a film!

It is a stupid, so-called "college comedy," which bores the observer to the point of tears.

Commiserations to an able cast, and a possibly capable director who tried gallantly and in vain to make something of nothing.

Willing Workers.

The Willing Workers Woman's club will meet at 1:30 o'clock today at the Standard club, 320 Plymouth court. Dorothy Cornfield will sing.

The Housewife

Did some one give you a peppy little yellow canary for Christmas? Though you've had him only a few days you've probably become fond of him and so we pass on to you the news that there are some exceedingly snazzy cages, these days.

Elegant affairs of delicately tinted metal, they follow period furniture styles. A bird cage can once again be a decorative asset to an interior, as it was in 18th century England. There's a Chippendale type of cage, a Sheraton one, and others in the early American, Federal, Duncan Phyfe, classic, and modern periods. These are really handsome bird cages; they're really something!

Four Weddings of Interest on Day's Calendar

Four weddings of interest to Chicagoans are taking place today. Miss Betty Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Morton II. of Geneva, will be married at 4 o'clock to William D. Bangs, son of Mrs. William D. Bangs of Geneva.

Miss Margaret Bartholomay and Ralph Ewing Clark Jr. will repeat their vows at 4:30 o'clock, and at 8:30 o'clock Miss Julianna Holmes and Palmer Leonard Skoglund will be married. Miss Virginia Lee Brock and William Alcock Johnston will be married tonight at 9 o'clock.

Miss Morton and Mr. Bangs will be married in St. Mark's church in Geneva, with the Rev. William Hanner officiating. Only relatives and intimate friends will witness the ceremony and go to the Mortons' home for the reception.

Miss Blanche Belcher of Newark, N. J., will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Edith Graecen of Morristown, N. J., Miss Jane Rockwood, and the Misses Peggy and Lee Zimmermann. Robert Bangs will be his brother's best man. Mr. and Mrs. Bangs will make their home in Geneva.

Miss Bartholomay and Mr. Clark, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ewing Clark of Cincinnati, will be married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bartholomay Jr. in Libertyville. The Rev. John Snapp in Gurnee will officiate.

Smart Two Piece Outfit

WOMAN'S AND MISS' JACKET COSTUME.

One of the most comfortable fashions for winter is the suit-under-fur coat mode. It makes for warmth on even the coldest days, and has the further advantage of being smart. When spring arrives you may wear the two-piece suit as a costume in itself. The pattern we're offering today is a youthful outfit, with a snappily tailored jacket and a flared skirt.

The jacket has buttons down the front and is nipped in to the silhouette. The sleeves are squared and puffed. They are plain at the wrists, affording a delightful foil for the wearing of gloves with gauntlet cuffs. The jacket may have a high, round and collarless neckline, into which a scarf is tucked, or it may be a high V with rever collarline. As for pockets, anything goes! One, two, three, or four, and they may be the regulation square type or cut like hearts. All types of woolens make up well in this jacket.

You may combine two types of woolen in this costume or keep the outfit all in one fabric. Tweed jacket and plain woolen skirt, in color harmony, afford a nice combination.

Style No. 3007 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement.

The hat pattern, in one headsize only, 22½, is available for 10 cents extra. Its number is 2506. You can adapt the headsize to suit your own needs.

Apollo Singers Put New Life in Their 'Messiah'

BY CECIL SMITH.

Stoically braving last night's Arctic weather, a capacity audience attended the Apollo Musical club's annual performance of Handel's "Messiah." With Edgar Nelson directing, the chorus presented a version with more vigor and life than last year. The men were solid and dependable in all their fugal entrances, and the ladies negotiated the roulades and ornaments of "All We Like Sheep" with remarkable dexterity.

With a chorus of 140 nobody expects subtleties of color. There were none last night, of course, but there were honest conviction and unexpectedly sprightly tempi to compensate. Yet even last night's improved performance did little to shake my conviction that the only real way to rejuvenate the "Messiah" is to present it with a chorus of thirty, a chamber orchestra and a harpsichord, so that its essential fineness and beauty of line may for once be recognized.

This procedure would then leave our large choruses free to attempt something other than the "Messiah" at Christmas time.

The soloists were Kathryn Witwer, soprano of W-G-N; Ruth Slater, contralto; Leslie Mardall, tenor, and Frederic Baer, bass. Other duties kept me from hearing Miss Witwer, but lobby opinion gave her an exceptionally clean bill of health. Mr. Baer delivered "Why do the nations so furiously rage" with a cross expression and diabolical vehemence. Miss Slater made smooth work of "He Was Despised." Mr. Mardall was not at ease.

Over at the Auditorium theater the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo pulled another novelty, "Don Juan," out of its sleeve. This is a stylized, ancient-modern reconstruction of a ballet originally danced to pot-boiling music by Gluck in 1761. The story, after Moliere, parallels the Don's experiences with Donna Elvira and her father in the first scene of Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and his catastrophic meeting with the statue in the last act.

Most of the ballet is artificialized pantomime, neatly turned off by Michel Panaieff, Jeannette Lauret and others. Its interest is pretty attenuated, though, after the full charm of Christian Berard's baroque decors has been assessed. "The Seventh Symphony" and the season's only "Tricorne" completed the bill.

Fish Furniture company, $1,000.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

I was disappointed to find that most participants in the recent examination went astray on question 23, which was:

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	2 spades	Pass	3 spades
Pass	4 spades	[final bid]

DUMMY
♠ 10 9 4
♥ K J 6
♦ 5 4

EAST
♠ None
♥ A 10 7
♦ A Q 10 8 7 6 3
♣ 9 4 2

You play the diamond ace and declarer drops the king. What is your next play, and why? [Short explanation will suffice.]

The majority of answers that were mailed to me gave the diamond queen as East's proper continuation after the ace had dropped declarer's king. Probably these answers were based on a wish to shorten the declarer in trumps. I call attention, however, to the fact that West did not double four spades, a condition that certainly could be expected if he had held two spade tricks, such as the Q J x x or K J x x. On the bidding it is the next thing to be sure that South's spade suit is either solid or within one trick of solid. The club suit in dummy should be a formidable threat to East, who holds no club stopper. If West has a club and a spade stopper he needs no protection, but if he has only one of those cards and holds the heart queen, it is vital for East to lay the groundwork for two defensive heart tricks. The way to do this, of course, is to lead the heart seven and pray that West will be able to put in the queen, thus establishing a tenace for East with the A-10 over dummy's J-6.

Players must overcome their instinctive dislike of leading up to honors in the dummy.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 spade	Pass	2 diamonds
Pass	3 hearts	Pass	4 diamonds
Pass	4 no trump	Pass	6 hearts
Pass	7 diamonds	Double	[final bid]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: There were several points in the bidding of this hand that caused an argument. West contended that East should bid only five diamonds over the conventional four no trump and then that he, West, would have bid six diamonds to close the contract. East insisted that West should have passed to the six heart bid. I was asked for my opinion and proceeded to stir up more confusion by questioning West's slam invitation of four no trump and his later remark that he would have gone to six diamonds if his partner had gone to only five.

"There was also a question concerning the opening lead. How should North's double be interpreted? I would appreciate your opinion on these points.—C. F. C."

There can be no doubt but that West "bid his head off." Having jumped from two diamonds to three hearts, and later having used the four no trump convention, West should have stood pat in a six heart contract, despite the fact that he preferred to play in diamonds. It is better to play a six bid in the wrong suit than to reach to the skies for a grand slam.

Now for the lead. Considering that North should not have doubled, this is hardly a pertinent point. Assuming that such a double is properly used, it calls for an "unusual" opening. With South's great length in spades, a spade opening was logical.

SHORT CUT DINNER.
Casserole of Macaroni, Vegetables, and Pork Links
Drop Tomato Biscuits
Grapefruit and Stuffed Date Salad, French Dressing
Pumpkin Pie [Bakery] with Whipped Cream, or à la Mode

Macaroni and Pork Links Casserole.
[Serves four.]

½ package [8 ounce size] macaroni
1 can mixed vegetables [No. 2 size]
1½ cups grated or diced American cheese
1½ cups medium white sauce
1 dozen pork sausage links

Cook the macaroni in rapidly boiling salted water until tender. At the same time fry out the pork links slightly, just enough to brown them a little. Mix macaroni and drained vegetables. Save the liquid from the vegetables for the white sauce. Put alternate layers of the macaroni mixture and cheese into a greased casserole. Pour over the white sauce made by blending 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, and adding 1½ cups of milk. The sauce should be stirred and cooked until smooth. On top of the casserole lay the pork links. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes, or until thoroughly hot and browned.

Drop Tomato Biscuits.
[One dozen.]

2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup butter, margarine, lard or vegetable shortening
1 cup tomato juice [approximate measure]

Sift together the flour, salt, and baking powder. Cut in the shortening with two knives, a pastry blender, or the finger tips. Add enough tomato juice to make a soft dough. The amount varies with the kind of flour used. Stir vigorously until dough follows the spoon around the bowl. Drop by spoonful onto a greased baking sheet and bake 12 to 15 minutes at 400 degrees.

Grapefruit and Stuffed Date Salad.

Use fresh or canned grapefruit. If you are in a hurry canned grapefruit will save time, for the sectioning and removal of membrane already has been done. Radiate sections of grapefruit from a center of nut stuffed date, flower-petalwise. Top with a little French dressing. Lettuce, watercress, finely shredded celery cabbage, or chicory may be the salad base.

The Stage

"Kiss the Boys Goodbye," a new comedy by Clare Boothe, author of "The Women," will come to the Harris theater Sunday evening, Jan. 15. The plot tells of a motion picture producer's attempt to find a Scarlett O'Hara, here called Cindy Lou. A new find, Lucia Lull, of Wetumpka, Ala., will play the lead. A child actress in the repertory company of her mother, Miss Lull has not yet appeared on Broadway.

Young Virovai Great Violinist by Every Test

BY EDWARD BARRY.

A slight, 17 year old boy strode onto the stage of Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon and received a welcoming salvo from the Chicago Symphony orchestra's Tuesday subscribers. This newcomer with the big mop of hair and the bright, sensitive face, the informal blue suit and the soft collar, was the much talked of Hungarian violinist, Robert Virovai.

His reputation had preceded him westward, and he had come to prove to Chicago that the extravagant praise of Europeans and easterners was no mere hyperbole, but literal truth. With the coöperation of Frederick Stock and the orchestra, he succeeded in proving just that.

To the first movement of the Mendelssohn concerto young Virovai brought an exhilarating youthfulness. Phrases had drive and momentum—also the necessary clarity and a satisfactory, if somewhat small, tone. There were hints here and there [in a magically managed allargando, for instance, or an especially intoxicating coloring] of what the performer planned to do with the concerto's second movement.

When the andante was actually reached Virovai seemed to become as joyful as the audience, his face reflecting his own intense delight in the pure and glorious noises which his fiddle was emitting. No one among his listeners hung more ecstatically on those serene, long breathed phrases; no one awaited with more excitement the final, deliriously beautiful tone coloring which was to give point to a whole phrase or intensify subtly the climax of a wonderfully managed rubato.

The jocose finale settled any remaining doubts about the new violinist's technical expertness. The music cracked cleanly along, and the brilliance of the finish brought on an ovation.

Mr. Viroval has two more appearances this week with the symphony. On Thursday night and Friday afternoon he will be heard in the solo part of the Vieuxtemps D-minor concerto.

At the Goodman theater last evening the Saidenberg symphonietta—an eighteen piece string ensemble directed by Danuiel Saidenberg—presented the second concert of its four performance season. Agatha Lewis, resident soprano, was soloist.

LAUDS BUSINESS MEN'S GRASP OF COLLEGE AFFAIRS

Trustees Know Academic Problems, Says N.U. Dean

Business men who as university trustees control the policies of institutions of higher learning frequently confound academic critics by their grasp of educational problems, Dean Franklin B. Snyder of Northwestern university said yesterday. In fact, he said, they sometimes handle the college academic problems better than they do college finance problems, which lie in their own field.

He spoke on the luncheon program of the annual meeting of the American Association of University Professors in the Stevens hotel. The association devoted its noon and afternoon sessions to discussions of the place of the faculty in governing the affairs of colleges and universities.

Contribute to Society.

"It may be quite wrong in theory," said Dean Snyder, "to expect business men to understand even the more general sorts of educational problems, but experience shows that somehow or other they do, and that American colleges and universities, controled and directed in large measure by men who are not in any technical sense educators, have made astonishing contributions to the welfare of society.

"Actually, it would not be difficult to show that boards composed of business men have been more astute in solving the educational than the financial problems of the institutions under their direction."

Vote Today on Blacklist.

Today the association will vote on a recommendation that it place North Dakota Agricultural college on its blacklist, technically termed the list of censured administration. The action was recommended as a result of the dismissal of seven faculty members by the state board of administration. The investigating committee consisted of Prof. A. J. Carlson of the University of Chicago and Prof. O. S. Rundell of the University of Wisconsin.

The two professors reported that one factor in the dismissal of the faculty members was faculty resistance to an attempt by the political machine of Gov. William Langer to make political assessments against the faculty. Langer has been defeated for reëlection and the board of administration which the report criticized had been deprived by constitutional amendment of power over educational policies.

COLLIER ESTATE SECRETARY HELD AS EMBEZZLER

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Assistant Circuit Attorney James E. McLaughlin late today issued three warants charging C. Earl Hulburd, who is prominent socially, with embezzlement of $76,225 from the estate of Mrs. Mary Collier Hitchcock.

Hulburd, 50 years old, was secretary of the George Collier Estate, Inc., and bookkeeper of the Hitchcock estate. For twenty-two years he was an employé of former Circuit Judge George C. Hitchcock, trustee of both estates.

On the order of Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller, Hulburd was arrested yesterday in a hospital here, where he had visited his son, Earl Jr., 10 years old, recovering from an appendicitis operation. Since his arrest Hulburd has been held at police headquarters in default of $25,000 bond.

PRACTICAL JOKE GETS BLAME FOR WOMAN'S DEATH

A cruel practical joke was blamed for the death of Mrs. Mary Topaz, 51 years old, yesterday in her home at 2722 Pine Grove avenue. Mrs. Topaz was the wife of Dr. Lionel Topaz, head of the Professional Press Publishing company at 5 North Wabash avenue.

Two weeks ago the Topazes received a telephone call from a man representing himself as a policeman. The caller said that the Topazes' son, Martin, 28 years old, had been seriously injured in an automobile accident and was being taken to the County hospital. The mother and father hurried there, but their son was not in the hospital.

Later Martin was found at a friend's home. Meanwhile Mrs. Topaz had become hysterical from shock and suffered a stroke which resulted in her death.

Hunter, Accidentally Shot by Friend, Dies of Wound

Dominick Cavone, 23 years old, 1622 Arcade place, who was shot in the back in a hunting accident Monday, died last night in the Westlake hospital. Cavone and a friend, Elmer Snyder, 107 North 14th avenue, Melrose Park, were hunting rabbits near Wolf road and Grand avenue in Leyden township. Snyder's gun was accidentally discharged and some of the shot struck Cavone.

ROB MOTOR CLUB OFFICE.

Gresham police yesterday were hunting burglars who on Monday carried away a small safe containing $190 from the Beverly Hills branch office of the Chicago Motor club at 9439 Ashland avenue. Harry Lewis, manager, discovered the theft yesterday.

MILK CO-OP HEAD GOING TO CAPITAL ON MARKET PACT

Arthur H. Lauterbach, general manager of the Pure Milk association, coöperative bargaining agency for 12,000 farmers, will leave tomorrow for Washington. There he will give officials of the Agricultural Ajustment administration additional details requested concerning the organization's petition for a hearing on a milk marketing agreement and license in the Chicago area. He will meet with Dr. E. W. Goumnitz, chief of the AAA dairy section, on Friday.

The Pure Milk association is one of the defendants in the anti-trust indictment pending in Federal court here. In a petition, filed Dec. 23, it seeks an agreement which would permit substantially the same price fixing practices charged against the association and other defendants in the anti-trust case.

Through the petition Lauterbach hopes to avoid the expenditiure of $50,000 to $100,000 of the dairymen's money in defending indicted officials of the association.

PICK TALESMEN FOR 2D TRIAL OF JAMES J. HINES

Hines is scheduled to go on trial a second time for conspiracy in the $20,000,000 a year policy racket, on Jan. 23. His first trial, with District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey prosecuting in person, ended in a mistrial, declared by Tammany Judge Ferdinand Pecora. General Sessions Judge Charles C. Nott Jr. presided at today's drawing.

Clark, whose organization has denounced "dictatorship in Washington," is on a panel which includes insurance men, brokers, business executives, writers, a stevedore, and a hotel steward. Among the writers is Chester A. Arthur Jr., grandson of the former President of the United States.

BIGGER-BETTER

AUTO, GIRLS COST HIM THAT $6,000, SAYS EMBEZZLER

Herbert Boyer, 26 years old, is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 210 pounds. But he wept like a small child yesterday when he confessed at the detective bureau that he had embezzled about $6,000 from Joseph F. Walzer, head of a wholesale fur company at 174 North Michigan avenue.

Herbert Boyer.

"I started working for Walzer when I was only 15 years old," he said. "I was getting along all right and was made bookkeeper. For a while I treated the firm all right. Then, one day back in August, 1936, I made a mistake in the pay roll. I found that there was $40 over. Instead of returning the money, I started taking about $50 every week."

Boyer, a bachelor living at 3339 Argyle street, said he did not play the races, dress extravagantly, or drink heavily. The stolen money, he said, was spent in operating an automobile and in entertaining girls.

Last of Savio Counterfeit Gang Gets 3 Year Sentence

The Robert Savio counterfeiting case was closed yesterday when Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe sentenced Nicholas [Red] Quinn, 42 years old, last of the Savio gang of nine, to serve three years in Leavenworth penitentiary for passing counterfeit money. Savio is serving eight years and seven others are in prison for shorter terms for passing $50,000 in counterfeit $20 bills.

COACHES TALK OVER FOOTBALL RULE CHANGES

Harry Stuhldreher Opposes Revision.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Harry Stuhldreher, director of athletics and football coach at the University of Wisconsin, who is president of the National Football Coaches' association, forecast the attitude of most football coaches on rules changes in his talk yesterday before the Rotary club of Chicago. The football coaches of the nation will gather today in the Sherman hotel for their annual meeting, which will include suggested rules changes as well as discussion of technical phases of the game.

"Football has developed so rapidly in the last fifteen years," Stuhldreher told the Rotarians yesterday, "that we coaches will have to catch up with the game or be left behind. Most coaches probably will wish to leave the rules as they are and concentrate on teaching football as it is now. If the coaches can't keep pace with the rules we cannot expect spectators to keep up with too many rules changes."

Problems Have Increased.

Stuhldreher continued to point out that which every one intimately connected with football knows. The offensive and defensive problems of the players have increased tremendously with intensive study of the game. While the coaches again possibly will go over such suggestions as the abolition of the point after touchdown, returning the goal posts to the goal line, and permitting forward passes to be thrown from any point behind the line of scrimmage instead of from a point at least five yards back of the line of scrimmage, none probably will command a majority opinion.

The coaches, of course, only may recommend changes to the rules committee which will meet next week in Colorado Springs, Colo. The rules committee, of which Lou Little, Columbia university football coach, is chairman, expects to take up the problem of more protection for the forward passer.

May Add to Options.

The rules committee also may grant another option after scoring. The team scored upon now has the choice of kicking off or of receiving. It has been proposed that the list of options after a score be the same as at the start of the game or the start of the second half. Thus the team scored upon would have the right to choose to kick off, receive, or the goal it wishes to defend. After that choice is made the other team then would choose one of the remaining alternatives.

The trustees' dinner of the coaches' association was held last evening. It formally opened the convention, but the rules discussion today and the joint session tomorrow with the National Collegiate Athletic association will highlight the week's activities. The subject for the joint meeting will be "Intercollegiate Football and the Public."

W. B. Owen to Speak.

Prof. W. B. Owen of Stanford university, president of the National Collegiate Athletic association, will speak for that organization. Stuhldreher will represent the coaches and Branch Rickey, head of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball farm system, will speak from the viewpoint of the public.

At the football coaches meetings this morning various technical phases of the sport will be discussed by Fred Thomsen, Arkansas; Mal Elward, Purdue; Dick Harlow, Harvard; Ted Bank, Idaho, and Maurice [Clipper] Smith, Villanova. Motion pictures of many of the big games of last season will be shown.

An honorary lifetime membership in the coaches' association will be presented to Dr. H. C. [Curley] Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, formerly coach and director of athletics at that university.

Physical Educators Meet.

More than two hundred members of the College Physical Education association also will meet today in the Hotel Sherman for their forty-second convention. Included in this morning's program is an address on the topic, "Athletics in Student Life," by Chancellor John G. Bowman of the University of Pittsburgh. Prof. Harold S. Wood of Wesleyan university will deliver the president's address at 9:45 this morning. The morning program in the Crystal room follows:

"Teacher Training Goes 'Round the Mulberry Bush," by Dr. E. C. Davis, Pennsylvania State college.

"The New Gymnasium at the University of North Carolina," by Profs. R. A. Fetzer and Oliver K. Cornwell.

"My View of Amateur Sports After Ten Years of Association with Professional Baseball," by George M. Trautman, president of the American association.

"Athletics in Student Life," by Chancellor John G. Bowman of the University of Pittsburgh.

Kankakee Honors Stars; Seeks '39 Game for West

Kankakee, Ill., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Kankakee honored its native son captains of the 1939 Army and Navy elevens at a community banquet tonight and reinstituted a move to bring the annual service game to Chicago next year.

The guests of honor were Harry Stella, Army captain, and Allen Bergner, Navy captain, both Kankakee boys who played together here on the high school team. They were presented gold watches.

Gen. Robert Wood, president of Sears-Roebuck company and an alumnus of West Point, said the "midwest should get a chance to see the Army-Navy football game once in a while," pointing out that it had been twelve years since Chicago was the site of the game.

"This next year of all years," he added, "the midwest should have the game so the people of Kankakee could have an opportunity to see these two boys play."

Commander George D. Hull, representing the Great Lakes naval trainstation, echoed Gen. Wood's remarks and said he favored bringing the service game to Chicago next year.

Shortly after the Kankakee boys were named to lead the service teams several weeks ago, citizens here began a movement to see what could be done toward bringing the game to Chicago. But this clamor died down quickly after athletic officials of the two schools explained they had already contracted to play the 1939 game in Philadelphia, site of last fall's contest.

All of the other speakers on the program, including Charley Harrison, coach of the two boys in high school, urged that every possible effort be made to change the site of the game.

Dr. Bowler, Dartmouth's Ex-Director, Dies at 73

Hanover, N. H., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Dr. John William Bowler, 73, professor emeritus of physical education at Dartmouth college, died today of bronchial pneumonia. It was upon his recommendation that many of the school's coaches were brought to Hanover. He came here in 1901 to serve as director of physical education and to study at Dartmouth medical school.

Parks, Oregon Quintets Win in Coliseum

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Parks Clothiers of Oklahoma City, Okla., and the University of Oregon last night won in the double-header basketball program in the Coliseum in games fast enough to keep themselves and about 500 customers quite warm.

The Oklahomans defeated the La Salle Hotel Cavaliers in a Missouri Valley A. A. U. league thriller, 41 to 40, while the Oregon collegians set down the Macomb Teachers, last season's Little 19 champions, 60 to 45.

On Jan. 4 the Parks and La Salle quintets will meet again. The collegiate half of a double-header on that evening will be provided by Southwestern Teachers of Kansas and Hamline university of St. Paul, Minn.

The A. A. U. game was a battle from start to finish, the score being tied four times in each half, with neither team enjoying an advantage of more than six points at any juncture.

Oregon Forges Ahead.

The Cavaliers led at the half, 20 to 17, but at the outset of the second period, Burdette and Lewis sent the Oklahomans into a 25 to 22 lead. Willhoit and Lewis gave the Parks five a 39 to 36 margin with a minute to play. Harold Dembo then connected on two free throws for the La Salles to make it 39 to 38, but Smith scored a basket for the Parks, and Gracin made a basket for the Chicagoans at the gun.

In the college game, the Illinois team kept the contest even throughout the first half, which ended with the Oregonians leading, 25 to 23. The second half saw Oregon collect five field goals, three by Sarpola, one by Gale, and one by Anet, before Hughes scored for Macomb after 4 minutes. Shaw and Magraw added baskets for the Illinois boys to leave them trailing, 35 to 29, the shortest gap they were able to close in the half.

ILLINI, GOPHERS WIN

New York, Dec. 27.—[Special.]—The speed of Illinois and Minnesota was a bit too much for Manhattan college and New York university in Madison Square Garden tonight before a gathering of 17,488. The Illini crushed Manhattan, 60 to 41, and the Gophers toppled New York, 39 to 32.

Thus did the Big Ten quintets, ever a source of annoyance when they travel east, continue their domination of the Metropolitan forces. Each remained unbeaten, Illinois with four in a row and Minnesota with fifteen straight over a two year span.

OHIO IS BEATEN

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Height advantage and close guarding told the story tonight as University of California's basketball team routed Ohio State, 49 to 35, in a rough and tumble contest before a crowd of 5,000. It was the second game of a double header. In the opener, Nebraska beat U. C. L. A., 35 to 30.

Thirty-one fouls were called. The lineup:

Four closely contested matches and four games in which the verdict was more onesided marked the opening day of play in the University of Chicago's annual holiday tournament for Chicago's High school basketball teams in the Midway fieldhouse yesterday. Eight more games today will complete the first round, and the sixteen survivors will meet tomorrow in the second round.

A changing crowd which totaled 2,500 witnessed eight hours of basketball. The hottest match they saw was the one between Tuley and Lindblom, in which Morris Portman of Tuley sank a long shot in an overtime period to down the powerful Lindblom quintet, 21 to 19.

Harper Conquers Senn.

In other close games Harper eliminated Senn, 18 to 14. Calumet upset DuSable, which had been regarded as championship contender, 24 to 23, and Crane defeated Amundsen, 32 to 26.

Easier victories were scored by Marshall, which beat Tilden, 35 to 19; Hyde Park, which defeated Waller, 34 to 16; by Hirsch, over Harrison, 33 to 24, and by Wells over Lake View, 31 to 19. Hyde Park emerged as one of the most skilful teams in the top bracket. South side schools qualified four teams for the second round.

Harper held Senn without a field goal for seventeen minutes and led, 11 to 1, at the half. Senn came on rapidly in the third quarter, but in the final quarter Urnezis and Thompson scored for Harper and rendered Senn's rally futile.

In the Calumet-Du Sable thriller Bob Haarlow, brother of Bill Haarlow, former Maroon ace, scored the winning basket on a rebound with two minutes left to play. Dunham, Du Sable forward, then sank a free throw to make the score 24 to 23. Sims, Calumet guard, fouled Fowler, Du Sable forward, who failed to make either of his two tries.

Hyde Park Triumphs.

Hyde Park led Waller, 9 to 3, at the end of the first quarter and 19 to 7 at the half. It scored six field goals and one free throw to increase its lead in the final moments of the game.

The overtime rule gave the verdict in the Tuley-Lindblom game to Tuley, the first team to score a field goal in the extra period. Portman took a short pass well out on the floor and arched it through the hoop.

Two tall boys from Hirsch High, Fred Stone and Art Kunde, collaborated in Hirsch's victory over Harrison. The score at the quarter was 7 all and at the half, 14 to 13 for Harrison. In the third period Stone and Kunde took short passes for three goals each.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

THE publicity attending Leo Rodak's ten round bout with Leoni Efrati at the Coliseum Thursday night takes us back to a cold winter evening in February, 1931, when Rodak, a frail looking lad of 18, began a career that eventually was to lead him into the No. 1 spot among the fighters of his weight. . . . It was in the opening round of the south side trials of the Golden Gloves tournament at White City, where many a prominent boxer has made his start. . . . He weighed only 110 pounds. . . . He was so boyish in his manners and physique that many feared he was out of place in a competition of the scope of Golden Gloves. . . . But Rodak had speed and cleverness and, above all, a heart that eventually carried him to the flyweight championship in the biggest and toughest tournament amateur boxing provides. . . . He came back next year a little heavier, more experienced, and with greater confidence, and he carried on to the bantamweight title. . . . He repeated his success as a featherweight in 1933. . . . More than 150,000 young men have taken part in Chicago Golden Gloves since the event was inaugurated in 1928, but only one has won three championships. . . . That honor belongs to Rodak alone. . . . He is doing all right as a professional, too, because the National Boxing association gives him its No. 1 position among the world's featherweights. . . . We haven't seen him perform as a paid workman, so we don't know first hand whether he is a top ranking fighter, a punk, or just fair to middlin'. . . . One thing we know positively . . . He was one of the greatest amateur glove wielders in the world. . . .

Larry Buhler.

Before selling Zeke Bonura to the Giants, Clark Griffith, owner of the Senators, tried to trade him to Connie Mack. . . . He wanted Pitcher Ross or Caster in return, but Mack declined. . . . Vike Francis, Nebraska football prospect who had to drop out of school because of ill health before the start of the 1938 season, is back in school. . . . He has gained 12 pounds. . . . The best tonic Larry Buhler, Minnesota full back, received after his recent automobile accident, in which he narrowly averted death, was a telegram from Howie Weiss of Wisconsin, winner of THE TRIBUNE'S Most Valuable Player trophy.

GUS HENDERSON NAMED COACH OF DETROIT LIONS

Palm Springs, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP)—George Richards, owner of the Detroit Lions, professional football team of the National league, announced tonight the appointment of Elmer [Gus] Henderson of Los Angeles as coach of the Detroit team. Henderson, coach of the Los Angeles Bulldogs since 1936, succeeds Earl [Dutch] Clark, who recently resigned to coach the Cleveland Rams.

Henderson took over the Los Angeles Bulldog organization three years ago and brought it to the top as one of the best independent teams in the nation.

Henderson left the head coaching job at Tulsa university to come here with the Bulldogs, and prior to that was credited with starting the University of Southern California toward the forefront of leading college elevens during his régime there from 1919 until he was succeeded in 1925 by Howard Jones.

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The world champion Chicago Blackhawks moved into a tie for third place with the New York Americans in the National Hocky league standings by whipping the Canadiens, 4 to 1, tonight. The victory was the Hawks' third in three games with Montreal this season. For the Canadiens, the loss was the sixth straight.

The game's star was Goalie Mike Karakas of the Hawks, who kept the Flying Frenchmen out until after his teammates had driven the puck past Claude Bourque twice in the second period. The Canadiens peppered Karakas throughout the first period, while the Hawks failed to get a shot through to Bourque until the seventeenth minute.

Robinson Scores First.

The Canadiens returned to the attack as the second period opened and again kept Karakas busy. The Hawk goalie was given a lead of one goal at 7:39, however, when Earl Robinson scored on a play in which Bill Thoms and Bob Gracie also figured.

At 16:50 Russ Blinco poked in a pass from Joff Desilets and Phil Besler and thirteen seconds later Armand Mondou scored for the Canadiens, assisted by Marcel Tremblay and Stew Evans. Mondou and Tremblay had been brought up from New Haven to bolster the wabbly Canadiens.

The Canadiens again pressed early in the third period and, while Bill MacKenzie was penalized for tripping, sent five men down the ice. These tactics boomeranged midway in the period as Earl Seibert took the puck and passed to Paul Thompson, who was in the clear. Thompson skated in on Bourque to register the Hawks third goal, in 10:59.

Blake Misses Net.

Toe Blake missed the net from a few feet out a minute later. The Hawks scored again in 18:41 when Gracie drove in a stinging shot from the right side after taking a pass from Art Wiebe.

The Hawks' third game of their present road trip will be in Detroit Thursday.

Captain of Three Penn Football Teams Dies

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Edgar M. Church, an investment broker who had the distinction of having captained three football teams at the University of Pennsylvania, died of pneumonia at his home here last night. He was 71 years old. Besides leading the elevens of 1889, 1890 and 1891, he was a member of the track teams his last three years in college and rowed on a varsity crew that won the Childs cup.

TRAIN LATE, BUT OKLAHOMA KEEPS DRILL SCHEDULE

Police Escort Sooners from Station to Field.

Miami, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Pausing only long enough to receive leis made of oranges from a group of pretty girls, the Oklahoma football team went directly from the station to the practice field upon its arrival today for the Orange Bowl game with Tennessee Monday.

Meanwhile the Volunteers, who arrived yesterday, held their second workout, stressing fundamental blocking and tackling. Coach Robert R. Neyland announced all future practice sessions would be held in private to avoid distractions. He said the Tennesseeans, who had been suffering from colds, were recovering quickly in the hot sun.

Given Police Escort.

The Sooners' train was two hours late and they postponed registering and unpacking at their hotel until after the workout. Coach Tom Stidham put them to work immediately on defensive formations just as soon as their two buses, behind a police escort, could take them through town and across the causeway to Miami Beach.

Three Oklahoma regulars, Howard McCarthy and Bill Jennings, backs, and Jerry Bolton, a guard, will not be able to play.

ROSE BOWL DRILL SECRET

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The curtain of secrecy was drawn around the plans of Duke and Southern California tonight after the rival Rose bowl football foes held their last semi-public practice.

Football writers from North Carolina took a final look at the Southern California team and came away deeply impressed with the size—the team averages 195 pounds—and the speed of the Trojans.

The California delegation likewise spent the afternoon watching Duke and voted unanimously that one thing is certain when the two teams meet next Monday, namely, that the Iron Dukes are going to be tough to push around.

Whereas a week ago many backers of Troy were yelping for a decision by at least 14 points, most of them today will be thoroughly satisfied with seven.

Dan [Tiger] Hill, Duke co-captain and star center, apparently pulled a back muscle in practice today, but Blue Devil officials later declared he would be in condition to resume drills tomorrow. Hill, running down under a punt, suddenly pulled up. A moment later, leaning on the shoulder of Eric Tipton, he left the field. Duke spokesmen said it was recurrence of a "catch" in his back and that he would be all right.

PUSH SUGAR BOWL TEAMS

New Orleans, La., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The coaches of the Sugar Bowl football teams which clash here Monday today pronounced their teams in top physical condition, but said they were dissatisfied with certain practice features.

Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian university at Fort Worth commented that he needed to polish off the team's defense tactics for the remainder of the week.

Coach Bill Kern of Carnegie Tech, in training at Bay St. Louis, had failed to cut down to one practice a day because he was far from satisfied with the manner in which the team was working. The team today went through a snappy drill under an oncoming cold wave. Kern said he probably would drop to one practice tomorrow.

The Sugar Bowl festivities will be resumed tomorrow night with a basketball game between Purdue and Arkansas. A tennis tournament starts Thursday and the annual Sugar Bowl track meet will be held Sunday afternoon.

SIX ON CASUALTY LIST

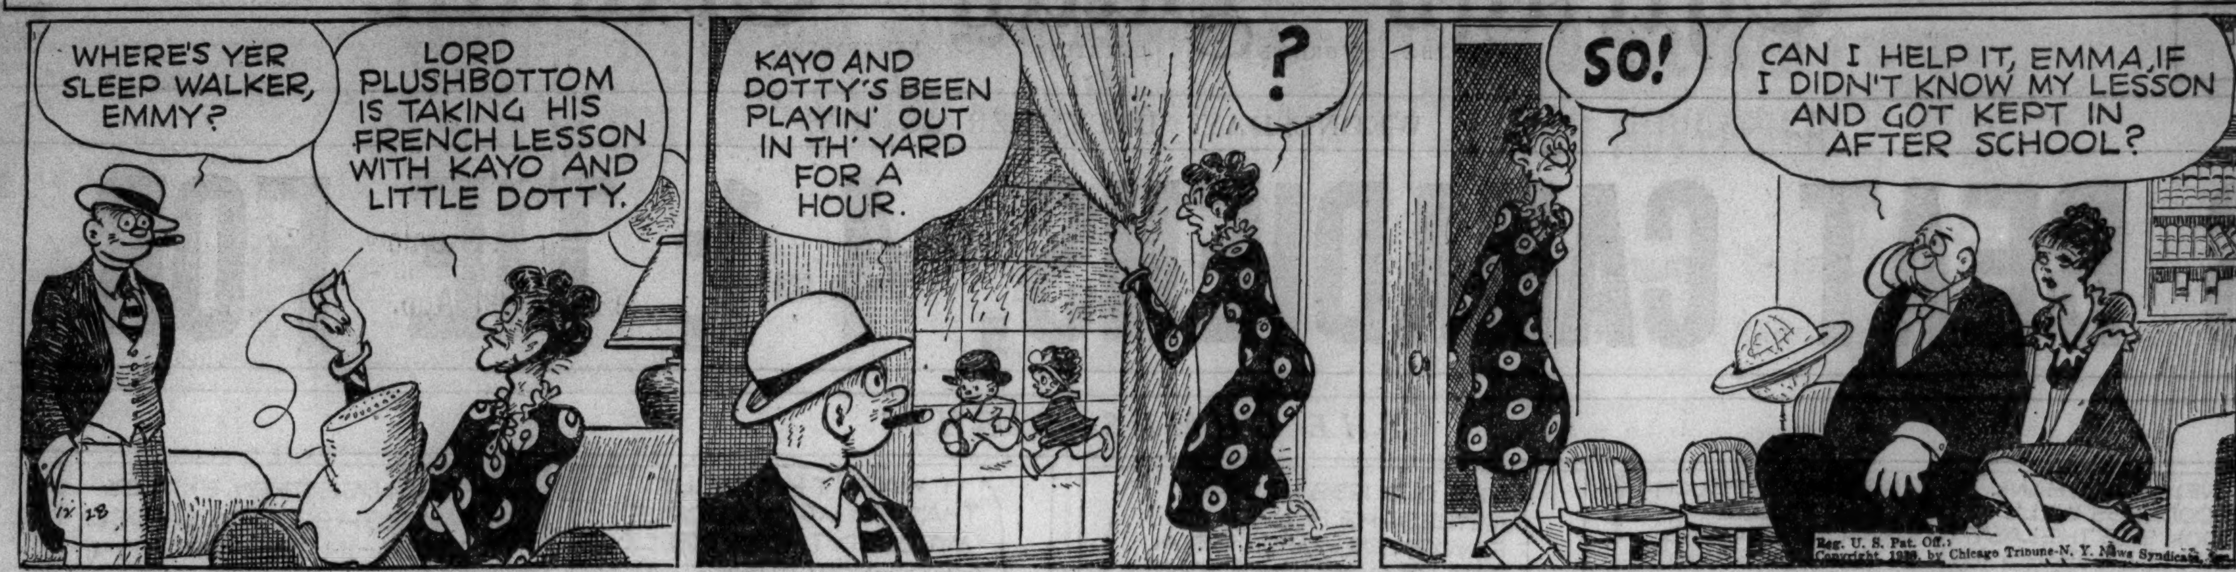

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Eastern and western college football stars, in training for the charity game here Monday, reversed practice plans today.

The east counted six players on the injured or ailing list after a sharp scrimmage yesterday, and Coaches Andy Kerr and Bernie Bierman ordered no more body contact practice this week.

John Wysocki, Villanova end, was the major eastern casualty. He twisted his back in a pileup and remained out of uniform today. Howard Weiss, Wisconsin full back, turned up with a back injury; George Faust, Minnesota quarter back, pulled a tendon, and Sid Roth, Cornell guard, limped slightly from a bruised knee. Francis Twedell, Minnesota guard, and Joe Mihal, Purdue tackle, nursed foot blisters.

SILVA, MILLING BATTLE TONIGHT IN PARK CASINO

Joey Silva, Los Angeles junior lightweight, will make his Chicago debut tonight in a ten round bout with Varias Milling in Park Casino, Madison street and Hamlin avenue.

If he defeats Milling, Silva will be rewarded with a ten round headliner against Lou Ambers, former lightweight champion, in Philadelphia Jan. 16.

In a co-feature of eight rounds Phil Saeli, local 135 pounder, meets Ray Sharkey of Cleveland. Saeli has shown improvement in his last three appearances, so that Sharkey may encounter rough sailing. Phil knocked out Johnny Balmer Dec. 14, whipped Earl Gibbs Nov. 7, and Frankie Sagilio Sept. 19. Supporting matches:

Tony Sopko vs. Roy Miller, [4], 154.
Patrick O'Brien vs. Jimmy Santori, [4], 126.

Eight ounce gloves will be used in the flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight, lightweight, and welterweight classes in the seventh annual amateur boxing tournament to be held under the auspices of the Illinois Athletic club in the I. A. C. Jan. 17, 18, and 25. Ten ouncers will be the rule in the three heavier classes—middleweight, light heavyweight, and heavyweight. Applications can be obtained at the club gymnasium, 112 South Michigan avenue.

Ruffy Silverstein and Fritz Von Schacht will be opponents in a wrestling windup this evening in Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue. Other encounters will bring together Walter Palmer and Frankie Talaber, Jack Conley and Jack Hagen, Bull Curley and Rudy Kay, Buck O'Neil and Babe Kasaboski. . . . John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, and his trainer, Larry Amadee, are en route to Orangeburg, N. J., where Lewis will train for his heavyweight title scrap with Champion Joe Louis Jan. 25. . . . Willie Reddish, Philadelphia heavyweight, is being sought to substitute for Buddy Knox against Maurice Strickland in Madison Square Garden Jan. 13. Reddish also may fight Otis Thomas in St. Louis Jan. 20. . . . Solly Krieger, middleweight title holder, reached Milwaukee yesterday for his ten round nontitle contest with Marty Simmons of Saginaw, Mich., in the Auditorium there next Monday.

SEEDED PLAYERS WIN IN JUNIOR TENNIS TOURNEY

New York, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Seeded players in the national junior indoor tennis championships reached the third round of the tournament today, only slightly ruffled by the loss of Melvin Schwartzman of New York, ranked eleventh. Schwartzman was beaten by Philip Moore of Port Washington, 6-1, 6-1, in the day's only surprise at the Seventh Regiment armory.

Otherwise, the remaining eleven favorites, six of whom took the court for the first time today after drawing byes yesterday, were undisturbed. Bill McGehee of New Orleans, seeded fourth, was extended to three sets, however, before he overcame Richard Shipp of Lemoyne, Pa., 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Top seeded Joey Fishbach, defending champion, led the advance with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Morten Heller of Philadelphia. Fishbach, the only player in the tournament with national senior ranking, has dropped only four games in two matches.

Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, seeded second, and Isadore Bellis of Philadelphia, seeded third, gained the bracket at the expense of John Benn of Yonkers, and William Loock Jr. of New Rochelle. Greenberg won 6-0, 6-0, and Bellis 6-0, 6-3.

Another easy winner was Davis Johnsen of Washington, D. C., seeded twelfth and last, who disposed of Donald Ochs, West Brighton, N. Y., 6-0, 6-1.

93 proof

The House of Chapin & Gore since 1865 has set the standard for quality whiskey. Its present management has maintained that policy for more than forty years, always catering to the discriminating consumer.

CHAPIN & GORE "OLD RESERVE" STRAIGHT KENTUCKY BOURBON WHISKEY is distilled only from the finest selected grains by the old-fashioned method. It is strictly a sour mash whiskey, FOUR YEARS OLD, full bodied, mellowed in the wood. A superior whiskey with a RICH, DISTINCTIVE FLAVOR, the best that science and long experience can produce.

Look for the name CHAPIN & GORE on the label. Old Timers know that name to be the consumer's protection as to proper age and quality.

MANCINI, ROTH REACH LOOP FOR COLISEUM BOUTS

Al Roth, New York lightweight, and Al Mancini, Providence, R. I., featherweight, engaged in their first Chicago workouts yesterday in Trafton's gymnasium for their bouts in the Coliseum tomorrow.

Mancini, recent conqueror of Sixto Escobar, bantamweight champion, and Roth, who holds a decision over Davey Day, Chicago 135 pound leader, meet Frankie [Kid] Covelli of Brooklyn and Billy Marquart of Winnipeg, Man., respectively. Each bout is set for 10 rounds.

Down to Weight.

Joey Burman, former bantamweight champion, watched Mancini spar three rounds with Joe Law. Close by, Roth, who did not box, pounded the sand bag.

The stablemates will wind up drills this afternoon with light exercises. Trainer Izzy Kline said Roth weighed 137, the weight for his meeting with Marquart. Mancini scaled 125.

Johnny Barbara, former Chicago Golden Gloves welterweight finalist, once again confined himself to floor work for his eight round engagement with Harold Brown. Barbara has done little boxing because of a cut under his eye, suffered in his victory against Jackie Burke in White City Dec. 8. The old wound is hardly noticeable, but Johnny doesn't want to take any chances of losing an opportunity to avenge a previous setback at the hands of Brown.

Expect Crowd of 5,000.

Matchmaker James C. Mullen yesterday posted purses guaranteed the various fighters with the Illinois boxing commission. Certified checks totaling $5,075 were filed.

Mullen said the advance sale has reached $3,500, indicating a crowd of 5,000 will contribute in excess of $8,000.

HARDWICK GETS HIS WISH; HE'S ORDERED TO SEA

His transfer was announced by the navy department—"Lieut. Harry J. Hardwick, detached naval academy, to Asiatic squadron."

The assignment, naval officials explained later, means that the former football coach will report to the commander of the fleet at Shanghai. His definite duties will be assigned then by the fleet commander.

His desires were considered by naval academy officials in retiring him from the football coaching post and naming as his successor Capt. Emery E. [Lucky] Larson, first marine officer ever to coach a navy squad.

HERE'S A SPECIAL SHAVE CREAM

It's Not a SOAP... Not Greasy Needs No Brush... No Irritating Alkalies... Leaves Your Skin Soft and Smooth

Daily shaving leaves many men's faces raw and sensitive. This is especially true of the man who, because of his business and social status, must shave every day.

To meet this condition, Williams has now developed a special cream for daily shavers. It's called Glider. After washing face thoroughly with soap and warm water to remove razor-dulling grit, you spread on Glider quickly and easily with your fingers. No brush. No lather. Not sticky or greasy.

A superabundance of moisture is contained in this rich, smooth cream. It softens each whisker right down to the skin, yet forms a protective layer over your face to keep blade from scraping. Swiftly and gently your razor glides over your skin without tearing or irritating. Like a cold cream, Glider smooths and softens your skin. It actually relieves soreness and helps prevent chapping and roughness. Glider is the result of nearly 100 years' experience in making fine shaving preparations.

Try Glider at Our Expense: Send your name and address on a penny post card for a generous FREE tube of Glider 'No-Brush' Cream. The J. B. Williams Co., Dept. CT-18, Glastonbury, Conn.

111 WINNERS ARE SHOWN IN SILVER SKATES HISTORY

Races Date Back to 1917 with Only One Break.

1938 Champions

Boys' midget—Walter Rust, Elgin, S. C.

Boys' juvenile—Bob Lundgott, Northwest S. C.

Boys' junior—John Andruch, Tilden Tech.

Boys' intermediate—Robert Horn, Northwest S. C.

Men's senior—Bob Heckenbach, Northwest S. C.

Girls' junior—Shirley Burnett, Northwest S. C.

Girls' intermediate—Veronica Leonard, C. Y. O.

Girls' senior—Helen Swierkos, Olympic S. C.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Since 1917, when the first Derby was held, 111 boys and girls have won silver skates, the prize for excellence in speed skating which now is as well known in this country as the story of Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates is known throughout the world.

In 1917 only one race was held. Art Staff was the winner. The following year Sigurd Larsen won a pair of silver skates, and then in 1919, the race having attracted an unwieldy entry list, it was decided to divide the competition according to ages to give the younger boys an opportunity to win. Thus the boys' junior class was established and Julien Steinmetz was the first winner in the division.

Event Is Expanded.

The Derbies were expanded rapidly. First the girls declared they should be allowed to compete and the first senior Derby for girls was won by Rose Johnson in 1921. Evelyn Cox won the first girls' junior Derby in 1922 and the following year a third class for boys was established, the intermediate division, which was placed between the senior and junior classes for boys.

In 1925 the boys' juvenile Derby, fourth in the group of races for boys, was won by Dick McCarter. Carl Fried was the first winner in 1931 of the Derby for boys under 12 years of age. Two years ago the third age class for girls, the intermediate for those 16 and 17 years of age, was inserted into the schedule to give the younger girls a better chance.

Only One Break.

The races have been held continuously since 1917 except in 1932, when lack of ice handicapped skating throughout the region. The park lagoons never froze to a skating depth. Conditions for the first half of the 1933 season were nearly as bad, but by flooding the La Follette park playground the Derbies were started.

A sudden cold wave then dropped the temperature to 19 degrees below zero on the second night of the races—an all time record for Silver Skates—but such hardy champions as Don Wittkamp, Leo Freisinger, and Bernie Cannata went spinning between the snow banks to victory.

Eddie Stundl and Al Kucera skated a dead heat in 1934 to share the men's senior championship. That is the only tie in the history of Silver Skates and accounts for the twenty-two senior champions, although the Derbies, which will be held Jan. 14 and 15 in Garfield park, are the twenty-second races.

Prizes Are Offered.

Sterling silver skates are the prizes for the champions in the girls' senior and men's senior Derbies. The other eight champions receive plated silver skates. All finishing second in the eight final races receive chromium plated skates; those finishing third, bronze skates. Fourth and fifth finishers in each Derby are awarded silver and bronze medals, respectively.

More important is the award of a gold qualifying medal to each boy and girl winning a preliminary race and the presentation of a souvenir bronze button to each contestant reporting for his preliminary race. Because of these many prizes the Derbies annually attract more than 4,000 boys and girls.

Entries for the twenty-second annual Derbies will close at midnight Jan. 7.

Catholic Grade Quintets Play Semi-Finals Tonight

Semi-final games of the second annual basketball tournament for Catholic grade schools will be played tonight in the Mount Carmel High school gymnasium. St. Gabriel will meet St. Philip Neri in the first game and St. Brendan will oppose St. Thomas Apostle in the second. St. Philip Neri showed power yesterday in running up a 57 to 10 victory over St. Anne. Seventeen schools were represented in the tournament.

COLLEGE SQUASH.

Getting Ready for Some Graceful Glides

Sonja Henie ties on her skates in preparation for an appearance before another capacity house in the Stadium, where she is starring in the Hollywood Ice review. The show opened Christmas night and will continue through Saturday night.

FOXX CAPTURES LEAGUE BATTING TITLE WITH .349

Boston Star Proves They Do Come Back.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

As indicated by the unofficial averages, as well as the fact that the circuit club owners had already voted him the customary $500 award for his feat, Jimmy Foxx topped the American league hitters, according to the 1938 averages published yesterday.

Foxx, who made a slow start, thereby creating a belief he might be on his way down hill, turned in a final mark of .349 and, although shaded slightly by Taft Wright of Washington, was accorded the $500 because of having figured in a total of 149 games.

It was the seventh straight year in which American league infielders have captured the crown over the efforts of outfielders, who according to baseball theory, are supposed to carry the heavy portion of a team's attack.

Other First Basemen Star.

Foxx wasn't the only first baseman to figure prominently in the final reckoning of the season's activities on the field. He was given serious competition both by Hank Greenberg of the Tigers and Hal Trosky of the Indians. The latter's bid was a .334 average but only nineteen homers. Greenberg's final percentage was a slim .315 but he did hit fifty-eight homers, eight more than Foxx, and only two shy of the record hung up by Babe Ruth in 1927.

Greenberg, however, managed to equal another record. His fifty-eight tied the total hit by Foxx in 1932, a mark which stands as the highest ever made by a righthand batter.

The Greenberg and Foxx home run habits apparently gathered victims throughout the circuit. The league's total of homers for 1938 was 864, whereas the 1937 harvest of round trip taps was 806.

Lou Wasn't Overpaid.

Although slowed down considerably from the pace he maintained in the past, Lou Gehrig, the Yankee first baseman, did enough to earn his 1938 wage. Gehrig batted only .295 but hit twenty-nine homers while running his consecutive game string to 2,122. Gehrig now has 494 major league home runs to his credit, a life time total exceeded only by Ruth. Gehrig also hit one homer with the bases filled during 1938, boosting his own major league record to twenty-three.

Another venerable gentleman who seemingly felt the pinch of time was Charley Gehringer, the Tigers' second baseman. Gehringer set the pace for the league by swinging a .371 tune in 1937 but last season finished down among the common folks with a mere .306.

Vander Meer Baseball's Top Player of 1938

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 27.—(AP)—From the business office, bench, and field, Warren C. Giles, Joe McCarthy, and Johnny Vander Meer of the major leagues stood today with Lou McKenna, Paul Richards, and Fred Hutchinson of the minors as baseball's No. 1 men of the year.

Giles and McKenna, executives; McCarthy and Richards, managers, and Vander Meer and Hutchinson, players, won their accolades from the Sporting News, baseball newspaper, for their work in 1938.

Giles' Work Recognized.

McCarthy's selection, of course, was for his record in leading the New York Yankees to their third straight world championship, and Vander Meer's for his feat in pitching two consecutive no hit, no run games for the Cincinnati Reds.

Giles, vice president and general manager of the Reds, won designation as top executive for developing the Cincinnati farm system, assembling many of the team's players, and helping club morale by his amicable salary negotiations. He also ably handled the all-star National-American league game.

Corresponding minor league honors went to McKenna, secretary and business manager of St. Paul of the American association, who was credited with the team's rise from seventh place in 1937 to the pennant in 1938. St. Paul had the highest attendance record in its history this last season.

Richards Leads Crackers to Title.

Richards won recognition among minor league managers for his record with Atlanta, which won the Southern association championship, both playoffs, and the Dixie series.

Hutchinson, Seattle Pacific Coast league pitcher recently purchased by the Detroit Tigers, was named the outstanding performer in the minors. He won 25 games and lost 7.

FOREIGN TRADE OF U. S. LOWER FOR NOVEMBER

Imports, Exports Below Month and Year Ago.

The department of commerce yesterday reported a slump in the foreign trade of the United States in November.

November exports, including reexports, totaled $252,231,000. This compared with $277,919,000 for last October and $314,697,000 in November, 1937. November imports amounted to $176,181,000, against $177,979,000 in October, and $223,090,000 in November last year.

Main Export Gains.

Gains were reported in the exports of a number of staples which are in demand by countries that are rearming. Automobiles, steel scrap, and raw cotton were exported in larger volume last month.

Among the principal imports, increases were reported in raw silk, coffee, whisky, and wood pulp.

Exports in the first eleven months of 1938 totaled $2,852,454,000, against $3,025,764,000 in the corresponding 1937 period. Imports for the period were $1,789,045,000, against $2,874,835,000 in the same period last year.

Sales of Grain Increase.

The department said one of the noteworthy developments of the year in foreign trade was the big increase in export sales of grain. Grain was shipped abroad, chiefly to Great Britain and northwestern Europe, in the largest volume since the 1920s.

The report disclosed that exports of aircraft, including parts, totaled $4,156,000 in November, against $5,215,000 in November, 1937. A gain was shown in aircraft exports for the eleven months period, the total amounting to $62,512,000, against $35,498,000 in the 1937 period.

NAME 8 CHICAGO ICE SKATERS FOR OLYMPIC TRIALS

Eight Chicago speed ice skaters yesterday were named to go to the Olympic speed skating trials on Jan. 18-26, in Oconomowoc, Wis. The eight were picked without competing in the Illinois sectional trials on the strength of their records in major competition. They are:

Six additional senior men's class A skaters will race for the right to accompany the eight named, in the Illinois sectional Olympic trials on Jan. 3 in Humboldt park.

The special Olympic committee which named the eight contestants is composed of Julian T. Fitzgerald, chairman; Sid Novak, Herbert Knudten, Earl W. Solem, Pete Miller, Frank Kalteaux, Carmen Tortorello, Rudolph Notz, Jack Elder, Edward Planert Sr., Gustave Schmidt, and Philip Pritikin.

Defending Champion Wins in Junior Girls' Tennis

Brookline, Mass., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The defending champion, Helen Bernhard of New York, won her opening match today in the junior girls' national indoor tennis tournament at the Longwood covered courts by defeating Polly Kimball of Winchester, 6-1, 6-3. Miss Bernhard drew a first round bye and met Miss Kimball in the only second round match played today. The No. 4 player, Dorothy Wightman of Brookline, scored a straight set victory over Priscilla Tapley of Winchester, 6-3, 6-1.

the final game of the evening, turned up with a good looking tournament type of team, rugged though not tall, long on defense, and accurate in shooting. Wells led, 9 to 1, at the first quarter, 18 to 5 at the half, and 23 to 8 at the third quarter.

Ducks Refuse to Fly South; May Be Sent by Train

BY BOB BECKER.

The first wild duck migration by railroad may start southward from Canada shortly in a move to save from extermination more than 10,000 of the wildfowl marooned in Alberta by the mysterious loss of their migratory instinct. Ducks Unlimited, national conservation organization, is behind the plan. The story of this flock is one of the most amazing episodes in 1938 bird records and has many a duck hunter puzzled.

The wild waterfowl, mostly mallards and pintails, apparently became befuddled when unseasonably high temperatures prevailed for weeks in the Edmonton and Calgary sections of the province. Fooled by the prolonged spring-like conditions, the ducks settled on Chip and Buffalo lakes and Blind Man river, Alberta, instead of flying southward to their usual winter resorts in southern states.

"How to save these ducks from death from the severe cold, starvation and thirst is a problem," reports Thomas C. Main, general manager of Ducks Unlimited [Canada], which is carrying on a comprehensive conservation program in the great Canadian duck breeding areas with funds contributed by thousands of American duck hunters.

"We are trying to decide whether to feed them here or to ship them south. Prices are being obtained for transportation by rail to San Francisco, Seattle or Vancouver for comparison with costs of feeding them all winter. The trouble with keeping them here," Main says, "is not so much the cost of feed as the difficulty of supplying them with water during the 30 degree below zero temperatures due soon."

Investors' Guide

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Sleeping Palaces.

Investors' Guide: What ever happened to the Wagner Sleeping company and what is its relation to the Pullman company?—M. P.

Answer: We have no record of a Wagner Sleeping company, but are inclined to think that you refer to the Wagner Palace Car company. This concern, an operator of railroad sleeping cars, was taken over thirty-nine years ago by Pullman's Palace Car company, whose name was changed to the [now familiar] Pullman company at the turn of the century—on Dec. 30, 1899.

Farmer's Taxes.

Investors' Guide: I own a farm which I lease to a tenant. On the land are a farm house, barn, and fences. How much depreciation am I allowed to deduct from my income in figuring my income tax? I have not been able to get any specific figures on this subject.—F. V. K.

Answer: The revenue law sets no specific rate of depreciation, because the allowance is bound to vary in practically every case. The working rule under the law is that depreciation is to be taken on the basis of the life expectancy of the property. If your barn cost $2,000 new and will probably be valueless in twenty years, you should take 1-20 or 5 per cent depreciation each year. This is merely an example—it may be different in your actual case.

Connected?

Investors' Guide: Does American Telephone and Telegraph own the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation? Is there an interlocking of stock holdings between the two?—M. H.

Answer: No.

High-Low.

Investors' Guide: How does the present market price of RCA stock—at around $7.50 a share—compare with its high and low in the last ten years?—P. R.

Answer: RCA common is now selling at about 1-15 of the high of $114.75 a share reached in 1929, and at three times the low of $2.50 touched in the depths of 1932.

Often in Blank.

Investors' Guide: When a stock certificate is sent to a broker, how should it be made out? It seems that the assignment portion is usually left blank for the broker to fill in, but isn't this dangerous?—J. C.

Answer: Strictly speaking, the assignment should be made out fully and witnessed before you send the certificate to your broker. In practice, however, the holder usually leaves it blank.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 27. — [Special.] — Year-end selling for tax purposes and adjustment of accounts depressed stock market prices today. Losses ranged from fractions to around 2 points.

Brisk trading developed shortly after the opening, but when no satisfactory progress was made the list turned lower. Offerings increased in the last hour, when the day's lowest quotations were registered.

The list was broad, 900 issues appearing on the tape. Of these, 529 declined, 187 advanced, and 184 closed unchanged.

Railroad shares failed to live up to the promise of last Saturday. Many issues in the group were firm for a while, but they eased later. Although there was considerable interest in the rails, most of them closed fractionally lower. Santa Fe and Illinois Central dropped 1⅝ and 1 point, respectively.

United States Steel and Chrysler were weak spots in the steel and motor groups. Each lost 1⅛ points. Fractional declines were the rule for other leading steels and motors. Greyhound and General Motors were active on the downside.

Aviation issues returned to favor for a time, but buying interest dwindled, despite reports of President Roosevelt's rearmament plans. Curtiss-Wright and Bendix Aviation pursued an actively higher course, however.

In the oils, Texas corporation lost 1 point, while Socony-Vacuum and Standard Oil gave up fractions. Most coppers were fractionally lower. Kennecott lost 1 point.

Power and light shares were fairly steady in early trading, but receded in the afternoon.

New York Bonds.

New York, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Highest grade bonds touched the year's high today in the Associated Press price averages, but medium and lower rated groups eased on year-end tax selling.

Rails were hit hardest in the declining group, many scoring losses of a point or more. Among these were Delaware and Hudson refunding 4s, Illinois Central 4¾s, M-K-T 5s of '62, Nickel Plate 5½s of '74 series "A," Southern Pacific 4½s of '68, and Southern Railway 4s at 58⅛.

The foreign dollar division generally shared the decline. United States government obligations were irregular, with some of the most active maturities showing declines of 4/32 to 6/32.

Volume was $10,883,550, compared with Friday's total of $10,485,400.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks moved unevenly yesterday in slightly heavier trading. A total of 43,000 shares changed hands. THE TRIBUNE averages of 20 stocks finished at 10.80, off 0.07 from Saturday.

Jarvis corporation gained ⅛ point, closing at 24⅞; Katz Drug was up an equal fraction to 3⅛, and Northwest Bancorporation rose ⅛ point to 6¾. Bendix Aviation touched a new 1938 high of 27⅝ on a gain of 1 point. Butler Brothers also gained 1 point, closing at 8.

Middle West closed ½ point lower at 6⅛. Chicago corporation declined ⅛ point to 1⅝, and Central and South West Utilities closed ⅛ point lower at 1⅜. General Motors was off ⅝ point at 49¼. Commonwealth Edison finished unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Slight advances were made by most of the leading Chicago bank stocks in thin trading yesterday, dealers reported. Shares of the American National bank receded $2, however. Closing gains of $1 to $5 were made by stocks of the Chicago Title and Trust company, the First National bank, the Harris Trust and Savings bank and the Northern Trust company.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 27.—(AP)—FLOUR—Carload lots, per barrel in 98 pound cotton sacks: Family patents unchanged, $5.20@5.40; standard patents unchanged, $4.05+4.25. Shipments, 13,737 brls. Bran, $17.00@17.50 per ton.

Commodities

Commodity futures prices were irregular yesterday in quiet trading. Rubber, wool tops and tin scored moderate gains. Coffee, cocoa and copper lost ground slightly. Sugar and hides were irregular.

At Chicago, hide futures were uneven. Closing quotations were 0.15 cent a pound higher to 0.05 cent lower. New York hides were irregularly 0.06 cent lower to 0.04 cent higher than last Friday.

U. S. APPROVES UTILITY SALE IN NEBRASKA DEAL

Value of 16 Million Set on Property.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The federal power commission today approved sale of certain interstate electrical properties of the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company to two Nebraska public power districts.

Guy C. Myers, slated for $504,000 commission.

The commission said it accepted jurisdiction only over properties used in interstate service. It also made clear that it was not passing on plans of the districts to issue $26,500,000 in revenue bonds with which to purchase most of Iowa-Nebraska's electrical properties in Nebraska for $20,195,991, plus accounts receivable. Iowa-Nebraska is the second largest utility company in Nebraska.

The commission issued its order after a two day hearing on the application of Iowa-Nebraska for authority to sell the properties to the Loup river public power district and the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation district.

Loup Share Is $2,825,879.

Under the plan the Loup river district would acquire the company's Nebraska electrical properties north of the Platte river for $2,825,879 and the Central Nebraska district would pay $17,370,112 for the company's electrical properties in Nebraska south of the Platte river.

Included also would be the company's heating plants and ice plants in Nebraska, with the exception of the ice plant at Plattsmouth.

The commission set the original cost of the electrical properties at $16,047,366, the heating properties at $229,692 and the ice plants at $118,390 making a total of $16,395,447. This compared with the company's original cost figures of $19,812,756 for electrical, $313,606 for heating and $152,812 for ice properties, a total of $20,279,174.

Commissions to Be $504,899.

After remarking that the bonds would be sold at 95 and that the district's fiscal agent would receive commissions totaling $504,899 from the districts, the order said the application "does not involve exercise of the jurisdiction of this commission with respect to the financing or the issuance of the securities described herein."

Guy C. Myers of New York is fiscal agent for the districts. Bancamerica-Blair corporation of New York had announced it headed the bond syndicate.

"The proposed sale of facilities by applicant will avoid the duplication of electric facilities and destructive competition in the territory of Nebraska now served by applicant."

The authorization will expire unless acted upon within sixty days. Power companies in Nebraska were willing to sell to the districts, except the state's largest electric utility, the Nebraska Power Company of Omaha.

Asks Abolition of Bethlehem Employe Plan

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations board recommended today that the Bethlehem Steel company abolish its twenty year old employé representation plan. He asserted the plan violated the Wagner labor act.

The recommendation was embodied in an intermediate report to the board by Examiner Frank Bloom, who conducted a ten months' inquiry into Bethlehem's labor policies on a complaint filed by the steel workers' organizing committee (C. I. O.).

Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and its subsidiary, Bethlehem Steel company, was credited with instituting the plan in 1918 as a by-product of world war conditions. Grace said it was a means of giving workers a voice in shaping policies concerning conditions of employment.

Charges Unfair Practices.

Bloom ruled that the steel company had engaged in unfair labor practices by "dominating and interfering" with the formation and administration of the plan in Bethlehem's nine plants, and by supplying financial and other support for its maintenance. Thus, he said, employés were denied their right, under the Wagner act, to choose their own representatives freely.

Bloom's findings and recommendations proposed that the company post notices stating that it had withdrawn recognition of the plan. If the company fails to carry out Bloom's recommendations within ten days he suggested that the board issue a formal order requiring compliance.

Bloom's report covered the operations of the plan and the C. I. O. steel strike at Johnstown, Pa., in June, 1937.

Prefer Own Labor Plans.

"The respondents [Bethlehem] expressed in many ways their dislike of outside unions and their preference for the plans which they themselves had originated and installed in the various plants of the company," Bloom said.

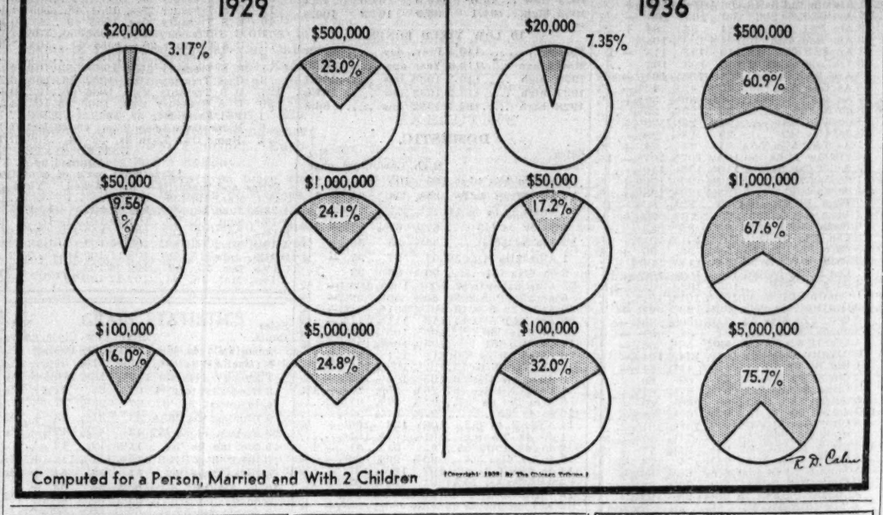

Bloom's report said evidence at the hearing indicated that the company made use of the plan "to prevent organizational growth of other unions in their plants."

During the hearing, Bloom's report showed, the company denied that it was engaged in any unfair labor practices and said it had discontinued financial support of the representation plan after the Supreme court sustained the validity of the Wagner act in 1937.

SWISS, DUTCH LEND FRANCE 95 MILLION TO RETIRE RAIL DEBT

PARIS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Finance Minister Paul Reynaud announced tonight that the French government had obtained a loan of $95,130,000 from Dutch and Swiss banks. The loan will be used to pay off virtually the entire French railroad debt abroad.

"This operation," he said, "is without precedent in the financial history of France."

France's long term railroad debt abroad, which amounted to about $92,050,000 with interest rates ranging as high as 6½ per cent, will be converted to a new 30 year loan at 4 per cent, Reynaud said. The government will save about $2,104,000 in 1939 through the lower interest rates.

In a radio address to the nation Reynaud said France is emerging from seven years of financial crisis.

More Carriers Boost Revenue for November

Railroads reporting yesterday on net operating incomes for November continued to reflect the improvement in business which developed during the autumn. Most of the roads reporting had sizable increases in their net operating incomes as compared with November, 1937. Net operating income is income before payment of interest on bonds and other fixed charges.

The Baltimore and Ohio's November net operating income was $1,674,985 compared with $898,327 in November, 1937. Gross operating revenues for the month totaled $12,131,521, against $11,748,715 in the 1937 month.

Freight Revenues Rise.

The road's freight revenues showed a $573,562 increase. Passenger revenues on the other hand declined $110,520.

The Milwaukee road's net operating income for November was $896,327, against $601,283 in November, 1937—an increase of $295,044. The road's gross revenues for the month totaled $8,854,632, an increase of only $157,568 over November, 1937.

November net operating income of the North Western was $494,533, against $166,663 in November, 1937—an increase of $327,890. This road's gross revenues for the month were $7,093,367, about the same as the gross for November, 1937.

NAME BROUGHTON HEAD OF CHICAGO HOME LOAN BANK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Charles E. Broughton of Sheboygan, Wis., has been appointed chairman of the Federal Home Loan bank in the Chicago district by the Federal Home Loan bank board. He now is a public interest director.

C. E. Broughton.

Broughton was included among the chairmen and vice chairmen designated by the board for the twelve Federal Home Loan banks. Most of the officers were reappointed for terms beginning Jan. 1 and continuing through 1939, or until their successors are designated.

Henry G. Zander Jr. of Chicago, was appointed vice chairman. He also was designated a public interest director to fill the unexpired portion of the four year term ending Dec. 31, 1940. He became public interest director as of Dec. 14. He succeeds to a place on the directorate held by his father, the late Henry G. Zander, who formerly was chairman.

DEMAND SENATE REASSERT TRADE TREATY POWERS

Democrats, G. O. P. Join in Move.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—A bipartisan movement against making any new reciprocal trade agreements without senate ratification appeared to be getting under way on Capitol hill tonight.

From several sources—Democratic and Republican alike—came sharp criticism of the act which gives the President authority to lower tarifs in return for concessions from other countries.

Senator Borah [R., Idaho] advocated outright repeal of the act as the most direct and "orderly means of restoring to the senate the ratification powers it voted away in 1934."

Senator King Among Critics.

Senator King [D., Utah] said he would like to see the senate regain its right to approve or disapprove treaties. He added that he did not favor tampering with treaties already negotiated because he did not want the country to become involved in a breach of faith.

Senator McCarran [D., Nev.] expressed dissatisfaction with the way the pacts were working out. He said mining interests in his state had been hurt by the recently concluded treaty with the United Kingdom.

Some other western Democrats also spoke critically of some features of the trade program. There is growing pressure from certain groups, such as the National Wool Growers association, the American Mining congress and the American Live Stock association, all of which have expressed concern over possible new concessions in other treaties.

Concerned About Australia.

The wool growers association has expressed particular apprehension over the possibilities of a treaty with Australia, a sheep raising country.

The state department issued a statement to quiet the fears expressed in some zinc producing centers that unemployment would result from the 20 per cent reduction in the tarif on Canadian zinc ore and metal.

The department said the reduction still left "substantial protection" for domestic producers. It added: "The industry may look for some direct gain from the trade agreements program through improved access to foreign markets for products containing zinc."

Utility Director

MRS. KENNETH B. NORTON.

New York, Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Mrs. Kenneth B. Norton, prominent club woman, has the distinction of being the first woman in this country to serve on the directorate of a major utility.

Announcement was made today by the Consolidated Edison company of New York, Inc., that Mrs. Norton and Neal Dow Becker, president of the Intertype corporation, have been elected trustees. They succeed to the posts left vacant by the resignations of Lewis Gawtry, president of the Bank for Savings, and Louis M. Greer.

Mrs. Norton had served on the board of directors of the Westchester Lighting company, which is part of the Consolidated Edison system, for the last year and a half.

INSULL WILL JOIN SALES FORCE OF INSURANCE FIRM

Samuel Insull Jr. said yesterday he will join the sales organization of W. A. Alexander & Co., effective Jan. 3. The firm is one of the largest insurance agencies in the city.

Insull's resignation as assistant to the chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company was announced earlier. He had held the position since the retirement of his father as chairman of the company in 1932.

CHARGE CARGILL WITH VIOLATING GRAIN TRADE ACT

Wallace Takes Over Chicago Case.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—Cargill, Inc., large Minneapolis grain house, and its subsidiary, Cargill Grain Company of Illinois, again brushed with the department of agriculture today. Secretary Wallace charged the grain companies and four of their officers with violation of the commodity exchange act.

If found guilty the defendants face denial of all trading privileges on all commodity exchanges in the United States. The officers named are J. H. MacMillan Jr., E. J. Grimes, Julius Hendel, and Philip C. Sayles.

The charges concerned alleged manipulation of September, 1937, and December, 1937, Chicago corn futures and fictitious, or "wash," sales, of corn futures on the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce toward the end of March, 1938.

Supercedes Early Charges.

Officials of the department said that this action supercedes the investigation of the secretary into charges on the Chicago futures trading previously made by the Chicago Board of Trade against Cargill in Illinois. The board suspended and later expelled the grain concern. Later the agriculture department took over the investigation when it was found to come under its jurisdiction.

Also pending before the Commodity Exchange administration is the counter charge of Cargill, Inc., accusing the Board of Trade with violation of the commodity exchange act by price manipulation in ordering Cargill to liquidate part of its holdings in September, 1937, corn. The Cargill company was expelled by the Chicago Board of Trade last March.

Hold Hearings Next Month.

Concerning the new complaint, which was signed by Wallace on Dec. 22, but not disclosed until today, the secretary said he will appoint a referee to hear the charges at hearings beginning Jan. 10 in Washington.

"The respondents will be required to show cause why an order should not be made directing that all contract markets until further notice of the secretary of agriculture refuse all trading privileges and suspending or revoking the registrations as fu-

Everyday Economics

Trucking Industry—4.

The federal motor carrier act of 1935 supplemented and extended the restrictions set up by various states.

This bill provided a system under which the interstate commerce commission may effect an apportionment of trafic to the three transportation agencies—rails, trucks, and waterways—in so far as interstate movements for hire are concerned. The commission must grant permits to operate. These are not granted unless public need or benefit is proved. The proposed operation must not impair existing transport agencies. All truckers in interstate commerce are also required to publish their rates, for which the commission has established minimums.

The act also prescribes control of hours of work for drivers in interstate operations. This is partially offset, however, because many states have no laws governing the number of hours a driver may remain at the wheel in intrastate runs.

Additional laws are being considered to curb admitted evils in the industry. A new law in South Carolina, for instance, permits a gross weight of 40,000 pounds but requires all trucks to slow to twenty miles an hour when meeting other vehicles. A clause in the same law calls for a speed of twenty miles an hour on a 5 per cent ascending grade.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Caring for the Lilacs.

Dec. 27, 1938.

THE lilac plantation at the Du Page county farm is being put in shape to contribute its share of blossoms to be gathered in the Chicago area for free distribution to hospitals next May. This is pruning and mulching time at the farm. Pruning is started on the suckers and dead wood.

"Suckers of the lilac bush are parasites," said John Wallner, the farm's head gardener, today as he started clipping out this new growth that springs up around the base of the plants. "If the suckers are not removed they weaken the bush, cause poor top growth, and virtually stop the formation of blossoms. Pruning improves both the foliage and blossoms."

Regular Pruning Needed.

Wallner finds that the tendency for suckers to form is worse on mature bushes than on young lilacs. Most of the lilacs at the farm have reached the mature stage, making it necessary to prune regularly to get rid of the suckers which develop every year. Lilacs live to be quite old and if properly cared for will produce fragrant blossoms and rich green foliage throughout their life.

Experience at the farm indicates that lilacs may be safely pruned at any time during the dormant season—after the leaves drop off in the fall and before growth starts in the spring. Less pruning of the tops is necessary where all or most of the blossoms are cut off the bushes while they still are fresh, as is done generally in this region every spring.

In pruning, the gardeners cut out all the suckers, the dead wood, and last season's flowering twigs that are not removed during the regular spring cutting season. Cutting out the old flowering twigs is especially important and necessary on old bushes. After the bush has been given a preliminary pruning, it should be carefully examined again to see that all wood injured by borers or infested with scaly insects which appear on the bark is cut out.

How to Control Pests.

Lime sulphur spray material is used to control scale infestation in the farm's lilac plantation. Carbon disulphide poured in the holes made by borers will keep these pests under control. The holes are sealed with grafting wax or mud. Borers do their work in May and June.

Immediately after the bushes have been pruned, the gardeners mulch the ground with decayed litter from the stable. This increases the size of the blossoms the first year and adds flowering buds which will blossom the second year. Complete fertilizer may be used where litter is not available.

Wallner says that new plantations of lilacs may be started from suckers. The suckers are cut into pieces eight to ten inches long and stored through the winter in sand in a cool place. In the spring the cuttings are set in a sandy bed where they are kept for one or two years. Then they are taken out of the bed and set out in rows five to six feet apart where they can be cultivated. Later individual specimens are taken from the rows and set in a permanent plantation, where they are not shaded. Lilacs at the farm are grown out in the open where they get the full benefit of sunlight.

COTTON

Liquidation of January contracts featured trading in cotton futures yesterday on American exchanges. Closing trades were at losses of .02 to .07 cent a pound. Foreign markets with the exception of Alexandria, Egypt were closed. The latter showed an easy undertone.

Spot cotton closed .03 to .05 cent lower with New York 8.78 cents; New Orleans 8.55 cents; Houston, 8.40 cents, and Galveston at 8.33 cents a pound. Prices follow:

A Financial Section with a Special Appeal

THE special appeal of the Annual Financial and Business Review of The New York Times to be published as a part of The Times next Tuesday, January 3, is acknowledged both by readers and advertisers who value it for its completeness and interest. Advertisers find it particularly effective for their institutional and other announcements because of the unusual attention and confidence The Times invariably commands among thoughtful, progressive readers throughout the city and nation.

It is not too late for corporation and financial advertisers to arrange for space in the Annual Financial and Business Review of The New York Times.

CHARGE CARGILL WITH VIOLATING GRAIN TRADE ACT

Sec. Wallace Takes Over Chicago Controversy.

Wallace added that he had hoped the present proceedings before the commodity exchange commission—the secretary of agriculture, the secretary of commerce, and the attorney general—could be disposed of before citing Cargill to a hearing, but that the matter was too important to delay it further.

Suspects Fictitious Trades.

Aside from the 1937 September and December Chicago corn situation, the secretary's citation alleges that Cargill's operations in the Minneapolis corn market gave reason to believe that the company engaged in fictitious sales of corn futures on the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce to give a false impression of activity, thereby encouraging public participation in the market.

The CEA had instituted its investigation of Cargill on the Chicago Board of Trade charges before the close of trading in the 1937 September corn future. The board charged that the company and its subsidiary had been guilty of manipulating the price by means of a corner in the future, at the same time depressing the price of the December, 1937, corn future through speculative short sales.

Cargill Makes Countercharges.

Before this investigation was completed, Cargill, Inc., on Feb. 10, 1938, started proceedings before the Commodity Exchange commission on its countercharges against the Board of Trade. Hearings on the two actions were conducted separately.

The hearing on the complaint by Cargill was repeatedly postponed. It finally began on Nov. 22 before a referee appointed by the commission. J. H. MacMillan Jr., president of Cargill, Inc., began his testimony on Dec. 1 and continued on direct examination until Dec. 16, when the hearing was adjourned to Jan. 4. It is expected his examination will continue at that time.

In Minneapolis this afternoon officials of Cargill, Inc., declined to comment on Wallace's action against them, asserting they knew nothing of the charges as yet.

TEMPLETON IS GRATIFIED.

Kenneth S. Templeton, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, said yesterday that the exchange is "gratified" with the action of the secretary of agriculture against Cargill, Inc. The exchange, he recalled, expelled from membership the Cargill company and its officers for alleged price manipulation.

"We are gratified," he added, "that the secretary has taken action after a full and complete investigation."

WHEAT HIGHER; DAMAGE FEARED FROM COLD WAVE

A severe cold wave over the winter wheat belt which caught the crop without snow protection resulted in higher wheat prices yesterday. Commission houses were persistent buyers and at one time prices were up 1 cent a bushel from Saturday's finish. May wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade sold at 68⅜ cents, the highest prices for that delivery since Oct. 24.

The upturn in wheat was helped along by reports of dust storms in parts of Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma, and uneasiness over the European political situation. Closing trades on the Chicago exchange on futures were ½ to ⅝ cent higher. The Kansas City market led the advance and gained ⅞ cent a bushel. European markets had a holiday.

Below zero temperatures were reported yesterday in parts of Kansas. Traders are apprehensive that the wheat crop may be damaged. The condition of the plant is subnormal for this season of year, it is officially reported.

LOST AND FOUND.

TO FINDERS.
If you have found a cat or dog, a pocketbook, jewelry, or fur, and cannot locate the owner through the "Lost and Found" advertisement in The Tribune, call and go through the "Lost and Found" index at the PUBLIC SERVICE OFFICE, 1 S. DEARBORN-STREET.

TO LOSERS.
If you are listed in the telephone directory you can charge an advertisment of your lost article by telephoning Miss Miller of the Tribune ad taking department, Superior 0100. Your advertisment receives the benefit of free listing in the Tribune Public Service office mentioned above for a period of two months. This service facilitates the recovery of lost articles advertised.

Local Loan Gives You the Service You Want

Most of our loans are to employed men and women on their signatures only. LOCAL LOAN originated and perfected this service because the great body of employed people —young and old and regardless of occupation —are entitled to a simplified loan method.

Our aim is to offer you whatever plan will enable you to borrow most easily. LOCAL LOAN makes liberal Furniture and Auto Loans, but if you are steadily employed we prefer to make you a loan on your signature only. You may borrow

SALARY LOANS
On Your Signature Only
WITHOUT CO-MAKERS OR ENDORSERS.

You may make your own repayment terms (repaying any time within 20 months) and you are charged only for the actual time you have the money. Service does not stop when the loan is made. If an extension is necessary just speak to the cashier or manager and your request will be promptly handled

We cannot tell you all about our service in our advertisement. Just phone one of the following offices. Your loan request can be taken over the telephone so you can obtain the money more quickly when you call in person.
